The Standard Coal and Railway Co. have now reached a depth of more than 2,200 feet in their boring at Half-Way River. P. R. for a wedding tour in the provinces. The bride's traveling dress was blue moiré, with a green trimmed straw hat. ENGLAND AND FREE TRADE. Anglo-Canadian Quotes English Working Men as Opposed to Mr. Chamberlain.

To the Editor of the Sun: Sir.—May I call your attention to one more piece of evidence as to English opinion on the present controversy for it is with English opinion and English policy alone, that I have to do. I have quoted the views of that group of statesmen led by the Duke of Devonshire, the man under whom, in 1888, Lord Salisbury was willing to have taken subordinate office. Then I quoted the words of Lord Rothschild, a Pierpont Morgan with far larger resources and far cleaner hands than an English citizen. And now I desire to quote the voice of the British workman. At the Trades Union Congress recently held, some very outspoken opinions were uttered on political subjects, and a notable report of the Montreal Star says: "Both the house of lords and the house of commons were heartily denounced as the rich man's assemblies, while the administration of the country was proclaimed as a rich man's pastime. Mr. Balfour was sneered at as a vacillating nonentity, and Mr. Chamberlain was hissed as the workman's arch enemy, but when John Ward of the Navy, after condemning militarism and conscription, declared that at present the king himself was the only statesman England possessed, and the only real friend of peace, the congress of trade unionism cheered again and again, and gave the speaker quite an ovation as he sat down."

The above quotation is not infallible, whether he speaks in England, Australia or Canada. His policy in Australia, where his party obtained a temporary majority was disastrous, and he has not only failed to regard general interests, but the workingman, if he cannot see far, sees clear for a little distance. He knows what he wants, and he is no longer an excellent quality and harder than any other coal in that part of the country, which lays almost level.

C. E. Edgett, who left Moncton with a mounted police contingent four or five years ago, is home for the winter. He bought his release as he was well known to the men who received. He says the first two or three years the men were used all right, but new officers with a political or some other pull, came in and the men were not so well treated. As a result many deserted and those who could bought their release. Mr. Edgett thinks of going west again next spring.

ELECTION NOT FIXED YET. OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—Pressure of business prevented a meeting of the cabinet today but it is thought the meeting will be held tomorrow. The impression that there is to be an early dissolution has become a settled conviction. The dissolution, however, will not occur before the 28th inst., as his excellency, Lord Minto, will not return to the capital till that date. It is therefore quite possible that the election may be held the first week in November.

THE QUARTERLY MEETING OF CENTENARY AND QUEEN SQUARE GETTING READY FOR THE COMING SHIFT. The quarterly board of Centenary church was in session Tuesday and adjourned until Friday next. Among the clergymen whose names are being considered are: Rev. Dr. Sprague, of Queen Sq. Methodist church; Rev. J. Rogers, of Fredericton; Rev. W. V. Lodge, of Charlottetown, and Rev. Messrs. Weddell and Hearts, of the Nova Scotia conference.

Queen Square Methodist church also held its regular quarterly meeting Monday and adjourned it until the next quarter. Nothing very important was discussed, but at the next meeting the subject of a new pastor will have to be discussed, as Rev. Dr. Sprague's term is nearly up.

A MONCTON TRAGEDY.

Two Men Dead as the Result of Drinking Wood Alcohol.

MONCTON, Sept. 12.—George Govang and James Fairweather, who went on a spree yesterday with two companions named George Dryden and William Cummings, lie dead at their homes in this town, victims of the effects of drinking wood alcohol.

Yesterday Dryden, Govang, Fairweather and Cummings purchased alcohol together about eighty-five cents' worth of wood alcohol at a drug store, and started in to make merry. The last fifty cents' worth was purchased by Dryden at Steeves' drug store. The clerk refused him pure alcohol without a prescription and he took wood alcohol instead.

No ill effects were felt from the fluid until this morning, when Govang and Fairweather awoke to realize that their friends thought little of this sickness, supposing it to be an ordinary drunk, but towards night both men showed signs of sinking. Doctors were called, but both men were too far gone. Govang died in convulsions about nine o'clock and Fairweather pronounced dead due to wood alcohol.

Fairweather belongs to Sussex and moved here a short time ago. He is 50 years old and leaves a wife and eight children. Govang was a brother-in-law of Dryden and worked with him at the painting shop at a drug store.

Dryden and Cummings kept up the spree all today and tonight. As wood alcohol has not taken full effect on their fate is unknown. Both of them are sober enough to realize the error of their companions and their own precarious condition. Cummings is an I. C. R. employe and has served as special officer on the Moncton police force.

LATER. MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 13.—Dryden was kept on the move all last night and this morning says he is feeling much better although the effect of the poison is still upon him. Cummings was the least affected of any and is all right this morning. The coroner will hold an inquest on the bodies of the two men who died.

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 13.—Coroner Purdy this afternoon held an inquiry into the cause of death of James Fairweather and George Govang, who died in 1888, Lord Salisbury was willing to have taken subordinate office. Then I quoted the words of Lord Rothschild, a Pierpont Morgan with far larger resources and far cleaner hands than an English citizen. And now I desire to quote the voice of the British workman. WELL DIGGER IN KENT COUNTY HAD LUCK. —I. C. R. Man Badly Hurt.

MONCTON, Sept. 14.—Fred Nickerson, night brakeman on one of the I. C. R. shuttlers, had one of his feet badly crushed while at work early this morning. His foot caught a frog and the wheel of the car passed over it, amputating part of the foot. Nickerson is a son of Con. John Nickerson and had only been on the road a few months.

Widder Corner while digging a well on his place, about a mile from Notre Dame Station, in Cocagne, Kent Co., sixteen feet down, struck a seam of coal eleven inches thick and a foot lower down another seam of coal and part clay. Under this was two feet of a white clay. Mr. Cormier, who is a blacksmith, says the coal is of excellent quality and harder than any other coal in that part of the country, which lays almost level.

BOSTON NEWS.

Politics Cause Very Little Excitement as Yet.

Nova Scotia Woman Killed Herself —Man Looking for a Pardon.

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—The city has been enjoying some July weather this week which has the reverse effect to many people who had hurried home from the north on account of the cool evenings and frosty mornings. The heat was soon tempered by a brisk thunder storm late in the afternoon.

The political situation commands only a moderate amount of attention as yet. There is an entire absence of anything approaching excitement, and most people prefer to talk in politics. Surface indications are in favor of Mr. Roosevelt, even with his probable failure to carry New York, his own state, and his prospects in the west and in the west and is expected to make almost a clean sweep in that section.

Outside of New York he has few enemies, and in the country at large his well known independence is in his favor. Judge Parker personally is a type of citizen with which no fault can be found with reason, and he is popular wherever known, but unfortunately for him he is a total stranger to the people of most every state except his own (New York). The great body of independent voters which holds the balance of power in many states are not in love with the republican party, but the memories of the last democratic administration and the wave of ruin which followed its wake are still far from dead and may swing to Mr. Roosevelt many unwilling voters.

Stephen O'Meara, formerly editor of the Boston Journal and director of the Associated Press, is a candidate for the republican nomination for congress against the Canadian red-tape proctory champion in the seventh Massachusetts district. Mr. O'Meara is a native of Charlottetown.

J. C. L. Soderquist, formerly of New Brunswick, who is serving a sentence in the state prison for assaulting Miss Eva Crockett, a Nova Scotia school teacher visiting here in 1902, is petitioning for a pardon. Soderquist is in good favor, and there is evidence to show that it was possible for a mistake to have been made.

Charles Graham Bishop of Lynn and Miss Maud Beatrice Kinney of Bridgewater, N. S., were married at Westfield on Aug. 5. The groom is a native of Nova Scotia.

The engagement is announced of Dr. J. R. G. Grandon of Boston and Miss Anne Lawton of St. John.

Mrs. F. Parsons of Dorchester, formerly Miss Jessie Annie Harlow of Pictou, N. S., committed suicide in her husband's printing office yesterday by swallowing gas. She had been suffering from melancholia for some time and wanted to kill her. The body was found by her husband, Mrs. Parsons was 45 years of age and leaves two children.

Edward H. Robertson, assistant chemist in the Massachusetts experiment station at Amherst, Mass., died on Sunday, aged 30 years. He was a native of Newcastle, N. B. The body was forwarded to that place today.

Among other well known provincialists were the following: In Dorchester, Sept. 6, Mrs. Alice K. Robertson, widow of Duncan Robertson of St. John; in Cambridge, Mrs. Mary Halsey, formerly in Somerville, Sept. 8, Earl Percy Cline, son of E. Percy Cline, aged 12 years, formerly of St. John; in this city, Miss Charlotte Hammersley, aged 14 years, native of this city; in Houlton, Sept. 8, John Drummond, aged 64 years, formerly of New Brunswick; in this city, George W. Fletcher, aged 74 years, formerly of St. John.

Stella Larsen, wife of Robert G. Larsen, a well known newspaper man of this city, died at her home in Sharon yesterday. She had been in ill health about a year. Mrs. Larsen was the daughter of Caleb Belyea of St. John. Her husband and four children survive her.

Philip W. Moeen, a millionaire wire manufacturer of Worcester, who died last night, was for many years a lessee of salmon fishing privileges in New Brunswick.

It is expected a memorial service will be held by friends of the late Rev. Dr. George Loring, sometime pastor of Tremont Temple (Baptist) here. Dr. Loring's congregation consisted of hundreds of provincialists.

MRS. ROBERT ANDERSON DEAD. The death occurred at Armstrong's Corner, Queens county, on Monday of the wife of Robert Anderson, after an illness of only one week. The case is a very sad one, as the deceased lady had only been married three weeks and was taken ill while on her wedding journey. Mrs. Anderson was a daughter of the late Thos. McNutt of Tay settlement. In this county, and leaves besides her husband four brothers and five sisters to mourn their loss. The remains were taken to Tay settlement, where the interment will take place today.

N. B. UNIVERSITY. FREDERICTON, Sept. 13.—This year's freshman class at the university numbers between forty and fifty students. Only about twelve of these are taking the art course, the remainder having entered in the engineering department. It is strong evidence of the practical education and not theoretical is what is demanded by the people of the day.

SUICIDE AT AMHERST. AMHERST, N. S., Sept. 13.—The morning between five and six o'clock Abel Smith, prosperous and respected farmer, succumbed by shooting at his home, Trumanville, ten miles from Amherst. His family of two sons and two daughters knew he had been dependent, particularly during the past fortnight, but never thought of his taking his life. He had loaded the gun on the previous day. Placing the muzzle below the left eye he discharged the piece and death must have been instantaneous. Dr. Dias of Amherst held an inquest, when the jury found a verdict of death by suicide. He was twice married. His second wife died a year ago and he lost a brother more recently. Bereavements which he felt very much. N. B. UNIVERSITY. FREDERICTON, Sept. 13.—This year's freshman class at the university numbers between forty and fifty students. Only about twelve of these are taking the art course, the remainder having entered in the engineering department. It is strong evidence of the practical education and not theoretical is what is demanded by the people of the day.
