Is the Verdict of the Jury in the Al eged Tucker Murder Case.

tion of W. F. Best's evicence, showing that he found strychnine in the stomach and other organs. W. P. Jones opened for the defence after the noon adjournment. He proposed to show that the deceased, Minnie Tucker, did not die from strychnine poisoning, and that if strychnine was found it was administered atter her death, in a way he would point out afterwards. D. Rankin was the first witness. He had never seen an actual case of poisoning by strychnine, but was acquainted with the symptoms from the authorities. The throw-ing was due to the strength of the muscles of the back over the other muscles. There was in acute cases of Bright's disease a phase during which the patient was apt to be sud-denly seized with convulsions. Exposure and cold would have a tendency to bring on such an attack, which might come very sud-denly. There were certain drugs used for criminal abortions, which would certainly tend to hasten such a disease. To the judge-If I found on a post mortem, strychnine in the organs, i would have little hesitation in saying death resulted there-trom.

hesitation is saying death resulted there-from. The judge-Knowing what you do of the evidence given here, what would you think caused this woman's death? Dr. Rankin-If you will excuse me, I would prefer not to answer this question. Continuing, to the attorney general-If strychnine were taken in ginger, the bitter-ness of the taste could hardly be disguised. Half a day would be a short time in which a person would die from acclampsia, the acute kidney disease referred to. Dr. Hand said in czese of strychnine pois-oning there might be foaming at the mouth. The face become livid, head thrown back and the heels. It is very hard to disguise the bitter taste of strychnine. In a case of acclampsia which he attended, the patient spoke to him after the second convulsion, but not after the subsequent convulsion, but not after the subsequent convulsion, but not afters finished the case for the de-fence. In addressing the jury Mr. Jones denied

This evidence finished the case for the de-fence. In addressing the jury Mr. Jones denied that death was the result of strychnine. There were symptoms which nature asso-clated with death from strychnine which were antirely absent. The doctors spoke of the arching of a body, backward, while in this case the curling up of the body of the de-ceased was testified to. Other symptoms were inconsistent with strychnine poisoning, for instance, the apparent absence of rigor nortis when the body of the deceased rigor nortis when the body of the deceased was dressed. He suggested the possibility of a mistaken analysis, and touched upon the oarelessness of the doctors in the post mor-tem examination, as to the vessels in which they placed the organs. In a certain form of Bright's disease, in which symptoms were such as with Minnie Tucker, a woman, pregnant, might be carried away very sud-denly. There was a possibility of strychwere such as with Minnie Tucker, a woman, pregnant, might be carried away very sud-denly. There was a possibility of strych-nine being inserted after death. With regard to the evidence of Mrs. Vicars and Mrs. Car-roll, there was evidently not a friendly feel-ing between them and the prisoner. The latter kept company with Pat Canovan and afterwards broke it off. If it were admitted that Minnie's death resulted from strych-nine, it was consistent to believe that she took it nerself, perhaps thinking it would procure the abortion, which the brown pow-der she was taking failed to do. Mr. Jones will finish his address tomorrow and the case will probably be to the jury after dinner.

Mrs. Tucker and Patrick Canavan are outh locked up in jail, in view of their con-nection with the case. WOODSTOCK, N. B., May 1.-Just before midnight Chief Justice Tuck was notified that the jury in the alleged Tucker murdering case had agreed upon a verdict. The jury had retired about 4 o'clock. About an hour afterwards they filed in and one of them was enlightened as to the result of the chemical analysis on one part of the organs. Before the half-past six adournment the jurors again came care is to be seen. in and told the judge that they did not agree and saw little chance of being able to agree. His honor said that in view of the importance of the case he did not feel justified in dismissing them. He would come up from the hotel at any time to hear their verdict before 12 o'clock. If they did not then agree he must insist that they be locked up until Monday morning. The jury notified the judge at the time mentioned above that they. had agreed and found the prisoner not guilty. With respect to the judge's mitting none to their society and charge, it was remarked by all that friends Mp who must "sow their wild the verdict was very fair, but it was oats" (as the saying is) at one time, plain that it was impressed with the evidence addressed by the crown. A PLEA FOR THE "Y's."

A story is told of a famous artist whose pupil had presented a picture which he hoped might merit his master's praise. With critical gaze the artist viewed the work and wrote across it the single word "Amplius." Too mean had been the conception of the would-be-artist; too restrictive were the lines, narrowing the subject which stretched out so magnificently in perspective. "Amplius"-wider-has been written cross every department of our work, which stretches out before us with such grand possibilities, but upon the "Y" department it stands out in "living letters," for it is so full of interest to us all. It affects our future as much as our present, and we wonder why every heart is not enlisted in this "Y" work-why there are not more "Y" unions organized, extending the work "which is good and good only." Why should we try to extend the "Y" department of our work ? There are three good reasons among the many. The W. C. T. U. needs the "Y's"-the "Y's" need the work, and the work needs them.

Miss Scott, dominion superintendent of "Y" work, says: "A wise comman-GIVES NEW BLOOD, NEW ENERGY hold so dear if others are not being

It was a grand day when the representatives of the European governments met at Geneva to arrange and sign a treaty that all nurses, from whatever country, wearing the badge they agreed upon should be treated as neutrals and go unmolested upon the battlefields, caring for the wounded, ministering to the dying, and in every way lessening the suffering of those who had fallen. AND NEW LIFE FOR A

NEW SEASON,

Trinity church school room. His Lordship Bishop Kingdon was in the chair. The meeting opened with prayer by Ven. Archdeacon Brigstocke, followed by a hymn. His lordship said in opening that on his return from England last year he had felt that something must be done owing to the withdrawal of part of the grant to the diocese by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. They were not so fortunately situated as the diocese of Quebec under like circumstances. That diocese had been quite easily able owing to special circumstances to meet the deficiency caused by withdrawal of the S. P. G. grant. The diocese of Fredericton had to face a deficit, and he had brought the whole matter to the attention of the committee of the Diocesan Church society. At the suggestion of the committee, he had filled the various vacant missions, with one exception, and even it now had occasional services, and he had trusted the lafty to back him up. There were now practically no vacant missions. Reference was made to the work in the various missions. His lordship made special reference to Fredericton Junction mission, where he had not long ago confirmed eighteen persons. The lafty had pledged him support in his work of filling up the missions, and in order to let them know just what had been done and what was needed, he had appointed Ven. Archdeacon Neales, Rev. O. S. Newnham and Rev. H. Montgomery to visit the different sections of the diocese. Their work was being well done. This meeting was called to hear their report. The whole of their work was not yet done, but the gratitude of all churchmen was due these three gentlemen for giving their time and efforts so heartily and so successfully to the work. Rev. H. Montgomery was then called on, and gave an interesting address. It costs, he said, $27,832 to carry on the missionary work in the diocese and there is only an income of $25,517. The latter is made of S. P. G. fund, $2,860; from investments, $4,528; contributions from aided missions, $14,129; from self-supported missions, $3,700; children's mission fund, $300: total, $25,517. The deficiency of $2,315 is not due to a falling off in contributions by the church people in the diocese. The church in New

British diplomacy suffers from exactly the same narrowness and con-ceit which have reduced China to such humiliating impotence. We might go father, and express the hope that an actual physical collision with some great rival power might convince English statesmanship of the danger of selfishness and pride. The notion of world-domination must be abandoned. Let England indicate what, in virtue of logical necessity, should go to her, and let her allow others to appropriate the rest in peace. England could not hope to grab all and keep it, for there is no naval or military LINGLISH. LONDON, April 29.-The liberal leader, Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, arraigned the weak policy of the Marquis of Salisbury in the far east in the house of commons this "open door" policy, through Germany ob-taining preferential privileges on the Shan-Tung peninsula, while Great Britain had made an undignified retreat in the Ta-Lien-wan affair. Germany and Russia, the speaker contended, had both scored at the expense of Great Britain. The Hoeral leader was listened to by a full house, and great interest is attached to the debate, in view of the intense dissatis-raction feit at the government's policy among its followers and by the conservative news-papers.

THREE MONTHS ON THE ROCKS. The efforts of the Glasgow Salvage Associ-ation in their attempts to float the s. s. Ba-thori from her uncomfortable position on the rocks near Portpatrick—which she has occupied for about three months—has at last been crowned with success, and the steam-er has been beached near Stranzer. With what feelings must Mesers. Wigham Rich-ardson & Co. regard this sample of their work, which for the three winter months has withstood the battering of the waves on a rocky coast? MOTOR CARS IN JAPAN.

Another sign of the constant process of Oc-oldensation (to coin s. word) that is going on in Japan, was afforded yesterday afternoon, when a motor carriage, propelled by petro-leum, and occupied by about half a dozen Europeans — Frenchmen apparetly-came careering swiftly alongside the Hibira par-ade ground in Tokio. As a further sign of the times it may be added that the appear-ance of the new-fangled vehicle drew little if any notice from the passers by.-Japan Weekly Times.

the S. P. G. grant. He hoped that the time would soon come when the church would be able to meet its obligations in respect to missions without any aid at all from abroad. But the $2,315 does not represent the whole amount that must be raised. It will soon be $5,000 if the work of the church is to be carried on. There is reduction of income due to the decreased rate of interest ion invest-

Mr. Montgomery told of the cordial reception he had received in all parts of the deanery of Chatham, which had given and pledged over $500. He also spoke of Shellac, St. Andrews and other places, and said if the laymen in St. John responded as those in the county parishes are doing the $5.000 and more woud be raised. Rev. O. S. Newnham told of his work in the deanery of St. John, and pointed out the various difficulties in the way of misunderstandings and misconceptions that have to be clear-ed up. He showed what the various St. John parishes gave last year. 'As the annual collections had not yet been taken up he could not say what the result of present efforts would be, but he had been presented voluntarily. with one or two checks, in which the donors doubled their contributions, and had met with a good deal of encouragement. There ought to be some way by which every member of the church in the discess could be reached and asked personally to contribute to the funds for the mission work of the church. Much greater results would be secured. He pointed out that the funds are administered by a commit-tee that has eighteen laymen to ten clorgymen, and he also made clear some other points concerning which he had found that erroneous views were held by some.

Bishop Kingdon noted the fact that the proportion of communicants to members of the church in this diocese, which was seven per cent. some twenty-five years ago, is now twenty per cent. This showed that the vitality of the church has greatly increased in that period.

in that period. Archbishop Noales described his visits to the deaneries of Kingston, Fredericton and Woodstock. He was in every place most cordially received, and was confident that the contribu-tions would show a good general repronse. He went over in detail the varicus points which he had brought to the attention of the people, and concluded with a vigorous appeal for support to this important branch of the church work.

Ven. Archdeacon Brigstocke, in a brief speech, moved a vote of thanks to that three delegates, which was sec-onded by Thos. McAvity and adopted. A hymn and the benediction brought the interesting meeting to a close.

The Village Blacksmith's Song-Years of Pain - But South American Rheu-matic Cure Welded the Link Which Binds Him to Good Health Again.

This is what J. H. Gadbois, Blacksmith Arnprior, Ont., says: "I was a great sufferer from acute theumatism. I used many remedies without relief. I was induced to try South American Rheumatic Cure. The first dose helped me, and before I had used half the bottle I was greatly benefitted. It has cured me, and I beartily recommend it to all sufferers from rheumatism."
