The Hampton ladies served a substantial tea in picnic style in the Curling Rink to the hungry players, who heartily partook of the good things provided. Being thus refreshed, the opening chords of a fine piano intimated to those present that they were expected to select partners for a dance, and thenceforward, as long as the secular week permitted, they tripped "the light fantastic" to their hearts' content. It was a most enjoyable occasion not only to the cricketers and their immediate friends, but also to the many invited guests who were present.

There were three deaths here yesterday and one funeral, the latter of a child belonging to Lemont Nowell, who had been suffering with cholera infantum for about a week. The deaths were an infant son of Patrick Odell, who had been subject to epileptic fits; Mrs. Albert Smith, daughter of Mrs. Titus, who lives near the Methodist church, and an old woman named McClary, who lived in a house down the road to Lakeside. Mrs. Smith's home is at Smithtown, and she had been spending a few days with her mother when stricken down with a malady which ended her life on Friday morning. These bereaved families have the sympathy and condolence of the whole community.

A party of tennis players from here went to Sussex on Friday afternoon to play a mixed match game, which resulted in favor of the visitors. Visitors will not need to have their attention called to the new sidewalk between the Station and Village, for it is very much in evidence, especially at the Station end, where a large amount of stone work has been done, hollow filled up and a fine cinder path five feet wide made for two-thirds of a mile. The work has been under the circumspection of Roadmaster Gilliland, who has so far made a capital job of it.

A number of visitors from St. John are returning to their homes, but their places are being taken by new arrivals. The Vendome hotel has received last week that accommodations had to be found for some of the guests outside.

Deans, F. J. G. Knowlton, H. D. McLeod, J. L. McAvity, A. W. Sharp, W. B. Skellern, W. G. H. Waterbury. The first and third degrees were worked in a highly efficient manner; one new member was initiated and one reinstated. After this and other formal business had been transacted the visitors were pleasantly entertained by the members of the lodge, refreshments were served and some hours spent in the delivery of speeches, singing, recitations and social converse. Before separating a hearty vote of thanks was extended by the visitors to Corinthian lodge for the hospitality accorded, and everybody expressed themselves as having spent a most enjoyable evening, which, however, had advanced well on into the early hours of the morning before the final adieu was said.

Among the strangers who have visited Hampton during the past few days the following registered at the Vendome hotel: D. E. C. Booth, Boston, Mass.; J. E. Kelly, Boston; W. B. Bishop, Montreal; H. Clifton, London, Eng.; James Barnes, M. P. P., Buc-touche; G. W. Campbell, J. A. Mar-sen, Douglas W. Church, John H. McDonald and Smith Dinges, all of St. John.

Among those who have joined the harvesters for the Northwest are Lemuel Barnes and William Lawrence of this place. There was also a party of young men from Smithtown and another from St. Martins. The interest awakened by seeing the immense crowds upon the three special trains that passed through from the east on Saturday night has induced a number of others to take the trip with the next party going out.

Mrs. McCurdy, mother of S. G. McCurdy of the Vendome hotel, is reported to be in a poor state of health.

SACKVILLE, N. B., Aug. 16.—Another addition to the staff of the Mt. Allison Ladies' College has been made in the person of Miss Florence Pratt of Delta, Ohio, who takes the place of piano teacher in place of Miss C. M. Perkins, who resigned about midsummer. Miss Pratt studied music in Toledo, being a pupil of Zwili-gner, and she is a public performer to her and her husband. She afterwards went abroad, where she studied six months in Vienna under Leschetizky, and one year in Leipzig under Dr. Krause. Miss Pratt has had six years' experience as a teacher, and speaks of as being one of marked ability, thorough, conscientious, faithful and efficient in her work. Dr. Krause speaks of her as being very talented.

Miss Pratt gave a public performance at Leipzig in January of this year, and a leading Leipzig paper, which is very conservative in its musical criticism, said of her: "Miss Pratt's technical accomplishments are already very considerable. Her scales she plays with surprising smoothness and evenness, her trills are beautifully formed; her touch is of exceptional power. Her English has much taste in rhythm and for energetic accentuation, both of which are noticeable with fine effect in Liszt, Beethoven, and in the 12th Rhapsody. The D minor Toccata and Fugue by Bach Tausig was rendered by Miss Pratt with great clearness, great volume and with technical superiority. She has pronounced herself for music as well as for the science of it."

It may be remarked that Leschetizky, under whom Miss Pratt studied in Vienna, was the trainer of Paderewski, and takes only pupils of exceptional talent. Miss Laura Jean Newman, who received the Victoria Diploma from Mt. Allison in 1898, is now the pupil of this celebrated teacher.

SUSSEX.
 Letter from a St. John Man Now in South Africa.

SUSSEX, Aug. 15.—Dr. A. B. Teakles, who has been practicing dentistry in Richibucto and Albert, will return on the 29th and will go in partnership with Dr. S. H. Langstroth of this place.

The following letter has been received in Sussex from a St. John man now in the S. A. C. South Africa, dated Rookepoort, Transvaal, S. A., July 4, 1901:

We were at Heidelberg, the headquarters of the eastern division S. A. C., for about seven weeks; it is a pretty little place, about half the size of Sussex, a busy place, enormous quantities of supplies being handled all the time, trains as thick as bees; they are beginning to run nights now; things are getting more safe; seldom a train is wrecked the way things are, as the line is guarded every few miles. Have just been here, five miles from Rookepoort station, two weeks; it is a pretty lonesome place, nothing but a house and barn on the valley, or a big farm with nothing but wheat and corn. We were pretty sure of seeing some fighting in this place; we have taken every precaution, dug trenches, built barbed wire entanglements, etc., but never the Dutchman has come near—guess they must have known who was here. Now after getting all settled we have orders to move again. We have all our provisions at Rookepoort station and expect to start tomorrow morning, but don't know exactly where, some say between Springs and Nigel, some say we are going one hundred and fifty miles above Pretoria to join Blood's column. Which ever place we go we have to be sure to see some fighting. Every man appears to be anxious for I had a good time while in Heidelberg, but had some pretty hard work, the S. A. C. men are made to do a good deal more than a soldier would do. I spent two months in the hospital at Elandsfontein and one week at convalescent camp, was treated for debility, run down after the long trip. We only started for here in Cape Town, then started for Heidelberg, over 1,000 miles by rail, in open trucks; it took six days. Elandsfontein is a great mining place, nothing but mines, gold and coal, and a little old forges. It is eight miles from Johannesburg. We are about fifteen miles from Johannesburg. As soon as the war is over I am going to try and get out of this mining life and go to Johannesburg. It is a big city. The S. A. C. is not what was expected. Very few are satisfied with it. Geo. Chapman held his rank as sergeant. The weather has been very good, but not great, only a few days of rain. I have been out when on outpost duty; days are nice. We had some good sport on July 1st, my first day on horse back. The troop has only about 25 horses yet.

A CHIEF ADVERTISEMENT.
 The Nova Scotia press will probably remember the Berwick camp meeting management next year, when they receive two complimentary tickets signed J. M. F., and reminder of the date of that religious gathering. A Courier representative who was refused admission to the grounds because he was not the editor of the paper, and the proprietor of the Hants Journal, one of the best conducted papers in the province, who was refused admission to the grounds last Sunday, are among the same gentlemen who will likely be asked to "buff" the affair next year.—Digby Courier.
