FIRST EDITION. FIRST EDITION. BREAD IS HIGH. NEW CABLE COMPANY.

THE RISE IN THE PRICES OF FLOUR, CORNMEAL, OATS ETC.

An interesting interview on the causes that have brought about the increased prices—Short Crops in the States and a Heavy Demand From Europe.

The Present Condition of the Market and the Future Prospects.

The prices of all sorts of food manufactured from grains have advanced greatly since the opening of this year.

It is not until about eight cents per bushel, which went into effect on Monday, the 27th of April.

It seems to be the opinion of some people that the advance in the price of flour was not sufficient to warrant the bakers in putting up the price of bread a cent per loaf.

But those who are well informed in regard to the condition of the flour and meal markets think differently, for it has been two or three years since the price of flour was as high as it is now—and the prospect is that the price may keep up till autumn.

A Gazette reporter had an interesting interview with Mr. W. Frank Hatheway to-day upon the rise in prices of grain, flour and meal.

Speaking of the section of the bakers in putting up the price of bread Mr. Hatheway said it was only fair to them to state that at the present time they are led to pay for their flour for the last month they could not have made any profit out of the bread they made.

"The advance in the price of flour, since the last of January of this year," Mr. Hatheway "has been about a dollar a barrel. Grades which cost us $4.70 to $4.90 delivered here in January last cost from $3 to $4 per barrel. The price of cornmeal has advanced in the same time about 75 cents per barrel, the price of the mill being $3.95 to $3.90. Oats have almost doubled in price and oatmeal has also taken a big advance."

"What seems to be the reason of such a big advance in the price of flour?" asked the reporter.

"Well, last fall's wheat crop in the United States was one hundred million bushels short of the crop of the previous year, and as a party a consequence of that the holders of wheat in the United States advanced the price of their wheat in the market."

"February much more quickly than did the holders of wheat in Canada. The European purchasers say that for the time being the cheaper market is for them to buy in, and they accordingly bought very heavily in Ontario during the early part of this year."

"New wheat crops in Ontario, Ontario wheat holders find that their stocks are far below what they ought to be at this season to carry them through to the time when the new crop will be available to replenish their supply."

"In addition to that since the last of April reports have come of serious hards to the French crops and the crops in other parts of Europe, and these reports have still further enhanced values in the United States. It is quite possible that the supply in Canada may be very short this year."

EVERYBODY MOVES.

Who has not experienced the trials and tribulations of moving day?

There was a very heavy shortage in last year's crop, and as a result the price of oats has advanced $1.50, having gone up from about 35 to 70 cents per bushel in St. John.

The price of oatmeal has advanced about $1.50 per barrel over last year's price.

In regard to corn it may also be stated that it is claimed that Europe was a heavy buyer of corn in the United States at the lowest prices which existed four months ago, and that the stocks are so much decreased in consequence that some people believe that before the new crop can be used, which will be next December, prices of corn and oatmeal will be even higher than they are now.

Still the fact that holders in the United States are willing to sell corn at about 14 cents a bushel has for September delivery than for May delivery. Many think this is proof of a future decline in the price of cornmeal. At the price of corn it looks as if the mills here were selling at about cost price when they sell at $3.85. They can only afford to sell at this price because they had large stocks on hand when corn went up.
