The Manufacturers' BARGAINS Big 98c Coupon Sale BARG

HUNDREDS OF REMNANTS, representing almost every variety of DRESS GOODS on the market, will be on sale at our factory

SATURDAY AND MONDAY, JANUARY 25 AND 27

Note the twofold opportunity to save money: With every remnant of sufficient length for a skirt, no matter how small the price, will be given a coupon which entitles the purchaser to have the remnant made up into a skirt and trimmed for the small sum of 98c. You save on the cloth and save in the making.

Your choice of ten fashionable styles. We guarantee to fit you. The remnants will run from one to seven and one-half yards in length. Fancy Waistings, Venetians, Broadcloths, Poplins, Serges, Plaid and Striped Suitings. In fact, the lines are too numerous to mention. A GENUINE MANUFACTURERS' SALE, the best we ever put up, and we have a reputation. Sale commences 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

ROBINSON CORSET AND COSTUME COMPANY

MADE IN CANADA

THE HEIRESS OF DENSLEY WOLD

BY FLORENCE WARDEN

And as he spoke, suddenly becoming aware of the strange look on his visitor's face, Monsieur Leblanc regarded the young man intently, with concern on his own fine features.

"Well, I-I'm afraid you will think me fanciful, but it was something strange that I heard-or fancied I heard-that brought me back. Is there, do you think-I mean, I want you to go into the room on the other side of the hall, in the front of the house, and to see whether there is anyone

His host looked at him steadily, with obvious suspicion that he was seized with an attack of temporary insanity.

Advertiser Patterns

A PLAIN SHIRTWAIST-6031. In this age of elaboration in everything pertaining to dress, a shirtwaist side of it. without trimming is a distinct gratification. Here is one made recently in washable material, having only the stitched tucks to relieve its severity. The sleeves are made in the regulation shirt style, and display the smart tailored finish. The cut and style of the waist are unusually good, and are nuite in line with the latest mode. Either silk, wool or linen may be used for making, the medium size calling for 25 yards of 36-inch material.

6031-Seven sizes, 32 to 44 inches, bust measure.

ADVERTISER.

pattern, as per directions given below.

Measurement: Bust..... Waist....

Age (if child's or misses' pattern)

CAUTION.—Be careful to inclose above illustration and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure you need only mark 32, 34, or, ing, and that he was in this room. whatever it may be. When in waist, The window was open just half way, measure, 22, 24, 26 or whatever it may and while I was close to it I saw it be. If a skirt give waist and length shut, and then I heard no more." pattern write only the figure represonting the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of order. The price of each pattern is 10 cents in cash or in postage stamps.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT,

"Anyone where? The room on the other side of the hall is my study. There is no one ever in there but my- shoulders, not aggressively, but with too much to them, so he affected to self. Unless-do you mean you have patient tolerance of British imbecility. think he might have been mistaken in reason to think that a burglar may have got in Ah! mon Dieu! But I not finding the man?" have precious things and valuable things in there! It would be terrible!"

And, with sudden anxiety apparent in door and said: look and tone, Monsieur Leblanc. now thoroughly roused, made a dash for he suddenly remembered the courtesy that was due to his guest, and turning

"But I am forgetting! You will come with me, will you not?-so that we can satisfy ourselves together, and"-a humorous twinkle appeared in his gray eyes-"you are younger than I am. Perhaps, if there is a burglar in there, you will be able to do more for me than I could for my- too near." self. You shall show your athletic British training, Mr. St. Quintin. You tle corridor outside the room. There shall-what you call 'tackle'-the bur- was no light in it, Monsieur Leblanc usually strong under the pressure of that he had put up with the young his excitement at the notion of an at- man's vagaries long enough. opened the door wide and invited St. Quintin to go out first.

Together they crossed the wide hall, seen. and the host opened a door which led right and to the left. He opened the his own persistency. one on the left, and turning up the electric light by means of a button yet seen all the rooms in the house, just inside on the wall, he dashed into said Monsieur Leblanc shortly, away any possible intruder.

But there was no one in the room and no sign that any one had recently been engaged there in any occupation more dangerous than that of writ-

For opposite to the door and immediately under the window was a heavy writing table of plain mahogany, with a leather top and a wide knee hole between two pedestal supports containing small drawers. Upon by which they had entered it, and, un- This occurred several weeks ago, tacks of wolves. I am informed that the body was identified as Pietro Ran- carpenter shop, an icehouse and an electrical leboratory. any, with a leather top and a wide table, and more letters and papers. On one side of the room was a fireplace, now filled with ferns, with a really something going on next door Pierre, who is in Seattle at present, in massive cupboard-bookcase on each

At the opposite end there were rows of shelves, all containing books in which the shock of finding the room ticipants upon the fight that they did handsome bindings, which bore the empty when he had expected to make not notice the approach of the Indian stamp of having been bought for show some awful discovery had temporarily guide and myself. We had been rather than for use, each volume be- deprived him. ing in its place, and regard being had to size and color rather than any more had seen and heard, and wondered what through the timber and underbrush vent commercialism from offending the twithout any more poise than the commercialism from offending the to size and color rather than any more than any more than the occaliterary method of selection or of arstrange thing had happened in that without any more noise than the occaartistic sense, were given an uplift to-little worn. The furniture was not perhaps so handsome as in the other carved old and red morocco, of certain house on the other. PATTERN DEPARTMENT OF THE articles of use which showed marks of hard wear. Thus, the pedestal writingtable under the window was old and send the above-mentioned shabby, contrasting oddly and strongly door," he said. "Can you?" with the magnificent bookcases, the St. Quintin, who had taken care to there." the door was opened, without allowing young friend's face. time for the escape of a possible accupant, was struck dumb with amaze- under St. Quintin's arm. ment at what he saw.

most as much astonished as he was. this way, by the back of the house,

Staring slowly round him, he turned where it is bright and gay and lively to the young man and asked incred- with lights" uiously

"Where is he the man? You cannot have heard a man in here, Mr. garden at the back of the house, and an unusually successful attack.

"I could have sworn," he said at last, feebly, "that, I heard a man call- night air. When misses' or child's His host looked at him steadily, and then smiled, shaking his head.

"You have a vivid imagination, that is all. If there had been a man calling in here, swrely he would not have shut the window, but would have really was. For, indeed he had begun to agree with his host that what he had heard must have been the result of some trick played upon him by his own senses of sight and hear-

"I'm quite sure," he said stubbornly, "that I did hear and see what I de-Monsieur Leblanc shrugged his

"Then how can you account for our his fancy that he heard a cry. St. Quintin could not answer. In-

"Perhaps it was something from next door you heard. There is a large the door. But before he could reach it family of young people there, and they are full of tricks. It is some escapade on the part of the young men who are the while, and Marie, who kept some-

> For an instant St. Quintin caught at he said shortly: "No, it was too near for that-grounds and ours."

By this time they were in the litnot having touched the button which And as he spoke Monsieur Leblanc, would have turned on the electric tating and rather shy.

Whose French accent had become un-

St. Quintin lingered. He sa that there was a door nearly opposite to that of the study, the room he had

"There is a room here, is there not? into a short corridor, with doors to the he ventured to ask, rather ashamed of "Ah, mon Dieu! yes; you have not the room hurriedly and cried: "Ah!" St. Quintin felt for the handle of the as if with the intention of scaring door, in spite of this snub. It was locked, and his host laughed.

"That is the butler's pantry," he said 'If you like, I will get him to open the door and satisfy your curiosity." St. Quintin, abashed, apologized hurriedly, and adding that what he had heard had struck him so strangely that he was as anxious for Monsieur Le-blanc's sake as for his own satisfaction to know exactly what it was.

"You are unnerved, heated, worried, through the unexplored region north will fling himself upon anything from Sylvea Barretto, said to be a cousin of by this, I see," he said kindly. "Let us of Edmonton with only Indian guides a man to a mountain lion. But such try to find out, if we can, if there was for her companions. Countess de St. which made you think as you did." In the cool night air St. Quintin recovered the full use of his wits, of about even, and so intent were the par-

Once more he felt sure of what he The carpet was thick, costly and with Monsieur Marbeau.

narrow walk lined n each side by his moccasins, and in this way we municipal interference with lurid apartments of the house; but this was shut them in from the house wall on The price of this pattern is 10 rather on account of the intrusion the one side and the wall which dividamong the more imposing pieces of ed the garden from that of the next

Monsieur Leblanc looked first to the right and then to the left and listened. "I can hear nothing going on next with the magnificent bookcases, the handsomely bound books and the lux- urious carpet.

"No," said St. Quintin rather sharp- drop behind a fallen tree. From the concealment thus afforded we watch- ordinance giving the city the power to so of the period within which it may am sure that we should find nothing get quickly into the room as soon as Monsieur Leblanc peered at his Then he suddenly thrust his

"You shall come back into the house Not a sign of a struggle having drink a glass of wine. For I see that, tinued. The bear was losing ground avenue of churches that on Sundays at Belasco, through which she will appear a wenue of churches that on Sundays at Belasco Theater next season, did not taken place in the room, not a mark whatever this may be that has alarm-along the walk until they reached the pain after one of the wolves had made there, as Monsieur Leblanc had said, St. Quintin looked about him scru- the bright lights from the drawing- when a realization of the unequal con-

> Monsieur Leblanc led him through by one of the open French windows in- bear, having taking a look at the new to the drawing-room, where Madame Leblanc, her niece and Miss Stanley, satisfied fashion, apparently undecided the prim governess, were all standing, laughing and talking, by the plano. They all turned as the gentlemen entered, and madame uttered a little gentle scream when she caught sight of the young man's face.

"Oh, what is it? Has something hap-back to make inquiries. This attitude nettled St. Quintin and

"Make him sit down. Talk to him, made him appear more certain than he play to him, be gay, amusing," said monsieur only half aside, to St. Quintin's amusement. "I go to fetch him round."

And Monsieur Leblanc left the room, while the ladies gathered round the young man and asked him, with much interest, what it was exactly that had startled him and made him

But he felt that he had better not

Madame looked at him keenly and said, with the calm complacency of the dulgently his host led the way to the plump, that cries were nothing to trouble one's head about, that the English lower orders were noisy and liked to make a noise, and that it was some war-cry of his class.

Miss Stanley gazed at toward him said, with a bow and an there; one of them has played some what in the background during this trick on another, and you heard them conversation, looked at him askance from over the wall between their with sympathetic glances, but said lit-> the suggestion. But the next moment blanc returned with a glass of champagne, which he commanded St. Quintin to drink. The young man was not slow to obey, and in the meantime his host turned to Marie and said: "You are not sympathetic, Marie.

Are you so strong-minded you have no sympathy with an attack of nerves? The girl came a step forward, hesi-(To be continued.)

FRENCH COUNTESS HUNTS IN CANADA

A Woman Makes Trip Through Unexplored Region North of Edmontor.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 21.-With four speaking of the struggle, said: "For a time the honors of war were breaking trail through a heavily wood-

Battle in the Forest.

"My first impulse when I came upon the struggle seemed to take possession ed the battle for several minutes. fore the slow-moving bruin could turn.

As the bear wheeled to meet one astimber wolves kept up a continual din of sharp yelps, interspersed with howls of anger, while the bear would And he led the reluctant young man occasionally emit a roar of rage and "Bruin had all but given up the fight room streamed on to the lawn, and the test dawned upon me. I could stand it voices of the ladies rang out in the no longer, and, bringing my '30-30' into play, I felled one of the wolves. The Heart Disease that Baffled the Cleverother three scurried away, while the arrivals, trotted off in a sort of half whether to be pleased with the outcome of the encounter or not.

Wolves Like Huge Dogs.

"The first time I ever saw a timmy guides that I came near shooting dog they laughed, and after exchanging several comments in their met a wolf." In discussing nature faking, Countess de St. Pierre said: "I doubt if a timber wolf could ever kill an elk or a moose, although such claims have been made by writers. A timber wolf, so my guides informed me, never travels alone. The Indians say that a of St. Brieuc, Brittany, France, lay most cases they are successful. We the Atlantic was making the trip When in this condition a timber wolf cases are rare." LURID SIGNS MUST FALL

New York Judge in Wiping Out Fifth Avenue Eyesores Shows Sentiment.

ed forest, the Indian making his way forts to develop a city beautiful and premeccasins. Following his instructions, that the suit against the city by the The two men found themselves in a I placed my feet in the tracks left by Fifth Avenue Coach Company to enjoin signs on the exterior of its 'buses must be dismissed. The 'buses on fashionable Fifth the four wolves fighting desperately avenue succeeded a year ago the old remove the signs. "The timber wolves assailed the ordinance to be constitutional and after lish and operate a municipal light plant. bear on all sides, snapping viciously describing the beauty of Fifth avenue describing the beauty of Fifth avenue with me," he said, "and you shall from behind, and thus the combat conthrough The hear was losing ground brilliant signs moves. It is along this Belasco, through which she will appear under the vicious attacks, and it these glaring billboards are driven. It ed you, it has disturbed your nerves seemed but a matter of minutes until is the scheme of beauty which is sac-Monsteur Leblanc seemed to be al- very much. Yes, yes, I do insist. Come it would be completely exhausted. The rificed to the demands of modern commercialism.'

> MR. CHARLTON BETTER. Delhi, Ont., Jan. 20.-Mr. John Fiske." Charlton's conditions is further improved this morning. He is gradually recovering.

"AS GOOD AS DEAD." est Physicians Gives Up the Fight-Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Wins Again.

It isn't a bit of boast to say that Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart works miracles every day. A Toronto lady, living on Queen street west, was given "The first time I ever saw a tim-ber wolf." constinued Countess de St. to live," and when the life cord Pierre, "I thought it was a dog, and seemed just about to snap this great opened it wider."

"Oh, what is it? Has something happened to you? Have you hurt yourshut it," suggested the young man.

"Ah, bah! There was nobody here," said Monsieur Leblanc, almost had heard a cry from next door which is camp. When I informed seemed just about to snap this great remedy was suggested as a last resort—and it saved the life—stopped to you? Have you hurt yourshut the peculiar swinging gait that is characteristic of the wolf, and I thought no more of the incident until I returned to camp. When I informed Sold by Callard & Molecular.

Sold by Callard & Molecular.

Sold by Callard & Molecular.

MURDERED FOR $40

TORONTO, ONT.

the Dominion.

All Canadian Dealers Have It.

SOLD and USED EVERYWHERE in

Makes Baking Easy, Dependable and Economical,

W. GILLETT COMPANY LIMITED

native tongue explained that I had Erie Railway Employe Found Gashed to Death at Salamanca.

taken from the river below here yeswolf, unaccompanied, would hesitate man were cut and gashed in half a and that a fire which broke out in 1906 ravenous timber wolves battling to attack anything more dangerous dozen different places, the bones of caused considerable loss. fiercely with a black bear in the wilds than a rabbit, but three or four timada, Countess Meherene de St. Pierre, animal that roams the woods. And in the general appearance of the grounds. concealed behind a windfall less than found a number of bear carcasses, and the guides explained that the struck with a blunt instrument, and since its erection in 1825. Originally it the general appearance of the wounds; concealed behind a windfall less than round a number of beat and the guides explained that the the arteries in the neck afterwards that the arteries in the neck afterwards. duzio, a former employe of the Erie electrical laboratory.

> the dead man, and S. Randazzo, a fellow-workman. the cross-examination by District Attorney Cole this evening, and are said to have confessed. The confession is to the effect that he was killed to se-

A TORONTO STABBING. Toronto, Ont., Jan. 20.-In a row in strange thing had happened in that without any more more than the study while its master was conversing sional cracking of a twig beneath his day when Justice Leventritt decided stabbed Cino Todoroff with a knife in the shoulder. Todoroff was taken to the hospital, and Tovore to the cells.

THE WESTERN BILL.

Toronto, Jan. 20.-The Western University and College, London, is prowith the bear was to shoot. I raised stage coaches regarded as relics of old moting a bill to enable it to appoint my rifle, but suddenly the spirit of New York. The new double-deck elec- a board of governors and to create tric 'buses were plastered from top to such faculties as may be deemed deof me, and I motioned to the guide to bottom with garish advertising signs, sirable. The North Midland Railway commence and complete its line. Ux-sailant another would spring at him the plaintiffs advertising panorama of the recent arrangement with David the recent arrangement with David affect her personal management. A wrong impression had gained currency, she said, adding: "All my professional affairs, of course, as hitherto, will continue under the sole direction of Harrison Grey

FISKE AND BELASCO.

NOT ABSORBING THE P. M. Detroit, Mich., Jan. 20.-It became known here today that Henry B. Ledyard, chairman of the board of directors of the Michigan Central, one of the New York Central lines, was on Jan. 7 elected a director of the reorganized Pere Marquette road. It is reported that Mr. Ledyard will be at the next meeting of directors on the first Tuesday in February, and made a member of the Pere Marquette executive committee. While local financiers and railroad men profess to see great significance in the election of the Michigan Central chairman to the Pere Marquette directorate, President Wm. Cotter, of the Pere Marquette, denies that there is any plan of absorption or consolidation in contemplation.

A WINDING-UP ORDER.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Toronto, Jan. 20 .- An order was asked for at Osgoode Hall this morning for the winding-up of the Robertson Machine Company, of Welland, which was incorporated in 1905 with an Salamanca, N. Y., Jan. 20.—The body authorized capital of $40,000. The apof a man tied up in a blanket was plicant is the Canadian Fairbanks Company, a creditor for $270, which terday. The face and neck of the dead states that the Imperial Bank holds a

An old brick laboratory in Middle-

Easy to Take ow-workman.

The two were subjected to a search
Easy to Operate

Because purely vegetable-yet thorough, prompt, healthful, satisfactory-Hood's Pills valuable to ladies. WINDSOR SUPPLY CO., Winds

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS CURED HER AND SAVED HER LIFE.

There is no one, we imagine, sets about deliberately to do injury to the heart, yet in the excitement and excesses of presentday living, the nervous system is done violence to, and the heart and nerves being so intimately bound up with one another, disorganization of the one means disease and disorder of the other.

When you find your heart the least bis out of rhyme, your nerves unhinged, don't wait until you are prostrated on a bed of sickness. Take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll put you in such condition you'll never know you have a heart, make your brain clear and active, your nerves strong, your blood rich and pure, and your whole being thrill with a new

Mrs. John C. Yensen, Little Rocher, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with stab-like pain through my heart. I tried many remedies but they seemed to do me more harm than good. I was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using two boxes I was completely cured. I cannot praise them enough for the world of good they did me for I believe they saved my life."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.