

SCHOOL CAPS.
JUST RECEIVED SCHOOL CAPS, 25cts.

ENGLISH & AMERICAN
STIFF HATS,
LATEST STYLES.

THORNE BROTHERS,
59 King street.

March 23

Weekly Herald.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 13.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Freeman yesterday published poetry. The world moves.

The salary of the Dominion Auditor will be $3,200.

It is now said that Charles Burpee, M.P., Sunbury Co., will be the next Governor of New Brunswick.

The citizens of St. John paid Mayor Earle a graceful and well-merited compliment by electing him by acclamation for a second term.

It is rumored that a new paper, to be published monthly at the start, is to be published in the Town of Portland. We wish the new enterprise every success.

Members of the Prince Edward Island Assembly have been engaged in administering the Church of England as by law established in that Island.

Peter Mitchell, M.P., Northumberland, N.B., was the recipient of a hand-some testimonial in the form of candy bearing a figure of a bull. Mr. Mitchell is the friend of dumb animals and the poor.

It is said that very damaging revelation have been made before the Chatham Railway Committee, Mr. Burns having shown fully the contradictory nature of Supervisor Meahan's statements in every particular. Meahan was obliged to admit that what he stated was incorrect.

It is pleasant to note that the Attorney General was obliged to accept all the amendments offered by his Worship Mayor Earle before the act to incorporate the St. John River and V. Society could become law. We hope the new blood infused to this society will be the means of making it even more worthy of the respect for which it was established. The Mayor and members of the Common Council, who are now members of the society, should look after its workings carefully as they will be held to a strict account.

We are much pleased to welcome our esteemed contemporary the Charlottetown Herald. Under Mr. Caven's excellent management the Herald has been one of our favorite exchanges. We regard the accomplished editor of the Herald as the most polished and scholarly writer on the Canadian press. The Herald will, we hope, be even more successful in the future than in the past.

The Canadian Spectator, Rev. Mr. Bay's paper, published at Montreal comes to us this week filled with interesting and instructive matter, Rev. Mr. Bay wishes to make the Canadian Spectator an exact copy of its great English namesake. We are glad to note that it treats questions on their merits alone.

We note with regret that Henry Maher, Esq., Town Councillor of Portland, is no longer a member of the Municipal Council, the majority of the Town Council having substituted the name of Conn. Wilson for that of Conn. Maher. While we regret the change for many reasons, we hope that Conn. Wilson will fill the position with the same ability that marked Conn. Maher's occupancy of the position for which you are evidently qualified.

R. F. Quigley, Esq., LL. D., B. C. L., Barrister-at-Law, of this city will, we are informed, deliver his lecture on "Plus IX" a Representative man, in St. Peter's Hall, Portland, to-morrow evening under the auspices of the St. Aloysius Association. Mr. Quigley's lecture was warmly received by his many friends when delivered in St. Malachy's Hall, in this city. Doubtless a crowded house will listen to the same, highly original and interesting lecture in St. Peter's Hall, tomorrow. Admission fee 25 cents. Reserved seats 20 cents.

The members and members of the House of Commons, under the leadership of Hon. Mr. Langeman, preparing a address to the new Pope Leo XIII, on his accession to the Pontifical Throne, are trying to know that Canadians of the Roman Catholic faith are not far behind their fellow-citizens in this respect. The recognition of the papacy is felt throughout the wide world in the fact that a successor is by far the long and illustrious of Roman Popes. It is now seated in the chair of St. Peter, the throne of the pontiffs, and the keys of the church of St. Peter are in his hands. He is the most attractive. They do look improving. Mr. Willis, we imagine, must feel very important and dignified every time he looks at the loving array of alphabetical stragglers arrayed in solid column behind the name of Willis. Some men live for glory, some for money, some for their country's good alone, but the Hon. Edw. Willis, M. P. P. (St. John Co.), M. W. G. M., lives for letters—letters of orange distinctions. The Hon. Edw. Willis, is also a Free Mason, &c., &c.

We learn on excellent authority that it has been shown by the evidence before the Gloucester committee that Mr. Burns furnished the lumber and iron to the Supervisor on the most reasonable terms. Mr. Burns produced a letter from Mr. Meahan, received when he was at Fredericton two years ago, asking him to purchase the iron for him in St. John. The evidence showed that Mr. Burns did nothing wrong, and whatever advances he did make were at the urgent solicitation and order of the Supervisor, and were solely in the interests of Ferguson, Rankine & Co., by the Supervisor, cost two dollars per thousand more than that procured by Mr. Burns.

It is understood that the report of the Committee exonerates Mr. Burns from all blame in the matter, and that his conduct has been honorable and honest. To our mind the whole trouble appears to have originated in the incompetency of the Salvage Corps.

We are pleased to notice that the Catholic Publication Society Company has in press and will publish in May Miss O'Meara's admirable book, "The Life of Frederick Ozanam," one of the founders and the first president of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, an organization of Catholics that has done and is now doing such a vast amount of good among the poor.

The work is got out to the special request of the Superior Council of the Society in York, and every member of the Society ordering the book previous to its publication, May 15, will be entitled to receive it at a very low price.

It would be well for societies or members of the Salvage Corps to purchase equipment, as it would lead to establishing a precedent.

Marshall's Bill, however, meets the difficulty, and it now remains for the Chief Engineer A' Chipman Smith, Esq., and the Common Council to organize and set the corps in motion with the least possible delay.

THE QUEBEC CASE
The great Quebec case of the people against the arbitrary act of a Lieutenant Governor, who lies under the grave suspicion of having sullied his high position by making it the instrument of inflicting a deadly blow at the rights and liberties of the people of the province of Quebec, has been brought to the attention of the Dominion House of Commons. On Thursday, when the motion to go into supply came up, Sir John A. Macdonald moved an amendment that the recent dismissal, by the Lieutenant Governor of Quebec, of his Ministry was, under the circumstances, unwise and suspicious of the position extended to the advisors of Crown sinecure concession of the principle of responsible government to the British North American Colonies. In his speech in support of his amendment, Sir John went very full into the whole constitutional question involved, and answered the suspicions of the Reformers, who appear to be fully won over giving all aid and comfort to their quadrant friend and colleague. Bad precedents—said Sir John A. Macdonald—were exceedingly bad things; much more mischievous than bad legislation, which could be remedied by amending acts. Canada gained responsible government at the point of the bayonet, and yet this question arises. The Lieutenant Governor stands towards the Governor General exactly as the late stands towards the Queen. Those aggrieved in Quebec have the same right to appeal to the Governor General as those with a Dominion grievance would have to appeal to the Hon. President of the Council and the Hon. Commissioner of Public Works, Mr. Kelly. The Government and their ardent sympathizers, Messrs. Marshall, Elder and Ryan, of Albert Co., have made use of every technical and other futile objection, in order to lengthen the sessions of the different Committees on which they are evidently working in the interests of incomplete and unsatisfactory enquiries. It is, indeed, painful to observe the low and degrading length to which gentlemen otherwise honest and honorable in all their dealings, descend when party is at stake. Public morality, public decency, and the welfare of the family in some other way. It is best in these cases to consult the law of God and the voice of conscience, and if the wife finds that her opinion is in keeping with these two things she should not give way, although at other times it is best for her to do so. With regard to their children, parents should be extremely careful, because God looks to them for the salvation of the child with which he has endowed them. And as the church and the society of the next generation will be composed of the children of the present, parents should take good care to see that their children are instructed in all matters of religion, and also that a good education is given them, in order to fit them for their state of life. Again as regards the safety of the family of husband and wife, great caution is necessary, as it should not be done in presence of the children, for by doing so they lower each other in the children's eyes, and thus lose a large amount of their authority. In conclusion, the rev. father said: It is well when a man and his wife are subject to such a husband and wife, therefore if the wife wishes to correct the fault of her husband she should do so when she sees he is best disposed to receive such correction; and if she sees he is getting warm and angry, she should at once throw cold water on the fire of his rising anger, and the best way to do this is by keeping silent.

THE COMMITTEES.

It is probable that the House of Assembly will be prorogued on Monday or Tuesday at the furthest. Considerable anxiety has been manifested by the Government to get business through as speedily as possible. For this purpose the House sat one evening this week without the usual recess for tea. We can hardly understand, except on one supposition, the unseemly haste of the Government and their followers to bring the present session to a close. True, honorable members are more or less anxious to return to their homes and look after their private interests, but we believe there is not one of them who would not be willing to sacrifice another week in Fredericton in the interests of the public. While so much haste is manifested in the regular work of the Assembly, it is something alarming to read of the petty tricks which the party in power had recourse to, in order to check, as far as possible, a thorough and impartial inquiry into certain corrupt transactions charged against the Hon. President of the Council and the Hon. Commissioner of Public Works, Mr. Kelly. The Government and their ardent sympathizers, Messrs. Marshall, Elder and Ryan, of Albert Co., have made use of every technical and other futile objection, in order to lengthen the sessions of the different Committees on which they are evidently working in the interests of incomplete and unsatisfactory enquiries.

It is, indeed, painful to observe the low and degrading length to which gentlemen otherwise honest and honorable in all their dealings, descend when party is at stake. Public morality, public decency, and the welfare of the family in some other way. It is best in these cases to consult the law of God and the voice of conscience, and if the wife finds that her opinion is in keeping with these two things she should not give way, although at other times it is best for her to do so. With regard to their children, parents should be extremely careful, because God looks to them for the salvation of the child with which he has endowed them. And as the church and the society of the next generation will be composed of the children of the present, parents should take good care to see that their children are instructed in all matters of religion, and also that a good education is given them, in order to fit them for their state of life. Again as regards the safety of the family of husband and wife, great caution is necessary, as it should not be done in presence of the children, for by doing so they lower each other in the children's eyes, and thus lose a large amount of their authority.

In conclusion, the rev. father said: It is well when a man and his wife are subject to such a husband and wife, therefore if the wife wishes to correct the fault of her husband she should do so when she sees he is best disposed to receive such correction; and if she sees he is getting warm and angry, she should at once throw cold water on the fire of his rising anger, and the best way to do this is by keeping silent.

To make a home-made telephone take a wooden tooth-powder box and make a hole about the size of a half-crown in the lid and the bottom. Take a disk of tin and place it on the outside of the bottom of the box, and fix the cover on the other side of it. Then take a small bar-magnet; place one end a small cotton or silk reel, and round the reel mind some iron wire, and round the ends loose. Fix one end of the magnet near the disk, and then part the wires so that they will not touch the disk.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire

and wrap it around the middle of the magnet.

Take a piece of wire and wrap it around

the middle of the magnet, and then twist

the ends together. Take a piece of wire