A week or two ago a very brilliant reception was given in Los Angeles, which may be of interest to Frooress readers. It was given by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bilnn, in honor of their son, Irving L. Bilnn, and his wife, who was formerly Miss Genevieve Nannary, of this city, and whose marriage, it will be remembered, took place a month or two ago. The reception was not a most magnificent scale, and there were over five houdred names on the guest list. The following will give some idea of the beau y of the decorations. The bostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. T. D. Silmson, Mrs. Williard Silmson, Mrs. J. H. F. Peck, Mrs. C. B. Jones, Misses Goodbue and Miss Florence-Joues. Mrs. Bilnn, sr., wore an edgant gown of palest like brocaled satin, deni trained, with garniture of irredescent pearl passementrie. Mrs. Irving L. Bilnn (nee Nannary) wore her lovely weeding gown of cream satin with garniture of cream childon. Delightful music was rendered under the care of Mrs. Bancroit. The reception room was in brivial white, the bride and groom standing beneath a pair of white doves suspended under the care of Mrs. Bancroit. The reception moom was in brivial white, the bride and groom standing beneath a pair of white doves suspended two other doves at either side. White sweet peas and fragrant mandevillias, with matche hair feru, were used in great profusion about the room. The front drawing room was filled with pink carnations and reathery "baby breath." massed upon the mantel about the chandlier and overflowing huge Indian baskets. The reception shall was pretty with dabins and trails of pink clematis. In the back trawing room was filled with pink carnations and reathery "baby breath." massed upon the mantel about the chandlier and overflowing huge Indian baskets.
