BOSTON SOCIETY WOMAN IS MYSTERIOUS SUICIDE

Was Prominent in Back Bay Circles and Fact of Death Concealed for Time.

an investigation of her sensational suicide.

Since a Back Bay physician, following instructions from Mrs. J. T. Coolidge of 106 Beacon street, entered Mrs. Chandler's home Saturday and found the young woman dead in bed with two chloroform-soaked towels wound tightly about her head, absolute mystery has surrounded the case.

Mrs. Coolidge, who is the wife of a prominent Boston architect and former member of the Boston Art Commission, belongs to the same social coterie as the dead woman. She received a letter at her summer home, stating that the dead body of Mrs. Chandler would be found in her home on Lime street.

She at once called Boston on the long distance telephone and sent a physician to the Beacon Hill house. The physician found the door open and the house unoccupied.

He walked in and found Mrs. Chandler lying on her bed.

Dr. Magrath admitted today that Mrs. Chandler was a suicide.

Y. M. C. A. SUMMER CAMP NEWS. (Reprinted from the camp newspaper, "The Daily Disturber," of July 2nd Issue.)

Although the day was wet and the journey rough, the trip up to Camp Wegesegum at Chipman was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of boys that went up Saturday morning. On Sunday morning camp inspection took place and tent No. 2 was rewarded the banner for that day for being the cleanest and neatest on the camp grounds. On Monday the banner changed hands, becoming the possersion of tent No. 6 for the day.

Campobello, July 4.—An unknown miscreant broke into the bours or July 2 the or July 4 the house of the sleeping apartment of Capt. Mitchell and his wife were absent at the time. The captain's mother of the same and the surface and the capt. Mitchell were the only occupants of the house.

Miss Mitchell and his wife were absent at the time. The captain's mother over her bed. Her screams aroused the other occupants of the dwelling whereupon the culprit made a hurried exit. No trace or clue has yet been found, but a number of articles were dround, but a number of the dwelling eyond Salutes of Big Guns ourteen Germans Drop Holiday was Comparatively Calm—British Officials Par-Bombs on Essex Fishing Town-Twenty-Two Hurt.

New York, July 4.—A noiseless but patriotic programme featured the celebration of Independence Day in New York. A salude of forty-five guns on Governor's Island, followed by a salute and the unfurling of the flag on the block house in Central Park formally opened a patriotic and athletic programme in which band concerts, folk dances and military drills took the place of the noise producers in other years.

In public parks throughout the greater city these exercises were detagned as an aid to recruiting for the national guard and the regular army. Many thousands who formerly left the city for the fourth were forced to remain at home today because the sale of excursion tickets had been practically discontinued for the day by railroads.

At a celebration in Newark, N. J., official representatives of the British government took part in programme. It was the first time an American city has had a British general and his staff with a British peer as the guest of honor on the anniversary of Independence Day. There Brigadier-General W. A. White, head of the British recruiting mission in this country, and Lord Aberdeen, former Governor General of Canada, were guests of the city

London, July 4—Two of the German machines that took part in the air raid on Harwich were brought down ablaze by British naval aircraft and a third machine was damaged it is officially announced. All the British airmen who engaged the Germans emerged safely from their fights. The official statement announcing the result reads:

reads:

"Dover reports that naval aircraft from Dunkirk intercepted the hostile squadron returning from England after the attack on Harwich this morning. An engagement ensued at a considerable distance from the Belgian coast. Two hostile machines were brought down in flames and a third machine was damaged.

"Several other machines were attacked with indecisive results.

"All our machines returned safely."

Boston. July 4.—Motives for the suicide of a prominent Back Bay society woman, and an attempt to discover why Medical Examiner Magrath concealed the fact of her death, are the points which friends of Mrs. Lucy Chandler, 34, of Lime street, Beacon Hill, are today trying to clear up by an investigation of her sensational saicide.

Since a Back Bay physician, following instructions from Mrs. J. T. Coolidge of 106 Beacon street, entered Mrs. Chapiler's home Saturday and found the young woman dead in bed with two chloroform-soaked toweis wound tightly about her head, absolute mystery has surrounded the case.

ing for in connection with his ship-building plant on Straight Shore. The members of the council expressed themselves as not being in favor of the forty year term as they consider-ed it too long. They also asked for certain guarantees in the matter of the number of men employed and out-put of the yard, and suggested that Mr. Saker agree to pay full assessment on the property if profits went over a certain figure. It was finally decided to have the city solicitor confer with Mr. Saker and Mr. Ewing and prepare a proposi-tion to present to the council.
