NOTES AND COMMENTS

ELECTRIC RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT.

It is less than thirty years since the first working model of an electric railway was placed on exhibition. Today there are 36,000 miles of electric line in the United States alone. When electricity was first applied to transportation it was confined in the main to street railways in cities. At present there are 10,000 miles of such lines, nearly one-half the steam mileage of Canada, engaged in rural or inter-urban service in the States or the American Union.

Great as is the development which has already taken place along this line little more than a beginning has yet been made. The prediction is made that within a year or two passengers will travel from St. Louis and Chicago to the Atlantic seaboard on trolley cars, eating and sleeping on the way, and in constant touch with their business office by wireless phone.

The trolley of the future seems destined to find one of its most useful spheres in bringing the city and country into closer contact. Steam railways, with their expensive roadbeds, costly equipment, and heavy charges for operation, must necessarily be located at fairly wide intervals. Electric railways, with their low first cost, and limited outlay on operation, may form a network over the whole country adjacent to large centres, without any danger of facilities for transportation overlapping the needs of the business offices. Not only can they offer a cheaper service for certain kinds of traffic than the steam roads, but cars can be run at much more frequent intervals. When this line of enterprise attains its full development the isolation of the farm will be forever at an end on the one hand, and all residents of cities will be brought within easy reach of the open fields of the country on the other. The result will be a material improvement in the physical conditions surrounding people in cities, and in both city and country there will be a broadening of sympathy and a widening of knowledge.

OUR GROWING RAILWAYS.

Canada has more than 23,000 miles of completed railways, built at a cost of more than one billion dollars. In actual railway mileage Canada ranks eighth among the countries of the world, and her mileage per capita is greater than that of any other country. Fully 5,000 miles are now under construction.

THE GERMAN LOSER

In other words, the German rate of money wages per hour is about three-quarters of the English rate, and the cost of rent, fuel and food is nearly a fifth greater than in England. The English laborer's wage, therefore, buys half as much again as the German laborer's wage. Such an authoritative statement will hardly encourage the British workman to vote for food and other tariff taxation.

Not Selling Vote.

Washington, July 31.—The report that I have ever said I would not vote to deliver the labor vote to any political party is an infamous lie, said Samuel Gann, president of the American Federation of Labor.

To Repeal 825 Clause.

Montreal, July 31.—There is a rumor here to the effect that the Government will repeal the 825 entry clause in the immigration laws and that Immigration Agent Scott will at once set three thousand men onto the coast to work on the Grand Trunk Pacific.

A high official last evening would neither confirm or deny the story.

Train Runs Into Gang.

Port William, July 31.—Three men are dead, and a fourth will probably die as a result of a whole gang of men working on the Canadian Pacific double-track work stopping from the south-bound track to avoid a passing work train and stepping directly in front of an east-bound passenger train yesterday morning at Buda.

Fire on Soldiers.

Vignoux, France, July 31.—Vignoux was invaded yesterday morning by several thousand strikers from Paris, carrying red flags and singing socialist songs. While a squadron of cavalry was passing through the streets the crowds stoned the soldiers, and four shots were fired at them.

Pension Bill Goes Through.

London, July 31.—The House of Lords yesterday passed the old-age pensions bill with a number of amendments which will be rejected by the House of Commons. There is little doubt but that the Lords will acquiesce to these objections when the measure is returned to them.

Wife Beaten, Dies.

London, July 31.—George Crow, a Grand Trunk laborer, living near Dorchester, was arrested last Saturday for assaulting his wife and was bailed in the sum of $1,000 to await developments.

Mrs. Crow died yesterday morning, and a jury will investigate the case.

School Treasurer Arrested.

St. Louis, Mo., July 31.—Angus Miller, former secretary-treasurer of Bluff Island school district, was arrested yesterday on a charge of having stolen money from the board, and also with making false entries in his books. His defalcations are placed at $400.

SPORTING NEWS

THE OLYMPIAD

London Advertiser: The Olympic meetings, where the athletes of all nations meet in honorable rivalry, should serve the cause of international goodwill. This hope was voiced by Sir Edward Grey, the British minister of foreign affairs, at the opening of the Olympiad in London, but it has not been furthered by that event. The Associated Press despatches have been full of complaints from American sources of the unfairness of the British managers and judges, there is considerable concern in the comment of a large section of the American press.

It is significant that the Americans appear to be the only fault-finders, and that the despatches reflecting upon British sportsmanship have been furnished exclusively by an American news agency. Baron de Coubertin, president of the International Olympic committee, in a public letter, testifies to the excellence and impartiality of the British management, and avers that reports to the contrary are unfounded. He says he voices the unanimous opinion of the international committee, which presumably includes Americans.

We, in this country, have been led to believe that British fair-play was something more than a phrase, and that it shone particularly in the field of sportsmanship. It will require more evidence than has been forthcoming to convince Canadians that athletes of the United States have been singled out by their kinsmen for unjust treatment. It is to be hoped there will be plenty of impartial testimony to convince the American press and public that they have been misled. The usefulness of the Olympic meetings is at an end if they create international ill-feeling.
