OUR COMPETITIONS For Boys and Girls

Drawing and Painting Contest

Here is a splendid contest, open to all boys and girls not older than fifteen years of age. Below is a picture of "Tower" waiting to be completed and colored in whatever way you think best. To the kiddie who sends in the most original colored picture, together with the usual coupon correctly filled in, not later than 17th May, to

UNCLE DICK,
THE STANDARD,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

I shall award a beautiful story book, fully illustrated. The winner of the next in order of merit will receive a similar prize. There will also be four diplomas awarded.

A "Same Word" Contest

This week's contest consists of making what you consider the best sentence, using the same word whenever possible, such as:
"Before the LOW fire, Mrs. LOW, wearing LOW shoes, reclined in a LOW chair, singing in LOW tones, whilst listening to the LOW of cattle in the LOW-lying fields."

Here you will notice that the word "LOW" has been used seven times in the one sentence.
Now you try and make up a sentence using some word as often as possible in same. To the Boy or Girl, not over fifteen years of age who sends in the most original sentence, I shall award a beautiful story book. There will also be six other prizes and diplomas given to the senders of the next in order of merit.

All attempts must be written on one side of the paper only, and be accompanied with the usual coupon correctly filled in, and mailed in time to reach this office not later than Wednesday, 10th May.
All communications to be addressed to

INTERESTING JUDGMENT BY JUDGE BARRY

To Effect That Soldiers While at the Front Should Not be Harassed by Law-suits.

Judge Barry handed down, yesterday, an interesting judgment in the case of an American company, the Indian Refining Company against Frank H. Elliot.

The defendant is a captain in the 28th Battalion now in France and carries on business in St. John as the Automobile Oil Refining Company.
Previously to sailing for England he made a trip to the executive offices of the plaintiff company in New York with a hope of adjusting some troubles that had arisen between him and the plaintiff company. These efforts came to naught.

The writ was served on the defendant at East Sandling, England, in September, 1915, a few days before the 28th embarked for the front.

An application was made by J. King Kelley, K. C., of the legal firm of Kelley & Ross for an order restraining the plaintiff from proceeding further with this case until Captain Elliot either died or was mustered out of His Majesty's army. Judge Barry granted a stay of proceedings until 1st April, 1916, and on a further application to stay the proceedings delivered this judgment:

"The one thing of supreme importance in these days is that Great Britain and her Allies should win the present war. Everything else must be regarded as of secondary or subsidiary importance. Under these conditions, it is not, I think, in the national interests that Canadian soldiers at the front in the service of the Empire should be harassed by suits at home; and more especially in this time of suits which like the present one can just as well as not wait, without, so far as I can see, any loss to the prosecutors, be postponed for a time. It is true that the time asked for here is merely for the purpose of putting in a formal defence, under analogous circumstances if the defence were in, I think I should feel constrained to postpone the trial of the action until after the soldier's return. So that on any view, the order which I am asked to make at present is only antipathetic by a little, the order which ultimately would have to be made.

In November last, at Westminster Sir Barragave Dudge, J., when asked for leave to serve a divorce petition on an officer in the fighting line decided that it would have to stand until the officer's return to Great Britain.
"It is not in the interest of the nation," said that court, "for men to have their minds diverted from their duties by such matters. They had better stand over until the men return."

"In a very recent case in the High Court of Justice in England, Mr. Justice Neville postponed the trial of the action until after the declaration of peace. Cardiff Corporation vs. Barry Railway Co., N. W., May 4th.

"There would seem to be therefore, abundant authority for the order which in the interests of justice I think should be made in this case.

"The order will be that all further proceedings in this action be stayed until after the declaration of peace, unless the defendant should be sooner mustered out of the service and return to New Brunswick, in which case the plaintiffs be at liberty to move to rescind this order, with liberty to apply for the examination de bene esse of any witnesses who is aged or infirm, or is about going abroad."

Kelley & Ross, solicitors for Capt.
Elliot; Fred R. Taylor for plaintiffs.

HAVE YOU A FEW MINUTES TO SPARE EACH DAY?

If So You Can Win One of The Standard's Valuable Prizes —Get Your Friends to Assist You.

The Standard Offers THIRTY DOLLARS in Special Cash Prizes for a Few Days Work.

The Standard offers thirty dollars divided into three prizes for votes sent in between the dates May 8th to May 13th, inclusive. Do not overlook this extra cash prize offer. Full particulars are printed in today's issue on another page. It makes no difference whether you have been working before or not, your chance of winning one of these prizes is as good as that of anyone else.

The above extra prizes although small by comparison are worth winning. Are they not worth a few minutes of your time each day? If you think so act upon your thought. Call upon your friends to assist you in your campaign. Get them to promise to cut out coupons from the paper each day and send them either to you or to The Travel Club Department, direct.

Many of your friends may be working each morning on the street. Get them to subscribe for a year or longer and to give you the votes. It will be cheaper for them and worth your while. The paper will be delivered to them by mail or carrier. You no doubt have friends who are not regular subscribers to The Standard. Get them to join our permanent list and pay their subscriptions in advance. It may be that some of them do not take any paper at all. Show them the many advantages in taking The Standard and it will not be long before they decide that they really need The Standard in their homes.

Organization is a great help. Call on half a dozen of your friends. Tell them that you have made up your mind to secure one of the prizes which we offer and that you need their assistance. Get each one to devote a few minutes to it each day on your behalf.
In other words, start an endless friendship chain for the purpose of securing subscriptions.

You can win one of these prizes—you can win a big prize—and you know it. Your spare time and a little effort is the only cost. Get to work today—Fill in the nomination blank first of all and mail to us and we will send you receipt book and all information by return mail. If you live out of town, call us up on the 'phone, (at our expense) and we will explain the details.

Obituary.
Roger Kane of the North End, died yesterday morning at his residence, 20 Sheriff street, after an illness of a few days with pneumonia. Besides his mother he is survived by three brothers, Thomas, George and William, and two sisters, Mary and Margaret, all of this city. He was an employee of the I. C. R., and was held in esteem both by his superiors and fellow workers.

Mrs. Francis H. Walsh.
Mrs. J. Barry, of 130 Waterloo street, received a telegram yesterday morning, announcing the death of Mrs.
Francis H. Walsh of Dorchester, Mass., which took place Thursday. Mrs.
Walsh was formerly of this city, and was a daughter of the late Thomas E.
Green, who was a well-known coachman here some years ago. The Misses Maher of Golding street are cousins.
Mrs. Barry and Mrs. H. Whelan will leave on the Boston train this evening to attend the funeral. Mrs. Walsh has many friends in this city, where she visited frequently.

Miss Katharine McManus.
Yesterday morning in the Mater Dolorosa Home, Miss Katharine McManus, daughter of the late Hugh and Katharine McManus of this city, passed away. Since the death of her sister, Mrs. Harris, she had resided in the home. The funeral will be held on Sunday.

GOOD RATES.
Vessels bringing lumber from southern ports at the present time are setting good rates, about double that paid in some former years. The schooner Methebesse, chartered to load dry cypress at Palatka for Portland, gets $11 per thousand feet, and several charters at still higher rates are said to have been made since she was taken.

SURPRISE FOR PRIVATEES WHO "OVERSTAYED"

Two Members of 140th Sent to Prison for Being Absent Without Leave.

Men who enlist in the different battalions, batteries or other units, will do well to take warning, that when they remain away from barracks longer than their pass allows them, they are practically deserters, even though they may have no intention of running away. The penalty for desertion from the army is most severe, and two privates of the 140th Battalion will have plenty of time to think the matter over and regret that they disregarded the regulations.

The privates in question are William Clayton and Alfred Williams. The two men, a few days ago, were gathered in by the military police for being absent from barracks longer than their passes allowed. It was not their first violation of the military regulations, for they have been guilty of the same offense on seven different occasions. When they were placed under arrest a few days ago, and detained in the cells at police headquarters, the military authorities decided to treat them as habituals, and requested that they receive the full penalty of the court. Accordingly the two men were produced in the police court yesterday afternoon, and Lieut. Bennett was present for the purpose of prosecuting.

It was shown that the men had been eating badly for some time, and the court was asked to impose the heaviest penalty. The men claimed that illness was the cause of their having not reported back for duty at the proper time. It was shown that their excuse was weak, and accordingly they were adjudged guilty. The law states that the sentence is a term of imprisonment not exceeding two years.
The two privates were given the greatest surprise of their lives when they were each sentenced to spend a term of one year and nine months in the Dorchester penitentiary. They were then sent back to jail.

Since the war broke out, and soldiers have been training in St. John, the matter of staying over leave has been very frequent, and on each occasion the offender has been punished by being confined to barracks for a time. There has also been a great amount of deserting, and uniforms discarded by deserters have been found in nearly every section of the city.

The men who have taken "French leave" from their company have in some manner procured civilian clothing, made a change, and departed, leaving the King's uniform at any convenient place.

The sentence dealt out yesterday afternoon is the first of such a kind that has been imposed in this city, and it may not be the last.

It is always felt by army officers that a soldier who deserts, or tries to get away from the duties he has
