

SAINT JOHN MEN TELL OF CIVIL SERVICE MEET

W. M. Campbell and J. R. Rolston Return From Ottawa

W. M. Campbell, of the Customs and Excise Department, and John R. Rolston, of the Marine and Fisheries Department, returned yesterday from Ottawa where they attended a convention of the Civil Service Federation of Canada. There were about 40 delegates present, ranging from Saint John and Halifax to Winnipeg, representing nearly all branches of the Dominion public service.

Among the suggested changes in the Superannuation Act are the following: A return of all moneys contributed without interest where the civil servant retires from the service or dies without them or their beneficiaries participating in the benefits of the act. That the 4 per cent. interest now levied in connection with the payments of arrears on back payments be discarded and only the actual arrears be chargeable to the individual.

WOULD AMEND ACT.

That the act be amended to provide that any period of prior service either in the Northwest Mounted Police, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, or active service overseas in either His Majesty's naval or military service or service with any of the Allied nations during the Great War, 1914 to demobilization, be deemed service within the meaning of the superannuation act.

That the period during which civil servants may elect to come under the provisions of the act be extended for a period of one year.

That permanent employees of the Public Works Department, other departments who are paid a fixed yearly salary based on prevailing rates be permitted to contribute and to receive benefits from the act.

That the act be amended so as to provide that three years instead of five shall be the basis of the salary on which superannuation allowance will be computed.

A number of other minor changes were suggested in order to make the act more satisfactory to the civil servants of the federation.

INCREASE SOUGHT.

Among several recommendations were the following: "That a general increase be allowed to all full time civil servants having regard to the increase in the cost of living since the pre-war period."

"After consultation with the representatives of the various organizations the committee finds there is such divergence in their respective organizations which have already made representations to the government and commission, which vary according to their respective needs, it is scarcely practicable for the Civil Service Federation in convention to fix an exact or blanket amounts to apply equally to all branches of the service."

"Your committee would therefore recommend that the federation should support each of its component branches in their respective salary revision activities, provided that these are considered fair and reasonable and further that the federation should endeavor through conference between its branches to correlate and harmonize as far as possible their salary revision activities, having regard to the principles of equal pay for equal work."

On Thursday afternoon the entire delegation was received by Hon. Mr. Robt. Forke, minister of immigration and colonization, was present as an official representative of the government and who humorously described himself as the "official director of the government."

There were also present at the meeting Dr. Roach, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, and the two recently appointed members, Mr. McTavish, of Toronto, and Mr. Tremblay, of Ottawa, who the federation members met for the first time. Each of these four was heard in a short address.

Mr. Campbell said that the members of the customs and excise department had called on their new minister, Hon. W. D. Eiler, and were most favorably impressed by him. They felt confident that under his administration the work of the department would be carried out in such a manner as to benefit both the public and the members of the civil service.

Cathode Rays Abolished By Scientists; Tube Does Not Penetrate Enough They Say

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The cathode ray, made available through the development of the cathode ray tube by Dr. W. D. Coolidge, assistant director of the General Electric Company's research laboratory, offers possibilities as a remedy for skin diseases, but it is of no practical use at present in the treatment of cancer and internal tissue diseases, Dr. Francis Carter Wood, head of the Crocker Laboratory for Cancer Research at Columbia University, said yesterday. The ray has previously been investigated by H. M. Terrell, associate in physics at the laboratory.

The effects of the cathode ray correspond to those of unfiltered radium filtered through metal to eliminate the beta rays, he said. Scientists are trying to discover a ray with more penetration than the X-ray or gamma ray for the treatment of internal tumors and tissue diseases. Dr. Wood pointed out that the cathode ray is apparently effective only superficially. It is composed of actual particles or electrons, which cannot penetrate deeply, whereas the X-ray and the gamma rays given off by radium are merely vibrations which

STEWART OF YACHT CLUB IS INJURED

Head Crushed—When Yacht Slips Back—Doing Well in Hospital

Fritz Sarsenow, aged 70, employed as steward for the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club at the headquarters at Millville, was badly injured at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, while assisting in hauling a yacht to its winter quarters.

Mr. Sarsenow, with Grenville Ring, was at work in hauling out the motor yacht Savitar, owned by Gordon Hodder, when the yacht slipped back from the water, where they had been working during the winter months. The yacht had been hauled a considerable distance from the water's edge and while the caretaker was working near the stern of the boat it slipped back and jammed his head.

Mr. Hodder, the owner of the yacht, was present at the time and with Mr. Ring and others freed Mr. Sarsenow and he was carried to one side unconscious and bleeding freely from the mouth and ears as well as having his mouth badly injured. His appearance was such that those present believed that the unfortunate man had sustained a fracture of the skull.

CALL SENT TO CITY.
A telephone message was sent to the city and in response Detective Power and Biddlecombe along with Police Constables Gibbs and McBride and the city ambulance arrived on the scene as did also Dr. Stevenson. After rendering first aid Dr. Stevenson ordered the injured man removed to the General Public Hospital.

Mr. Sarsenow recovered consciousness and after an examination it was found that there was no fracture of the skull and it is expected that the yacht club steward will be able to leave the institution in a short time.

Mr. Sarsenow resides at Cady's Station, near New Glasgow, and was not engaged with the yacht club and the members of the club will be pleased to learn that their good friend "Fritz" is out of danger.

DECISION SOON IN INGLEDWOOD ARBITRATION

Judge LeBlanc's Award Looked for in Next Two Weeks

THE decision in the Ingledwood case which has been awaited since the arbitrator, Mr. Justice Arthur T. LeBlanc, announced it as early in May last, will be rendered some time within the next two weeks, according to information gleaned here on Saturday. The bill of the arbitrator was paid last week by the Ingledwood Company and the N.B. Electric Commission for the Musquash development have been notified and the arbitrator will be expected to make a counter offer of $25,000.

According to Horace Porter, of the law firm of Porter and Ritchie of this city, who is solicitor for the Ingledwood Company, the $25,000 offer is involved, the commission having taken the water power area including lakes and the surrounding fringe of land. The company claimed severance in addition to the value of the water rights on which they were awarded $25,000. The arbitrator has been delayed because already made surveys with a view of developing the property themselves.

ARBITRATION BEGAN 1924.
Arbitration proceedings first began in 1924 with the late Mr. Justice Chandler as arbitrator. On the death of Judge Chandler, Judge LeBlanc continued the hearings as arbitrator, beginning on November 27, 1924. The proceedings were concluded in January, 1926 and Judge LeBlanc gave notice, in May following, that he was prepared to publish the award. The publication has been delayed because neither party to the dispute felt inclined to pay the costs of the arbitration, which were $10,000.

The Ingledwood Company at the first hearing took the line of full responsibility with respect to the Judge sitting on the case.

Associated with Mr. Porter as counsel for the Ingledwood Company were the late Hon. Wm. Pugsley, K.C., of St. John, and Geo. H. Montgomery, K.C., of Montreal. The commission was represented by Peter J. Hughes, K.C., of Fredericton, and J. D. P. Lewis, of Saint John.

CHIEF INSPECTOR ADVISES VENDORS

Tells Them Liquor License is Only Incidental to Other Business

Applicants for vendorships in the city of Saint John as well as in other parts of the province have received a letter from William L. McFarlane, chief liquor inspector.

The letter to vendors, a copy of which was seen by a Telegram-Journal reporter last evening, reads as follows: "Your application for a vendorship for the coming year having been received, I think it is only just to you to give you warning that the vendor must expect the law, applicable to the sale of intoxicating liquors, be enforced. The vendor cannot reasonably expect to make a living out of the sale of liquor in accordance with the law, and, unless he has some other business in which his vendorship will be merely incidental, he will not be well advised to persist in his application for a license."

I am issuing this warning in order that there will be no misunderstanding and, if, after receiving it, and applicant persists in his application, he will only have himself to blame when he is visited with the penalties of the law for violation.

Yours respectfully,
WM. L. McFARLANE,
Chief Inspector.

The licenses of all vendors in New Brunswick expire at midnight Sunday, Oct. 31.

MANILA, Oct. 25.—Governor General Wood is still incommunicado following his recent operation, but through a member of his staff he indicated that he did not know the date of the expected arrival here of W.
