Old Country Situation.
London, May 1.—(Canadian Press).—Considerable interest is still being maintained in the league tourney. Arsenal have now made their position secure by defeating Bradford City away from home and the latter team are now condemned to the second division next season. The other Bradford club is at the bottom of the second division and so will pass into the third division, thus establishing a new record of descent from the first to the third division within two seasons. Tottenham Hotspurs are favorites for the position of runners up in the first league. Nottingham Forest are now the certain champions of the second league and are therefore

YESTERDAY IN CITY CHURCHES

Prefacing his sermon at the high celebration of the Holy Eucharist yesterday in the Mission church of St. John Baptist, Paradise row, the priest-in-charge, Rev. J. V. Young, paid a warm tribute to the late Morris V. Paddock, long a trustee and faithful communicant. Father Young spoke of Mr. Paddock's remarkable knowledge of art and literature and of his kindly nature which had made it seem impossible for him to do harm to any person. Father Young said that the local press had splendidly summed up what Morris Paddock was when it described him as "a quiet, gentle Christian gentleman. The day being Good Shepherd Sunday in the Anglican church, Father Young preached an able sermon from the text, "I am the Good Shepherd and know My sheep and am known of Mine."

Rev. Herbert J. Blosse of River Herbert (N. S.), conducted the services in the Ludlow street Baptist church yesterday and led the men's brotherhood class. His addresses were listened to with evident appreciation.

The music in the Portland street Methodist church last night was particularly impressive and was led by a male choir of twenty-five voices. It was the second occasion on which the male choir had appeared in the church, and it has already achieved a splendid reputation. Solos were sung by Samuel Holder, W. McEachern and Leslie Bewick, and the choir leader was A. C. Powers. Rev. H. B. Clarke, the minister, in his sermon, spoke of music and the value of the ministry of praise.

UNION STREET FIRE

Fire early yesterday morning did heavy damage to the stock of Eaton's Bootery, a store in the Opera House Block, and also did some damage to Eaton's repair shop, next door, and to the Opera House office in the second floor. The fire was discovered by Amos Phinney, the Opera House watchman, who was sitting in the office when a gust of smoke shot up alongside him. Policeman Coughlan, who was near at the time, had also smelled smoke and rang in an alarm from Box 12. The fire was blazing in the rear of the Eaton Bootery, near the stage entrance. The blaze ran up the wall to the underflooring of the office. The stock in the store was badly damaged as some shoes in the rear had to be thrown out and the ones in the front were damaged by smoke and water. The damage to the building was confined to the rear and to broken glass in the front. The total loss is several thousand dollars, mostly covered by insurance.

SYSTEMATIC GIVING

An appeal for systematic giving to church needs was made by Rev. J. A. Sweetnam at the evening service in Waterloo street Baptist church yesterday. Rev. Mr. Sweetnam outlined the
