They claimed derful river St. Lawrence will lie the they wanted redressed. They claimed what they had not received all the lands allotted to them for Indian reserves by Sir James Douglas, and they also asked for the removal of restrictions on their hunting and fishing.

Sir Wilfrid replied that he would have their reports looked into by the department. Subsequently Chief Capilano, the moving spirit of the delegation, called upon Mr. Pedley, deputy superntendent of Indian affairs, in connection with this matter. He was asked by Mr. Pedley for particulars of the land which the Indians said had been taken from them, but the chief was wholly unable to furnish any evidence. Chief Capilano was informed that nothing could be done by the government unless he was able to show where the land had been taken from them. left for the West last night without having seen the Governor-General, who has been absent from the city and
