Chiefly About Refrigerators, Verandah Rugs and Outdoor Cooking

Helping Deaf Ears
DO YOU KNOW the merits of the Acousticon? It is an inconspicuous electrical instrument, light in weight, with a new, improved ear-piece, helps the hard-of-hearing to converse easily with family and friends, and to do business without embarrassment or fear of errors arising through misunderstanding.

Returned soldiers, deafened in service, find it efficient and helpful. Demonstrator in the Optical Department will adjust the Acousticon to your special need. Send for descriptive leaflet. The important thing is to HEAR. —Third Floor

Ask For Waite Grass Rugs

If You Want a Durable, Artistic-looking Floor Covering for Verandah or for Cottage Sitting-Rooms, Bedrooms, etc.—Many New Conventional Designs.

PERHAPS you are familiar with these Waite rugs in the floral effects their makers have so long featured. The last shipment arriving in the department includes, in addition, many charming new conventional designs—trellis, checkerboard, broken stripe and neat geometric patterns stencilled in the same non-fadable paints in the same artistic blues, greens and browns for which this type of rug is famous. For verandahs and cottage sitting-rooms they are particularly well suited—as, for example, the rug in the sketch.

Woven from a twine made from tough wire grass, with a heavy cotton warp—which is doubled—the good wearing qualities of the Waite rugs are well assured. Sizes and prices are:

- 18 in. x 33 in. . . . . $ .80
- 27 in. x 54 in. . . . . 1.65
- 3 ft. x 6 ft. . . . . 2.75
- 4 ft. 6 in. x 7 ft. 6 in. . . . . $ 5.25
- 6 ft. x 9 ft. . . . . 8.00
- 6 ft. x 12 ft. . . . . 10.50

Mourzouk Rugs—other favorites of the Summer housekeeper—are woven of heavy coa fibre, and have striking designs painted on both sides, making them reversible. The design is in waterproof paint, and the rugs are of such heavy excellent quality that they are particularly well suited for outside wear, neither rain nor sun affecting their handsome appearance. The background is natural brown, the colors used for their patterning being chiefly dark brown, blue and green, with occasional touches of brilliant red. The designs have a decided Indian tendency. The sizes and prices are:

- 3 ft. x 5 ft. 3 in. . . . . $3.25
- 4 ft. x 6 ft. . . . . 5.00
- 4 ft. 6 in. x 7 ft. 6 in. . . . . 7.00

Ever Cooked With Canned Heat?

It's Odorless, Smokeless and Non-explosive--the Best Possible Heat for the Roadside or Waterside Picnic; When a Bonfire is Out of the Question, and for Many Other Uses as Well.

A WEE STOVE BUT A BIG BOON is the little "Sterno," with its canned heat, that is no bigger nor harder to carry about than the ordinary jar of cold cream, and that is as easy to light and extinguish as a match. You will surely find it invaluable if you're given to jaunting by motor car, canoe or motor boat, and want an easy and satisfactory way of boiling a kettle for your outdoor meal.

One-burner Sterno kitchenette—will hold an eight-inch frying pan, skillet or broiler, or a six-inch tea-kettle or saucepan. When not in use it folds into flat, compact form. Price, $2.25.

Two-burner Sterno kitchenette, like the one above, a strongly-constructed stove, suitable for every form of light cooking, indoors and out. Will accommodate not only an eight-inch frying-pan or other utensil of equal size, but also at the same time a six-inch kettle or boiler. When not in use, folds flat enough to be easily slipped into trunk, suitcase or motor kit. Price, $3.00.

Sterno outfit, consisting of pint-size saucepan, heavily nickled, covered with ebonized, non-heating wood knob; collapsible stand, that folds and packs into the saucepan for compact carrying. Price, complete, with one tin of canned heat, 75 cents.

Sterno outfit, consisting of stand, heavily-nickled boiler, with cover and non-heating handle and knob, also nickel tray. Price complete, $1.50.

A representative of the makers of Sterno stoves is in the Basement this week demonstrating the various uses of canned heat. If you are buying a Sterno have a talk with her. —Basement.

"THE BLUE DEVILS" NAMED BY GERMANS

Famous Corps First Coined Phrase, "They Shall Not Pass."

There are no more interesting soldiers among all the French legions than the "Blue Devils," who are to visit Toronto next Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. They are particularly adapted to the warfare of the mountains, and that is why they are also known as Alpine hunters. Alpine groups have been in existence since 1882. In the war now raging they have distinguished themselves over and over again. They have paid for the honor and glory which they have won with bitter sacrifice. German battalions have been reorganized as often as seven or eight times. Officers and men rival each other in valor and tenacity, and die to the last man rather than give up one inch of ground to the enemy.

It was the Germans who gave them the name of "Blue Devils." The name appalled at these tigers in blue uniforms, who held them in check and drove them back time after time, christened them "Die Blauen Teufel." In France today they are known as "Les Diables Bleus." The part that will visit this city were among the men who took part in the successful struggle at Verdun, when the Germans made such tremendous vain efforts to take the famous old-battlemented French city. These are the men who coined and made good the phrase, now historic, "Ils ne passeront pas."

Rose From Banks, commanding officer of the group that is to visit Toronto. At the outbreak of the war he was only 18 years old, but he left school to enlist in the Chasseurs. In a corps where every man is a hero he fought his way up to the rank of corporal, then a sergeant and a lieutenant. He has been wounded five times and wears the cross of the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre with three palms and a silver and bronze star.

The "Blue Devils" have been given a tremendous reception in every city of the United States they have visited. In Montreal, Quebec and other French-Canadian cities the citizens turned out en masse to greet them. The committee that is arranging for their reception here is confident that Toronto will not be behind in showing every honor to these brave soldiers of France.

The trouble between the Civic Employees' Union and the city will be dealt with at next Friday's special meeting of council, which has been called because the regular day of meeting falls on omission Day. It was felt that there was no occasion to call a meeting to specifically deal with the men's grievances and consequently they will wait until Friday before receiving an airing.

the matter of their grievances, the heads say it would be wrong to confer regarding them with men outside of the department's service. Meanwhile more demands for increased pay from other branches of the city service continue to be made. The latest is from the first-class firemen. They charge unfair treatment in the matter of wages. In an interview with Mayor Church on Saturday, Ald. Birdsell championed the cause of the men. He thought their request for an increase was a reasonable one when it was remembered that men junior to them in the service had received a 42 per cent increase as well as officers senior to them, while they had been overlooked. The board of control, at its meeting Wednesday, will be asked to deal with the matter so that a recommendation can go forward in time for council's meeting on Friday.

SPECIAL MEETING FOR CIVIC TROUBLE

Demands From City's Employees Still Continue to Come In.

The trouble between the Civic Employees' Union and the city will be dealt with at next Friday's special meeting of council, which has been called because the regular day of meeting falls on omission Day. It was felt that there was no occasion to call a meeting to specifically deal with the men's grievances and consequently they will wait until Friday before receiving an airing.

the absence of this situation which the movie fan invariably looks for. A new Judge Brown story, "The Look Lie," featuring child actors, is among the attractive features of the bill, while Burton Holmes' travelogue, "The Going to Hell," episode—also billed. The screen magazine completes the bill, while a particularly fine musical program is rendered under the direction of Luigi Romanelli.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC

"A DOLL'S HOUSE" AT ALLEN THEATRE

Henrik Ibsen's famous play, "A Doll's House," has been adapted to the screen, and is presented as the feature attraction at the Allen Theatre week, with beautiful Elsie Ferguson in the leading role. Maurice Tourneur's master hand is again responsible for the artistic success of this exquisite picture, and also there is considerable of the characteristic morbidity of Ibsen's greatest works in this photodramatization, the fascination of the story and the superb acting on the part of a fine cast make it one of the screen offerings that should not be missed by lovers of the best pictures. The usual happy ending is not to be found in "A Doll's House," but the climax is out of the ordinary and the theme is sufficiently strong to make up for and, incidentally, the infinitely harrowing scene of the Lusitania. Mr. Ince is so vivid in this part of his picture that you imagine that he was an eyewitness of this disaster. Probably nothing more poignant than this reminder of the greatest sea tragedy of all time has ever been seen on the motion picture screen. During the week at the Grand a matinee will be given every day.

Shea's Hippodrome.

Henry B. Walthall, who played the "Little Colonel" in "A Birth of a Nation," will be seen in his latest production, "With Hoops of Steel," this week at Shea's Hippodrome, beginning with a matinee today. The principal feminine role is taken by Miss Mary Charleson. The Corn Cob Cutups, a European organization introducing a novelty musical act, will headline the vaudeville. Kennedy, Sheridan and Day, in "The Honey-mooners," have an offering of brilliant of spontaneous, catchy songs and spontaneous chatter, while Grace and Turner will be seen in an original comedy juggling turn, "Fifteen Minutes on Futurist St." Taber and Claire, "The Girls From Songland," and vaudeville's "The Plates; Ketchum and Turner, in a delightful playlet, "Easy Money"; Rose and Bell, character singers and dancers, and the Pathé News complete the bill.

Original Firsts.

Bombardier Rose and Pte. Bell, Canadians who are appearing at Shea's Hippodrome this week, are two battle-scarred heroes recently invalided home. Rose and Bell were members of the first Canadian contingent that took part in so many memorable engagements in the early part of the war. Both were severely wounded and spent considerable time in a hospital in France. That a warm welcome awaits their appearance goes without saying. Their act for the most part is composed of stories and songs familiar to the boys in the trenches.

Loew's Theatre.

"The Heart of a Lion," pictured from Ralph Connor's Canadian novel, "The Doctor," with William Farnum

in the stellar role, will be shown this week at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden. The picture is one of the best in which Mr. Farnum has appeared. Charles Crossman, a Toronto pianist, and his Seven Novelty Instrumentalists, in one of the musical treats of the season, will top the vaudeville bill, which will also embrace the Dole Sisters, singing old-time plantation favorites; Gorman Bros. in "A Little Bit of Everything"; Swain's performing cats and rats; the Three Rianos, eccentric acrobats; Thornton and Thornton, entertainers of the quaint sort, and Loew's Weekly and comedy pictures.

At the Strand.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are so universally admired in Toronto that the tidings that they are to be seen in "With Neatness and Dispatch," an exceptionally fine Metro production, today, tomorrow and Wednesday, at the Strand Theatre, will be welcomed by countless "movie fans." The photoplay is precisely of that kind in which Bushman and Bayne excel. It is compact with laughter, romance and thrills. The aunt of two beautiful girls believes here, after posing as a crook in order to be of service to the girl he loves, proves the aunt's view to be wrong, and wins the girl of his heart for his wife. Mr. John T. Pledge, tenor vocalist, will continue to delight the patrons of the Strand for another fortnight.

At the Regent Today.

Bringing home the truth as it has never been known or understood before, the Regent presents today America's greatest and most thrilling story, "My Four Years in Germany." It is the master-stroke that will forever undo that nation which started out nearly four years ago to wreck democracy. It portrays events which only those officially informed at the time had any knowledge of. It shows with what high hopes the war machine set out on its murderous march. It is a revelation to mankind of a character and size that almost baffles description. On no former occasion has such an opportunity been presented, and that man or woman whose heart would not beat faster, whose very soul would not cry out in revenge against such "kultury" is surely unable to see. It determines one to help in this national crisis in any capacity he may be needed.

"Cross Bear" at Madison.

"The Cross Bearer," which will be presented at the Madison Theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday, is destined to live as a screen classic while motion pictures last. It immortalizes the figure of the heroic Cardinal Mercier—a role which is superbly taken by Montagu Love.

"The Lone Wolf" Coming.

"The Lone Wolf," Louis Joseph Vance's fascinating story, has been pictured with Hagel Dawn and Bert Lytell in the leading roles. It will be presented at the Grand Opera House during the week commencing July 1.

ARRESTED IN HAMILTON.

Detective John McConnell of the detective office left last night for Hamilton to bring back Sydney Rankin, to face a charge of non-support. Rankin was arrested in Hamilton by the authorities at the request of the Toronto police.

SMALL FIRE IN SHED.

Fire of unknown origin did damage to the extent of $200 to a shed rear of 74 and 76 West Dundas street on Saturday. The premises were occupied by J. Barwal. The fire department soon had the blaze under control.
