ARY TELLS OF DEATH IN SUNKEN SUBMARINE

panese Lieutenant, Lost With 14 Sailors, Left Record of Life's Closing Hours

(New York Herald.)
How it felt to go to death in a ken submarine—a painful process of drowning—has been told by a man he himself went to his death. His description of his feelings—how the boat died, how the crew fought vainly for life, his parting message to his sailors, are all told in the diary of Lieut.
Sakuma, who with fourteen sailors perished when the Japanese submarine boat No. 6 was lost in Japanese waters off the coast of Japan.
The diary, which was found on the wreck of the boat, is a story of courage and heroism. It tells of the death of the crew and the writer's last moments.

We now sacrifice our lives for the good of our country, but my fear is that disaster will affect the future development of submarine. It is therefore, my hope that nothing will daunt determination to study the submarine until it is a perfect machine, absolutely reliable. We can then die without regret.
It was while making a gasoline dive that the boat sank lower than we intended, and in our attempt to close the chain broke. We endeavored to stop the rush of water with our rafts, but too late, the water entered the rear and the boat sank at an increase of twenty-five degrees. When it sank bottom it was at an angle of thirty degrees. The current submerged the electric generator, but outside lights and the electric wires were saved.
In a few minutes had gas was generated, making it difficult for us to breathe.
It was 10 a. m. on the 15th instant that the boat sank. Surrounded by poisonous gas, the crew stood to pump out water. As soon as the boat sank water was being pumped out. The electric light was extinguished and the use was inevitable, but the writer in main tank was pumped out completely.
The electric current has now become less and the hand pump is our only hope. The vessel is in darkness, and it is this down by the light through the sinking tower at 11.45 a. m. It is my intention that men embarking in submarines must possess the qualities of calmness and nerve, and must be extremely painstaking; they must be brave and daring in their handling of the boat. People may laugh at this opinion view of my failure, but the statement true.
We have worked hard to pump out water, but the boat is still in the poisonous gas. It is now twelve o'clock. The depth of water here is not ten fathoms.
The crew of a submarine should be selected from the coolest, the bravest, they will be of little use in time of war—in such as we are now. My brave men are doing their best.
I always expect death when away from home. My will is, therefore, prepared and in the locker. But this is of private affairs. I hope Mr. Taguchi I send it to my father.
A word to His Majesty the Emperor, is my earnest hope that Your Ma-

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY: HOME AND ABROAD

RING Last Night's Bout

In Boston Joe Jeannette outpointed Sam Langford in a 12-round bout.
In New York "Gunboat" Smith out-fought Charley Weiner in a 10-round bout. Porfirio Rymon bested Al. Reich in a ten-round bout.
Won $25,000 On Big Fight
New York, April 13.—Arnold Rothstein, a sporting man, who is said to have lost more than $50,000 on the Glatts last year, was the heaviest winner on the result of the Willard-Johnson fight. Rothstein, according to good authority, picked off Willard to beat Johnson, and backed him sufficiently to clean up $55,000.
Another substantial winner on Willard success is Max Blumenthal, who is managing Al. Reich. Chicago O'Brien, a noted horse player, also won on the new champion. Bob Vernon, the stakeholder, who called from Havana a few days before the fight that Willard would win, is reported to have recovered much of the money that Jeffries burned up for him at Reno.

Willard Will Tour World New York, April 13.—Joe Willard is to make a tour of the world. In reply to a question whether he would accept challengers from Jim Coffey, Al. Reich or "Gunboat" Smith, Willard said:
"I am in the hands of my managers.
Whatever they decide is best for me I will do. But I do not believe that I will enter the ring again for at least a year." My managers propose to make a tour of the world with me. We have already signed contracts for theatrical performances for the next four months.
"We will first show in the principal cities of the United States, beginning with New York. After we have made a tour of this country we will take in Canada and Australia. If by that time the war in Europe is over we will show in the music halls of London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna, after which we will make a trip to Petrograd, Moscow and the principal cities of Japan.
Fabre May Not Run
Montreal, April 14.—A hitch in the arrangements for sending Ed. Fabre to Boston to compete in the Patriots' Day Marathon, developed last night, as a result of which the big French runner may not take part in the classic event.
Fabre was scheduled to leave for Boston last night and a large number of his friends assembled at the depot. Fabre came down to the station, but said he was not leaving for Boston, that there was not sufficient money forthcoming to cover his expenses.
It is likely that the matter will be settled, however, and that Fabre will leave within a day or two.
Walter Bell, winner of The Herald's around-the-mountain race last Thanksgiving Day, will compete in the Boston race again. Bell is being sent by the Shamrock Club.

McGraw Was Punched Richmond, Va., April 13.—After his team was defeated by the Richmond Internationals on Saturday, Manager Mc-Graw of the New York Giants was being ing the grounds when a muscularly built young man, C. L. Straus, a local fan, taunted him. McGraw, who was outplaying the Virginians.
"Don't speak to me; I don't know you," McGraw replied, evidently piqued.
"You needn't get huffy about it," replied the young man.
The young man supplied the means of living to the poor families of the crew. This is my only desire, and I am so anxious to have it fulfilled.
"My respects and best regards to the following: Admiral Saito, minister of the navy; Vice-Admiral Shimamura and Pajiri, Rear-Admiral Nawa, Yamashita and Narita—the air pressure is so light that I fear my cardrums will be broken up. I thought I could blow out gain-line, but I am intoxicated with it—Captain . . . akano—it is now 12.40 p. m." Here the narrative ended.

or. It's a fascinating, thrilling, gripping, powerful play with the greatest flood scenes ever produced in motion pictures.

'Slippery Slim And The Claims Agent'
One of the funniest Slippery Slim comedies yet. The acting of Slippery Slim, Sophie Clutts and Pete is one of the most laughable things we have yet seen.

EDITH STOREY AND EARL WILLIAMS
In 'THE LEADING LADY,' a Vitaphone production that is intense and powerful. A story of love, hate and jealousy.

'The Silent Way'
A stirring drama, full of the best western atmosphere, with
