GERMAN COMMERCE RAIDER KRON PRINZ WILHELM WILL BE INTERNED UNTIL END OF THE WAR

GERMAN OFFICERS URGE MEN IN VAIN TO RETURN TO ATTACK ON BRITISH

Terrific explosion of mines too much for enemy who refused to tempt Fate in second charge on Allies' entrenched position.

Paris, April 26.—The following official review of recent events at the front was given out at the war department today:

"In the Vosges, as in Champagne and the Argonne and at Artois (Department of Calais), the proximity of the French and German trenches and the strength of the defensive works forced the adversaries to have recourse to sap and mine. To the east of La Fontenelle at the summit of a hill, we organized a very powerful line of resistance.

"The Germans began to besiege this hill toward the end of March, suspicious noises led to the belief that a subterranean contest had started. The hottest kind fo actions developed thereafter.

"During the entire night of April 10, our infantry-men fought, using grenades and destroying earth barriers the Germans sought to erect, the combat occurring beneath the level of the ground, the surface of which was swept by quick-firers.

"On April 13, toward 8.30 o'clock in the evening, the Germans, profiting by the darkness, attempted a decisive action against the right section of the works. With bombs and grenades they crossed the space which separated them from the French, and believing they had surrounded the defenders of the trench they cried out to the Frenchmen to surrender. But the evening before we had dug a new branch of the underground works, evacuate the post, which previously had been mined.

"As soon as the Germans were installed there the order was given to explode the mine. A mine delegated to fire the mine was put out of action by a grenade while lighting the wick. His companion immediately replaced him.

"A violent detonation shook the entire works. It was followed by cries of terror and pain. One hundred kilograms of explosives had blown up the position and the old branch of the underground works.

"We immediately established a barrier against which the Germans hurled themselves. Their officers could be heard during the night urging the men forward, but the men, terrorized by the explosion, answered in groans, "nein, nein."

"Our artillery, guided by searchlights, opened fire on the enemy's works. Upheavels of the ground showed the efficiency of our fire. During the entire night Red Cross automobiles rolled along the roads. At daybreak the effects of the explosion could be judged. Human debris hung on our accessory defences, and bodies were scattered about. Thus ended, at La Fontelle, the sapping of the Germans."

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR CANADA'S HEROES

Movement under way in Montreal to hold service in memory of men who fell in last week's battle.

Montreal, April 26.—A movement is under way to hold a great public service in Montreal in memory of the Canadian officers and men who fell in last week's fighting against the Germans, and several ministers have expressed approval of the proposal. St. James Methodist church, the largest Protestant church in this city, has been offered for the service by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Williams. Owing to the fact that the casualty lists are not yet complete the date for he memorial gathering has not yet been set.

CARELESS CRITICISM

In a review of Pastor Russell's books—"Studies in the Scriptures" at Exmouth street Methodist church, Sunday evening, April 18th, Rev. W. G. Lane is reported, in the public press, to have said, in part, "These books teach clearly that Jesus is not, never was, and never will be Divine in His nature."

The inaccuracy of the above is proven by each of the nine citatioons which follow:—Vol. 1. of the series, Chapter X. (subject, Natures Distinct), pages 176, 178, 179, 180, 184, 186, 196, 200, 203. Each one states plainly that Jesus IS NOW DIVINE. The last of the nine (page 203) reads, "Jesus could remember his former glory which he had before becoming a man, but which he had not when he had become a man, as his words prove—"Father glorify thou me with the glory which I had with thee before the world was" (John 17:5)—the glory of the spiritual nature. And that prayer is more than answered in his present exaltation to the highest form of spirit being, the divine nature." Vol. V. (AT-ONE-MENT Between GOD AND MAN) deals more exhaustively with the subject. As bearing on the above note 1 Cor. 8:6; "To us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him." 1 Tim. 2:5,6, "For there is one God, and one mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus. Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time." And 1 Cor. 15:27, 28, "For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him. And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself, be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all."

CASE AGAINST DACIA'S OWNER DISMISSED

Breitung sued by Son-in-law for alienating his wife's affection.

New York, April 26.—The $250,000 damage suit brought against Edward N. Breitung, capitalist, of Marquette, Michigan, and his wife, by Max Frederick Kleist, their son-in-law, was dismissed today by Federal Judge Hough. Kleist charged his parents-in-law with alienating his wife's affections.

The court ruled that Kleist had failed to prove any improper act on the part of the defendants in their treatment of their child, Kilest's attorney announced that he would appeal.

Kleist and Miss Breitung were married in Nov. 1913. Prior to his marriage to the capitalist's daughter, Kleist had been a coachman employed by a neighbor of Mr. Breitung in Marquette.

Mr. Breitung is the principal owner of the American steamship Dacia, formerly flying the German flag. After considerable controversy as to England's right to seize the vessel on her voyage to Bremen the ship was intercepted by a French cruiser and taken to Havre, where she is now held.

PLEASANT REUNION OF FORMER MARITIME PROVINCE PEOPLE IN N.Y.

New York, April 25—After spending a very enjoyable week in New York city, Mr. F. A. Marr of Halifax, N. S., and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Marr of St. John, N. B., have returned to their homes. The Marrs were stopping at the Hotel McAlpin, where they met Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Duffy, an electrical engineer of Seattle, Washington, and formerly of New Brunswick, who, with Col. Blethen, the millionaire owner of the Seattle Times, were in New York to attend the annual convention of the Associated Press. Col. Blethen had his touring car with him and placed it entirely at the disposal of the ladies and gentlemen of the party, and they enjoyed many a trip trip through the city and surrounding country, visiting all the resorts in Long Island, northern New Jersey, and even getting up the Hudson as far as Ossining, where Sing Sing prison is located. Mr. Marr stated that his party had intended spending three days in New York, but that this had been extended to an entire week when they found the weather and surroundings so delightful.

DESERTER FROM THE "26TH" STILL AT LARGE

Pte. Ralph Lindsay continues to elude officers—Has deserted from ranks three times.

Special to The Standard

Hartland, N. B., April 26—Private Ralph Lindsay of the 26th Battalion still continues to evade duty as a soldier of the King. A few weeks ago, when he made his third desertion, he sought the shelter of the Stars and Stripes in Houlton, whither Ida Crawford had gone in advance. Last week the pair returned to Hartland and put up at the "Crawford House." The presence of the soldier leaked out and the elusive Ralph on Saturday took passage northward, between two box cars of a freight train on the C. P. R. Today Police Magistrate Cameron received the following telegram regarding the matter:

St. John, April 25.

CHIEF OF POLICE,
Hartland:

Arrest Private Lindsay on charge of desertion from 26th Battalion. Advise here immediately.

CAPT. F. H. ELLIOTT.

Magistrate Cameron has got into communication with Officer A. R. Foster, provincial constable, and developments are looked for.

The elusive "Tommy" has discarded his khaki for civilian clothes since his last jump, which makes him a little more difficult to locate.

Mrs. Percy Graham went to St. John today to attend the meeting of the Women's Aid of the Church of England which convenes there this week.

Rev. N. Francette also went to the convention and will remain for a week. Mrs. Graham will spend a couple of weeks as the guest of Dr. Addy.

SLANG OF WAR INTERPRETED.

The French language is being enriched by a number of words which are coming into current use by way of the trenches. The soldiers bring them into vogue, and the public gets to know them from the letters which are published in the newspapers and joyfully adopts them. It is thus that the words boche and poilu have made their way.

Poilut has only reached its general meaning of a soldier since the beginning of the war; before that it had not advanced far from its original sense of "hairy" and so "strudy." The "handyman" as a term of a blue-jacket is an interesting parallel.

Boche was hardly known before the war, though alboche, of which it is an abbreviation, was fairly common.

Marmite, which means a saucepan, has now been generally accepted as a heavy shell.

Less known is zigouiller, which has been adopted from the vocabulary of the Apache. It is an extensive word and means to "stick a knife into," "to bayonet."

Another imaginative word is crapouillot, which means a little toad, and has been hit upon as a suitable name for the squat, little trench mortar.

Artiflot is a gunner, it is a combination of artilleur and fiflot, which means a common soldier.

Boulot, which suggests a log of wood has come to mean "work;" faire du bon boulot is to do good work, the original idea being probably that of sawing.
