MARKET SQUARE MATTER ARRANGED

City and Street Railway Company Reach Agreement

After a long wait the arrangements for straightening out the double curves in the street railway line in Market Square have been about completed and it is expected that the work will soon start.

At present the rails curve sharply to the right from the foot of King street, and curve again to the left to enter Doctord street. While there never has been any serious accidents at this corner it was felt that there is always some danger that an accident might place a car beyond control on the hills and a catastrophe might follow.

It was at the request of the city that the company agreed to straighten out the tracks and for this purpose they secured the necessary rails and connections last spring. After the equipment was on the ground a difference of opinion regarding repairs to the pavement after that work was done caused a deadlock between the city and company and nothing further was accomplished.

Commissioner Potts announced this morning that arrangements have been made to the satisfaction of the city and the company and he understood that the work will commence next week.

The diamond crossing for the street railway connection between the Douglas avenue line and the new highway bridge is due by the Boston boat tomorrow and will be put in place as soon as it arrives.

LIEUT. KNOWLTON OF 26TH WOUNDED

Father Gets Word—Happened in Action on November 18

Word that his son, Lieut. Charles Daniel Knowlton, 26th Battalion, had been wounded, was received this morning by F. J. G. Knowlton, 164 Sydney street.

LIEUT. KNOWLTON

and the news will be heard with regret by friends about the city. The official telegram from the adjutant-general at Ottawa did not give particulars beyond saying that the young man had been wounded in action on November 18. Further details were promised when received.

Lieut. Knowlton is about twenty-three years of age. He has been a member of the 26th Battalion from its first establishment and well liked by his fellow officers and men. Later word as to his condition will be eagerly awaited.

INTENDED TO DECEIVE ALLIES AND NOT THE U. S. GOVERNMENT

Counsel's Plea in Case of Karl Buenz in Court in New York Today

New York, Nov. 22.—The trial of Karl Buenz, managing director of the Hamburg-American line, and three employees of that line, on charges of conspiracy to defraud and deceive the United States government in obtaining clearance papers for steamships carrying supplies to German cruisers, in summer and fall of 1914, is on the calendar of the United States district court today. The trial is the first important one to come before a court in New York, as a result of the different charges of conspiracy which have been made against agents of the Central Powers in this country.

Two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine on each of two indictments is the maximum penalty for the crime charged. Counsel for Buenz, conceals that four of the fifteen vessels named in the indictment as supply ships were charged as alleged, but asserts that the filing of false invoices and manifests at the United States, but to deceive the enemies of Germany.

The defendants aver that the violations of customs regulations were not serious offenses. In view of these concessions it is expected that the chief points to be passed upon by Judge Howe will be questions of law as to the jurisdiction of the United States over some of the supply ships which are of foreign register.

FINE OF $20

Judgment in Liquor Law Case in The Police Court

In the police court this morning, Magistrate Ritchie gave judgment in the case against J. Harry Dever, who was fined $20 for allowing his premises to be used for the sale of liquor. He found the defendant guilty and fined him $20. The judgment follows:

"The defendant is charged under the liquor license act, that he did permit drunkenness on his premises. The evidence of the inspector is that he saw two men on the premises and these two men were not sober.

"It is admitted by the defendant that one of them called for champagne and upon being refused he called for lager beer and offered to treat the defendant. It was not until after the inspector called attention to the men that the bartender called them to leave. One of them was later arrested for drunkenness.

"The law is very clearly laid down by Mr. Justice Stevens in Q. B. div. in an opinion that the words of the section amount to an absolute prohibition. I believe the reason for making this prohibition absolute was that there should be no temptation to the publican to sell liquor without regard to the sobriety of the customer, and it was thought right to put upon the publican the responsibility of determining whether or not his customer is sober.

"Under the evidence two drunken men were on the premises. The defendant admits one of them was in such a condition that he refused to serve him. The license or the bartender should have had them rejected. There was no attempt to do so until after the inspector called attention to the condition of the men. Under the peculiar phraseology of the section it is incumbent on the licensee notably to serve only men who are sober. Just here it may be said that a man not sober should not be permitted on the licensed premises."

GOOD WORK OF SPORTSMEN'S PATRIOTIC ASSOCIATION

In a letter to the Ottawa Free Press concerning the aims and work of the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association, already organized in Ottawa and Toronto, H. J. P. Good writes:

"As you are aware, a club house has been opened in Toronto where all soldiers in uniform find a welcome. It is hoped to accomplish as much in every city where a branch is established, and especially at places where the returning heroes disembark, such as Montreal, Quebec, St. John and Halifax. Not only is it the wish of the association to provide these gallant fellows with a place where they will immediately feel themselves at home, but also see that somebody is present to give them greetings.

"Nor is the sending of implements of play to the men overseas and supplying those in camp with the same, all that has been done with the funds already received in Toronto and elsewhere, but battalions at least have been supplied with full sets of band instruments and prizes have been given for competitions in athletic games. Another direction in which the money may be used is in the providing of flags and colors for the different battalions. I think that you will agree with me that a little brightness added to the parades would in no way detract from them."

WILL BE APPRECIATED.

The suggestion mentioned in this newspaper a few days ago that an unused car placed on the city end of the new bridge over the Hills, would provide a good shelter for those obliged to wait between trips, was carried out on Saturday, when car No. 866 took up a permanent position and was open for business to the waiting public from about four o'clock in the afternoon until the last trip of the cars in the evening. It is understood this arrangement will be continued until the new diamond is installed and the cars running through to the city. Those stranded on the bridge in the meanwhile are assured of a warm, well lighted shelter.

AGAIN ON DUTY
Policeman Fuller, who was injured a few weeks ago was able to return to work this morning. He is doing duty as traffic policeman at the corner of Mill and Pond streets.

Never Too Busy

Alert merchants are never too busy to see "traveling salesmen." They may not buy, but they want to take a minute to look. There may be something they need—something they don't want to overlook.

Newspaper advertising is like the traveling salesman showing his goods.

Perhaps you do not want the goods, but it pays you to look. Reading keeps you informed of the market and what prices prevail.

That knowledge is valuable when the time does come to buy.
