MAGNIFICENT CUP TO GOVERNOR. An immense silver loving cup of great beauty, the solid silver adorned with gold, is to be presented to His Excellency the Governor General...

29th October, 1923. By reason of its proportions and magnificent design the giant cup is of the most striking character, and it is surely a most fitting and handsome memento of a famous occasion.

There was no survey made on the steamer M. H. Koughaven in Market Slip Saturday, as Captain Fialerton, Lloyd's Norwegian representative, who arrived in the city at noon Saturday from New York, decided that the ship should be placed in the St. John dry dock today so that the surveyors could have an opportunity of inspecting the bottom of the ship...

The original plans for placing the damaged steamer Newtown in the dry dock today have been changed. F. M. Ross, the manager, said last night that he was not quite sure just when the Newtown would dock. This ship has been lying at anchor in Courtney Bay for several weeks, having come to St. John from Halifax, where she had been towed after being liberated from the rocks on the south shore of Nova Scotia a few months ago.

The committee in charge of the parade to take place this afternoon in connection with the opening of the dry dock assembled in the office of Commissioner John Thornton, Prince William street, Saturday evening, when final arrangements for the parade were discussed.

Part of parade to form up in King street east facing Sydney street in the following order: City mounted police, Gyro Club, float and Miss Canada; Pipers Band No. 1 and No. 2 Salvage Corps; Firemen; City Cornet Band; Pythian Sisters; Boy Scouts; Rothery Cadets; Victorian Order of Nurses.

PICKED STRAWBERRIES. Walter J. Logan and S. B. Heans yesterday picked some fine ripe strawberries at Sand Point, on the St. John river, near Mr. Heans' summer home. They also found many strawberry blossoms in the vicinity.

IS VISITING HERE. Mrs. Hiram Humphrey of Cambridge, Queens County, who has been visiting her old home in Canning, N. S., is spending a few days in St. John, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacDonald, Metcalf street, before returning to Cambridge. She had been away from Canning for about seven years since her last visit, and speaks enthusiastically of the valley and the roads.

GIVES SUGGESTIONS ON MEMORIALS

Prof. W. F. Ganong Says Markers Need Not End Monument Erection. Prof. W. F. Ganong, who has always taken a keen interest in historic St. John, and probably is the best living authority on the early history of this city, has written a letter to Mayor Fisher on the subject of monuments to the Loyalists and the La Tour, makes a suggestion, and offers to co-operate in any way to bring about the desired object of having erected some suitable monument to the memory of the city's founders.

Following is the letter:—Smith College, Department of Botany, Northampton, Mass., U. S. A., Oct. 15, 1923. My Dear Mayor Fisher:—I learn from the St. John newspapers that there has been some discussion in the City Council and elsewhere with reference to the relation existing between the former Fort Howe Park plan and the present scheme for marker monuments. I have taken a good deal of interest in this matter from both points of view, and I thought by a monograph, which may be of some use to you, to give my opinion on the subject. It is simply this. There is no relation whatever, in principle, between the marker monuments and the Fort Howe project for a memorial park. These marker monuments, I believe, are not primarily intended to commemorate the events with which they are associated. They are designed simply to show lastingly and effectively the exact spots where historical events occurred, which object involves of course some brief mention of the nature and interest of the events that occurred there. The true commemoration of the events or persons necessitates much more important and formal monuments. Thus, with respect to the marker at the Loyalists' landing place at the foot of King street, its erection there does not seem to me at all to affect the desirability of an effective monument to the Loyalists themselves in relation to the importance of the events in which they participated, and the significance of the part they have played in the development of the province. These things should be expressed by a monument worthy of them, and their place in the British Empire, and it should therefore be one of great dignity and beauty. A most suitable place for it would be on the most prominent part of Fort Howe ridge, overlooking the city they founded, and where it would form the prominent object to catch the eye in the approach to their city from the sea.

LOCAL NEWS. DEATH OF BOY. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Morrissy of 45 Magazine street will be sorry to learn of the death of their son Herman F., which occurred today. He was 11 years old.

THE BIGGEST STEAMSHIP. The Times-Star was asked this morning the exact length of the steamer Majestic, the largest vessel in the world. Her length is 636 feet, width 100 feet.

BLISS CARMAN GIVES READING IN BOSTON. Bliss Carman, poet laureate of Canada, but now a resident of Connecticut, gave a reading from his works at the College Club, Boston, on last Tuesday for the benefit of the International Institute for Girls in Spain. Mr. Carman read some poems of spring, some of them new, the first being "The Spring Call of the Wawabe" and other. In it the "V" of green flying over New England to the Bay of Fundy awakens emotions and perceptions of stillness and immensity. Some flower poems, "The Marigolds" and "The White Iris" introduced a poem written by Mr. Carman in acknowledgement of a book about the peony sent him by a friend. The volume contains a number of medicinal treatises, illustrated by woodcuts on the curative properties of the peony by Arnoldus Villanovus. Mr. Carman's verses expressed his personal formula for the medicinal herb. Other poems which the author said might be called mystical, were about a city on the Gobi desert, supposed to be seen only once in a hundred years, and about the initiation rites of the Chippewa Indians of the Canadian Rockies.

CATHOLIC CEMETERY TO RETAIN NAME

In the Cathedral yesterday morning, a collection was taken up to help defray expenses of improving the Catholic cemetery, including the placing of a fence around the place of burial. The amount will be announced later. In speaking of this matter, His Lordship Bishop Le Blanc, said that he had wished to see to it that the cemetery be given a distinctive name. There was no provision in the Catholic church regulations, he said, for so doing; his predecessors in charge of the cemetery had not done so and it was not his intention to give a name to the burial ground. It would remain as now, plainly the Catholic cemetery.
