SUMMER COTTAGES BOUGHT AT GRAND BAY; THIEF CAUGHT

Suspicious Character Captured Yesterday with Stolen Goods in His Possession -- Believed he has been Making Profitable Business of House Breaking.

The suburbanite residents at Grand Bay and vicinity who leave their houses securely locked up for the winter months, will do well to pay their premises a visit, for it is believed that a number of them have been broken into and a large number of articles stolen.

Yesterday afternoon Henry Hamm of Grand Bay, was successful in capturing a German who gives his name as Bruno Klingman, and the man, at the time he was captured, had just finished robbing the summer residence owned by Joseph Irvine, of The Standard.

When Mr. Hamm took charge of the German, he had just left Mr. Irvine's house, and was carrying a couple of bundles containing clothing and other articles which he had stolen from the house. Mr. Hamm made a prisoner of the house-breaker, and took him to the Grand Bay station, and telephoned to the city and informed Mr. Irvine of the break and capture. Mr. Irvine at once notified police headquarters, and yesterday Sgt. Harry Kilpatrick who is a provincial constable, was sent to Grand Bay to take charge of the prisoner, and Mr. Irvine accompanied him.

On arriving at Grand Bay, Mr. Irvine and the sergeant made an examination of the summer home, and found that the thief had broken open the outer door and then, by breaking the glass on the inside door, made an entrance in this manner. He had ransacked the house and had a large assortment of articles strewn about the floor. Picking out some of the best articles he tied them up and it was when he was leaving the premises that he was captured by Mr. Hamm, who took him in charge.

EXPERIENCE OF THE MAN

Harry Hopkins is Glad he Decided to Come to New Brunswick -- What he has done here.

In a pamphlet entitled "How to Obtain a Farm in New Brunswick," issued by the Farm Settlement Board, appears a letter from Harry Hopkins, an English immigrant who has made good here. He writes to the superintendent of immigration:

"Two years and a half ago in London I applied to the New South Wales office and Northern Australia office for their rates and conditions to new settlers. I also applied to the New Brunswick representative for his conditions and received much better treatment and satisfaction from him than from either of the others. I then came to New Brunswick, arriving here June, 1909, with $5.00 in my pocket. I received the greatest consideration and attention from the Local Immigration Superintendent, at St. John, Mr. A. B. Wilmut, and my wife and I immediately went to work. I received $10.00 per week and my wife $15.00 per month, both board and lodging. After six months my wages were increased to $15.00 per week, since which time I have had steady work at good wages and have saved up $1,400, and we are now going home for a holiday to spend the winter, intending to return in the early spring. I would advise any Englishman thinking of leaving the old country to settle in New Brunswick."

Two Lots Purchased.

The Farm Settlement Board has purchased two lots of land at Pincock Junction near Shediac.

How "Mag" Sullivan Enjoyed Herself During Sojourn in Central Station Saturday and Sunday.

Margaret Sullivan, who has a long record in police circles, and who is better known to the police officers as "Mag," was arrested on Saturday morning for being drunk. This interesting lady generally gives the officers quite an amount of trouble by resisting but on the last couple of occasions that she has been arrested she went along quietly. Being an old hand at the game, she was not taken to appear before the magistrate during Saturday, and will not be taken to the court until this morning. She went to sleep in the cell and when the officer on guard at the station looked in during the afternoon he saw that she was still intoxicated.

In fact she appeared to the officer on night duty to be still under the influence of liquor Saturday night and it was a puzzle how she retained her jag after being behind the bars for such a length of time. It was not known until yesterday morning what the cause was. When all was still about the basement of the station where the cells are, and there were eleven prisoners confined there, one of the policemen while going the rounds noticed a light issuing from the Sullivan woman cell. On looking through the cell door he was amazed to see Mag sitting on the wooden bench with a colored candle burning at each side. The candles were such as are used on Christmas trees and when the officer asked Mag what she was doing, she replied that it was Christmas time, so she was burning the Christmas candles.

It was then that the officer discovered how she managed to remain under the influence of liquor all day and during the night. When she was arrested for drunkenness in the morning she was bundled into a cell without being searched and when left alone, and feeling thirsty, she took a bottle of whiskey which she had hidden in her stocking, and after quenching her thirst, replaced it in the hiding place. In this way she passed her solitary sojourn quite pleasantly.

BURGLARS AGAIN

RAID SUMMER CAMP

George Merrisey's Camp at Long Lake Broken into and Several Articles Stolen -- Lock Blown Away.

Another link in the chain of burglaries in the suburbs occurred recently when the summer camp at Long Lake, owned by George Merrisey, was broken into and articles valued at about five dollars removed. The crime which was only discovered when the owner and a friend visited the camp yesterday afternoon, was probably committed on New Year's day.

It appears to have been the work of men armed with shot guns and ball cartridges as several bullet holes were made in the woodwork. A heavy padlock, by means of which the door was secured, had also been shattered with a bullet. Among the articles stolen were some clothing and a number of tools, and the thieves had evidently made themselves at home as traces of a meal of which they had, apparently, partaken were left scattered about the camp.

There are several camps in the vicinity and all have been entered on one or another occasion. Last summer a number of boys who were responsible for some of the trouble were arrested and arraigned in the juvenile court. They were allowed to go with light sentences upon promise of future good conduct, and for a time the owners of camps enjoyed comparative immunity from this sort of annoyance. The present case was reported to the police last evening and every effort is being made to apprehend the miscreants.

There is some talk of offering a reward for information leading to the apprehension of the men who are breaking into summer camps. Mr. Merrisey intimated that it was the intention of the owners of his camp to make some such offer.
