Mrs. Ogden Mills. Despatches from Newport, N. J., America's most fashionable summer resort, report that a bitter rivalry exists between Mrs. Ogden Mills and Mrs. John R. Drexel over the social leadership of the Newport-New York set.

MOROCCAN SITUATION

British Admiralty Understood to be Holding Vessels Ready for Emergency Service—Lloyd George Stirred Trouble

London, July 25.—The Moroccan difficulty has become acute as indicated in the sudden order issued by the Admiralty today cancelling the projected visit of the Atlantic fleet to Norway. The battleship squadron under Rear Admiral Sir John R. Jellicoe should have left Cromarty tonight for Norwegian waters. Instead, it has been ordered to remain at Cromarty until Friday and then proceed to Portsmouth.

It is also reported that the crews of several ships of the Home Fleet have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for emergency service. Premier Asquith has promised a statement in parliament on Thursday on the Moroccan situation. According to advices received from Berlin, the Moroccan situation is a very delicate one. It is also reported that the crews of several ships of the Home Fleet have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for emergency service.

DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT COME BEFORE NEXT WEEK

He was not demanding the publication of confidential information on naval and military matters, but as there was no question that occurred which might modify the action taken by parliament in 1905, it should be the opinion that it was intended to withhold the reports from the House until after the election. Meanwhile, the Ministerial organ in Montreal, was publishing statements that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had performed various feats, such as the establishment of the Canadian navy.

SUDDEN DEATH OF WELL KNOWN DOCTOR

Dr. L. J. Belliveau of Shediac Passed Away Yesterday After an Illness of But a Few Days.

Special to The Standard. Shediac, July 25.—The death occurred this morning about 8 o'clock of Dr. L. J. Belliveau, one of Shediac's most prominent and highly respected citizens. The doctor had been in failing health for some months and early in May, accompanied by Mrs. Belliveau, he had taken a trip to England and France in the hope that the change might benefit his health. He returned about ten days ago, but slightly improved. On Friday evening he took a sudden change for the worse and became unconscious, from which he never rallied, except at short intervals and passed peacefully away this morning.

Mr. Borden Steps In

Mr. Borden said that the full report should be laid on the table. It might show differences as compared with the précis which has been published. As for the newspaper statements which were appearing on the subject, where did they get their information? There had been a good deal of whispering about "zones" on the Atlantic and Pacific. These whisperings were in the press controlled by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. These papers were conducting a political campaign on the subject. Was that a fair deal for a minister of the Crown to make?

Laurier As A Saviour

There was much representation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the saviour of Canada. Mr. Borden went on, amid the cheers of his followers, it was impossible for him to cross the Atlantic without saving Canada's autonomy. He saved our autonomy in 1902, in 1907, in 1909. After every conference he came back having saved our autonomy.

The White Plume Again

The Solicitor General, Mr. Bureau, had been particularly loud in his cheers. Lloyd George, Winston Churchill, Haldane—all were in this awful conspiracy, with which Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with his sword and his shield and his white plume had saved us.

OUR AUTONOMY, MR. BORDEN CONTINUED

Our autonomy, Mr. Borden continued, had been preserved so often that it now might be put in cold storage. In 1909 the Prime Minister had saved it by deputy. Then in 1911 he did not want to go to save it, he did not intend to go. He would not have gone but for the opposition; therefore, the opposition was the direct cause of his saving our autonomy this last time.

Mr. McLean's Remarks

Mr. W. P. McLean then delivered a body blow. He had been glancing over the Times, and he found that the said verbatim report, which Sir Wilfrid Laurier said had not been issued, had been made public on July 14, eleven days ago. The Times of July 15 had a two column notice of it. Canada had not been given equal treatment, he said.

AN ADMISSION FROM LAURIER

Mr. Arthur and Major Currie obtained from the reluctant and indeed enigmatic premier, assurance that the elections will not be held before the Northern Ontario lists are completed. As the lists for these ridings will be finished before Sept. 15, and as time must be allowed for printing and transit, the election day would seem to fall somewhere about the opening of October.

BALFOUR AND LANSDOWNE

"I think that the majority of the House of Lords should support its leader. I agree with the advice Lord Lansdowne has given his friends.

"With Lord Lansdowne I stand with Lord Lansdowne I am ready if need be to fall.

"The present situation is grave, even alarming. The government has tyrannically destroyed, so far as the parliament bill is concerned, every power which the second chamber possesses. They have in their own fashion imitated Cromwell, without either his excuses or his genius.

MORRISON FOR NORTHUMBERLAND

He also scored the reciprocity arrangement as there was no mandate for it. It will utterly change our national character. The government should not make this a matter of politics, he said. They carried this thing through secretly because they were afraid of the feeling of the country. He felt a question of this moment should be left to a plebiscite of the people. Canada has no need of reciprocity now. She has lifted her head high in trade, industry and commerce and has men who cannot be equaled in intelligence and ability. His address closed with an eloquent call to duty.

Dr. Byrne's Fine Speech

Dr. Byrne was then called upon and gave a fine speech. Dr. Byrne felt a pride in the number. He would not give his reasons for being a Conservative. Both parties, he said, believed at one time in free trade, but since then Canada has gone ahead and now the United States would like to come into this country and possess it.

Yarmouth, July 25.—A large motor boat is reported ashore on a reef off Chebogue Point, five miles east of here. At first it was thought to be one of the craft competing in the race from New York to Halifax, but later it was reported to be the Roumania, bound from New York to England.

LAKE STEAMER SINKS

Port Arthur, Ont., July 25.—The steamer Rappahannock, coal barge, from Lake Erie ports, sank in 100 feet of water in Jack Fish Bay where she took shelter from the storm. The crew were able to reach shore in safety. The Canadian Towing and Wrecking Company sent an outfit to the scene, but the boat may be too deep to do anything. The Rappahannock was one of the old wooden steamers of 300 tons and was owned by Jas. E. Davidson, at Bay City.
