HORSES Awards at Exhibition

SPORTS Program For Today

JUDGING HORSES AT THE EXHIBITION

Keen Competition in Drivers, Pairs, Tandems, Cobs and Other Classes.

Good progress was made yesterday judging the horses at the Exhibition:

In the classes shown in front of the grand stand, several numbers were worthy of much praise. Class 1913, for runabout gelding or mare not over 15.2, to be shown in suitable wagon; conformation, style, all-round action, pace and good manners to count. The competition was very keen in this particular class, between Crow & Murray's Iron Duke, a nice bay gelding with exceptionally good conformation, superb action and manners that were perfect; Bates and Jones' entry was a nicely turned ch. mare (So Am I). The competition was between these two for the coveted red ribbon, the former getting the decision. Crow & Murray also got third with Victoria (b.m.), and Bates and Jones fourth with (ch.m.) Going Some. The field was large and they were a good lot. First and second were keenly contested and considerable time was taken up before the award was made. An accident occurred during the showing of this class, in which M. R. H. Scott of Bathurst street was showing Golden Prince. The horse took fright and ran away, Mr. Scott heading him for the fence at the west end of the track. The horse went right at the fence, throwing Mr. Scott and getting himself free from the rig. The latter was badly smashed. Mr. Scott was stunned, but not seriously hurt.

Class 253, single cob over 14 and not over 14.2. There were only three entries, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in quality. Allan Bros. of Hamilton won the red ribbon with Royal Fair, Heather Bell, owned by Geo. May, second, and Queen Radiant third.

Class 175, novice for matched geldings or mares, had only two entries. Clarence Dolson of Cheltenham showed a nice looking breeding pair of mares in Belle and Queen, nicely matched as to color, action and conformation. He received the red ribbon. The other entry had to be placed second. They were not in the same class at all, neither in size, conformation, gait, or in any particular.

In class 197, best harness tandem under 15.2, geldings or mares, there were five entries, and all started. This was an exceptionally strong class. Crow & Murray won first with a nice pair of bays; Allan Bros. second, witha really nice pair of dark chestnut mares, and Bates and Jones third with their entry. This was a good class and it was hard to leave any of them out. A aprticularly good pair was the pair of dapple grays shown by G. H. Smith of Delhi. They were a perfect team in color, action and manners.

THE BRITISH SPIRIT IN BUSINESS

How British Generalship is Winning in Today's Industrial Battle, as it is in the Fight Against the Kaiser.

The Globe in an editorial over the above caption remarks that it is not merely in the field of battle that the British people face the great issue without panic and without fear, but the same pluck and nerve and generalship is showing itself in the industrial field.

Sir Algernon Firth, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Great Britain, speaking recently at Bradford of this aspect of the stern conflict before the nation, said he had been asked his opinion as to the formation of distress committees. Speaking for his locality and Yorkshire, he said they did not want distress committees at present. What was wanted was continued employment for the people. Full employment could not be expected, but if partial employment for three or four days a week could be provided there was no need for starvation. As employers, they could not expect to come out without loss, but they had got to suffer their loss like men and stand their corner.

This is the spirit that is being shown by not a few Canadian manufacturers—better were there more of them—and prominent among them in our own city is The House of Hobberlin Limited, the large tailored-to-measure tailors, who have aside from their big retail store at 151 Yonge street, over thirteen hundred agencies and stores all over Canada.

This house has been making some remarkable special offers from week to week in order that their five hundred hands may be kept busy all the time. Last week the orders reached a figure that were simply astounding, assuring work for weeks ahead for their entire staff working full time.

For Saturday and Tuesday next, following this program, this house offers to make up from materials selling usually at $25, $30 and mainly $35, suit or overcoat, tailored-to-measure in their best style, for fifteen dollars.

Questioned as to the wisdom of this policy, Mr. A. M. Hobberlin, president, said that the house was very determined to keep its plant and staff going full steam, despite war conditions. He considered it good business, tho it meant a real loss. The house was quite satisfied that this loss should count as a contribution to the patriotic fund and it is a very real contribution to keep five hundred hands busy, and receiving their full wages every week.

TRAVERS AND OUIMET MEET IN TENNIS FINAL TODAY.

MANCHESTER, Vt., Sept. 4.—Champion Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair and Francis Ouimet of Woodland, the 1913 champion, will meet tomorrow in the final round of the national amateur golf tournament at the Ekwanok Country Club. In the semi-finals today Travers defeated Walter J. Travis of Garden City, 5 up and 3 to play, and Ouimet disposed of W. C. Fownes of Oakmont, 1 up.

DUNNIE WANTS THE COIN.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 4.—The Baltimore-Jersey City International League baseball games scheduled for this city next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday have been transferred to Wilmington, Del., because of the Star Spangled Banner celebration there next week, which the Oriole management believes would materially detract from the attendance at the games, 12 at the Motordrome.

LEAFS NOSED OUT PROVIDENCE GRAYS

Rogge Won His Game by Singling in Ninth—Score Was Three to Two.

It was cold over at the island yesterday, and it was only the fact that the Leafs beat out the Providence Grays by a 3-to-2 score that compensated the coterie of fans for their journey across the bay. Felt nats voted stronger yesterday than for many moons. The fans kept warm by stamping their feet, by worrying thru the eighth when Kelley's men filled the bases without shoving the winning run across, and by raising the temperature in the final session when Rogge won his own game by rapping out a nice single and scoring O'Hara.

Rogge allowed six walks, struck out eight men, and held the Grays to four scattered hits. Twelve bingles were the portion of the Kelleyites. Wright and O'Hara did more than their share by notching three apiece. A doubleheader will be staged today. Score:

HAMILTON IN OVERTIME.

HAMILTON, Sept. 4.—Pendry's single in the tenth sent Baldwin across the plate with the winning run in today's battle with Peterboro. Hamilton had the game cinched in the early stages, but in the ninth the Petes got to shears and tied the score. Hamilton failed to score in their half of the ninth. With two out and Baldwin on third, Pendry singled to right field, making the score 7 to 6. Hamilton played an errorless game, while the Petes had four miscues chalked against them. Peterboro outhit the locals, however, garnering 12 safeties, while the Athletics only made 12. Score:

Billy Hay says:

"Semi-ready Tailored Clothes — R. J. Tooke Furnishings — Service — a triumvirate hard to beat.

"Is it any wonder I'm just as enthusiastic today as if every factory wheel was humming the round of the clock to keep pace with the country's needs?

"I know the goods I'm selling—I believe in them—that's why day after day you find my little message in the newspapers.

"I could shout to you through big display advertisements with sensational headlines. But I've spent a good few years selling to the public—they want truth and courtesy — and plain talk can touch a responsive chord every time.

"I'll be at the Exhibition till the gates close, meeting the many people who stop at the Semi-ready Booth.

"You'll find me right opposite Eaton's, in Industrial Building No. 1 (formerly Manufacturers' Building).

"I'd like to show you the new Fall Suits and Coats. They're genuine Semi-ready garments — the quality and workmanship that built our business is sticking right out of them.

"And the Contest! It's one worth while, too. Let me tell you about it."
