King Continues to Wake Most Satisfactory Progress Maintains Little of Discomfort in More Cheerful

KING'S CONDITION SHOWS DECIDED IMPROVEMENT

Thirty-Six Hours Have Elapsed Since the Operation and No Complications Have Arisen—Hopefulness Created in All Quarters.

KING MORE CHEERFUL.
London, June 25.—The bulletin was issued after 11 o'clock to-night: "The King continues to wake most satisfactory progress. He slept some hours during the day. He complains very little of discomfort and is more cheerful." (Signed), Treves, Laking, Barlow.

STRENGTH MAINTAINED.
London, June 25.—(6.35 p.m.)—The following bulletin was issued at 6.30 p.m.: "His Majesty passed a fairly comfortable day. His general strength was well maintained and there are no symptoms causing special anxiety." (Signed), Treves, Laking, Barlow.

COMFORTABLE MORNING.
London, June 25.—(2.15 p.m.)—The following bulletin was issued at 2 p.m.: "The King wakes with a comfortable sleep, and his condition so far is satisfactory." (Signed), Treves, Laking, Barlow.

SLEPT AFTER 10 O'CLOCK.
London, June 25.—(10.45 a.m.)—The official bulletin issued at 10.30 on the condition of the King is as follows: "His Majesty was very restless and had no sleep during the early part of the night. He obtained some sleep, however, after one o'clock this morning and no untoward symptoms presented themselves. Considering the circumstances, His Majesty may be said to be progressing satisfactorily." (Signed), Treves, Laking, Smith, Barlow.

London, June 25.—(Midnight)—King Edward's condition to-night is even more satisfactory than has been indicated by the last bulletin. He has made a decided improvement. His Majesty is very hopeful. Buckingham Palace is able to take nourishment. He had scrambled eggs and a little hock and soda this evening, and with his own hands he opened several telegrams.

The bulletin issued at 11 o'clock to-night is regarded as intensely satisfactory. This bulletin is generally taken as being the first occasion upon which the King's doctors have allowed themselves to express even to a small degree the hopeful feelings they undoubtedly, even though privately, entertain. Thirty-six hours have now elapsed and the operation was performed in a course of complications creates hopefulness in all quarters, although several days must pass before the possibility of danger can be eliminated.

"GOD SAVE THE KING!"

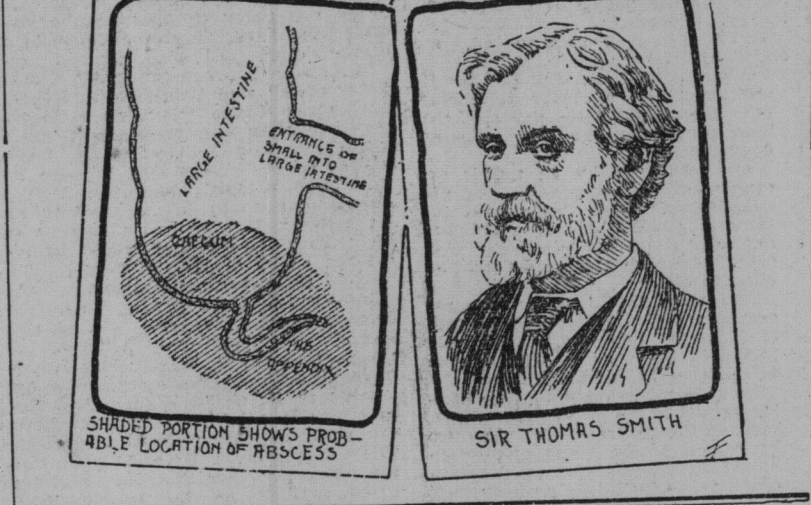

The following song, written by Henry Carey in 1715, entitled, "God, Save the King!" was to have been sung every Englishman in the world this morning at 8 o'clock. It will be sung as a prayer to-day wherever the British flag is known.

God save our gracious King!
Long live our noble King!
God save the King!
Send him victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us—
God save the King!

O Lord, our God, arise!
Scatter his enemies,
And make them fall:
Confound their politics,
Frustrate their knavish tricks,
On him our hopes we fix,
God save us all!

Thy choicest gifts in store,
On him be pleased to pour;
Long may he reign,
Who may defend our laws,
And ever give us cause
To sing with heart and voice—
God save the King!

Sir Thomas Smith and Diagram Illustrating Operation Performed.

CRISIS TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.

New York, June 25.—Max O'Reil, cabbing The Journal from London, says: For 48 hours the King will have a teaspoonful of chicken broth every two hours, which will get absorbed and not reach the parts operated upon. The crisis is awaited with the utmost anxiety; it will come on Thursday and Friday. A great surgeon tells me the chance of death is five per cent if operated upon when well and fifty if operated upon while in an inflamed state. The suspense of the country will be indescribable.

WHAT PHYSICIANS FEAR.

London, June 25.—The following statement was made this afternoon on the highest medical authority: "Until the tubes now draining the cavity of the abscess have been withdrawn, it will be impossible to feel certain that the King will pull thru. It is not possible to say how long the tubes will have to remain. It is a fact that an abscess due to perityphilitis may have a fatal issue without any warning symptoms. All the indications are often masked until the post-mortem, and there are many cases on record where the disease was only discovered after death, from an extraneous cause, such as an accident. Whatever the outcome, the King's grave illness must invalid him for a long time."

RISKS OF $21,000,000.

London, June 25.—In the event of the death of King Edward VII, the insurance companies of England will suffer the most staggering blow known in the history of that branch of financial investment. It is estimated that it will cause a loss of ten millions of dollars to the regularly organized life insurance companies alone. The King's death would result in a loss of $21,000,000 to the insurance companies of England. The King's death would result in a loss of $21,000,000 to the insurance companies of England.

OLD PROPHECY WORRIED.

One Made at Time of King's Birth About Coronation.
King Edward's illness has recalled the many prophecies that have been made that he would never be crowned. These dismal prophecies have been especially frequent during the last year. The prediction of some that he would never be crowned, and his failure to recover from the operation certainly would be regarded by the believers in prophecies as another proof of their value.

QUEBEC TAKES A HOLIDAY.

Secretary of State Cannot Understand the Move.
Ottawa, June 25.—Hon. R. W. Scott, Secretary of State, speaking to-night of the action of the Province of Quebec in taking a holiday to-day, said that he was unable to understand the move. He said that he was unable to understand the move.

WATCH WITH CONCERN.

President Roosevelt Expresses Sympathy for American Nation.
Cambridge, Mass., June 25.—President Roosevelt said in the course of an address at the Harvard Alumni banquet to-night: "Let me speak to all Americans to-day, when I say that we watch with the deepest concern and sympathy the sick bed of the English King, and that all Americans, in tendering their hearty sympathy to the people of Great Britain, never forget that we have a common interest in the health of the King of England."

PRAYED FOR OUR KING.

Chaplain of United States Congress Prayed for His Recovery.
Washington, June 25.—The chaplain in his prayer at the opening of the Senate to-day, invoked "blessings upon our sister nation, England, which holds, with us, the sacred trust of Christian progress. We remember her tears and prayers for us when our country was in peril, and we have great reason to feel that we have a great ruler in her, this hour of sorrow. Bless her King, and give him a happy issue out of his illness, and the restoration to health of King Edward."

CHANCES IN HIS FAVOR.

King is a Good Patient—Dinner to Be Given Poor.
London, June 25.—The reports which are again being circulated in New York of King Edward's desperate condition are untrue. Sir Thomas Lipton spent an hour at Buckingham Palace this afternoon, and the Associated Press has his authority for making the announcement.

SAID TO BE CANCER.

Whispered in London That Real Facts are Withheld.
New York, June 25.—A London cable to The Journal says: Despite the characteristically professional and non-committal tone of the bulletins issued to the public, it is said that the King's condition is much more serious than is being made known.

KING'S CHANCES BETTER.

No Similarity With the President McKinley Case.
Buffalo, June 25.—In response to a request as to the resemblance, if any, of the cases of King Edward and of President McKinley, Dr. J. H. McKeen says: "There is no similarity between the two cases. The King's case is much more serious than that of President McKinley."
