She did not go to Mrs. Allen, applied to no one clse, and probably left the city that evening. When the week was up, the question what to do with the children came up, and was settled by keeping them in the institution.

I would think two ounces of near brandy much stronger than the same quantity in a bottle of soda water. We remember one day hearing a member of the old school declare himself no drinker because he never took anything but a bottle of raisin wine after dinner, the notion in his mind being that "home made stuff like that" could not possibly be injurious. If he had been told that he had drank the had been told that he had drank

Our reporter visited the Asylum, Saturday for the purpose of questioning the children, hoping to establish some clue to their identity. The assistant matron stated that the children were respectably dressed when they came, and their looks and actions show that they came from a respectable and intelligent family. to the election of any other than a local candida's Sympathising with this feeling, which was not confined to any one party, I complied with a requisition, signed by nearly four hundred electors, asking me to be the local candidate in opposition to Mr. McDougall. The result was not unanticipated by those who worked with me. All the influence of Sir John A. McDonald and his Generorment, and of menty influential. Reformers and Conservatives, was exerted against me, and this, added to the late date at whi h I was brought out, allowing no time for canvass, rendered the result at best doubtful. And here a word of explanation as to my resignation on that occasion. On receiving the returns the evening of the irst day's polling, it was found that I was behind at every polling place, and that the election was virtually lost. To save our friends farther labor, the committee consented to my resignation, which proved afterwards a very unwise step, giving serious cause of offence to many, as it was found impossible to communicate with them all in time to accomplish the object for which my resignation was intended. to support Mr. Galbraith as your represent-ative in the Ontario Parliament, and to take an active part in agitating the bringing him him out as a candidate for the Commons when it was understood Mr. McDougall's retirement was about to take place. The coalition formed in 1864, for the purpose of bringing about Confederation, her had other regults than these which the s had other results than those which the promoters of that scheme probably contem-plated. Old party lines have been almost obliterated; issues, the struggle over which servative and Reformer, are dead or have been finally settled, and to-day we find men been finally settled, and to-day we find men who, under the old regime, were called Conservatives and Reformers, working together in harmony, and in support of, or in opposition to, the Government of the day, itself composed of men of both parties. The composed of men of both parties. The third Tuesday of every month. Teeth extracted without pain by the use of Nitrous conductions and the conservative should therefore now be "men as well". composed of men of both parties. The motto should therefore now be "men as well as measures," and the question of the hour is "the honest and faithful administration of the affairs of the country, and a wise and economical management of its finances." I am confirmed in this view from the fact am confirmed in this view from the fact that many members of the Ontario Government, heretofore called Conservatives, are to-day found voting with and sustaining a Liberal Government under the leadership of Hon. Mr. Blake, against the Opposition led by Mr. M. C. Cameron. No one imagines for a moment that these gentlemen are sacrificing any principle in so doing; rather may we take it for granted their opinions are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with those of the Liberal are in full accord with the original are in full accord with the original that at the approaching session of Parlia-ment, new issues may arise and changes be made which may give us reason to modify our opinions, I will now briefly state what course I feel it will be my duty, to take, the present Government should be retained in power until Confederation became an ac-complished fact, none such can now exist The no-party cry at the general election of brown away in the construction of the In-Government to rectify these criminal blunders, is utterly lost. Holding these views, and with no desire to judge the Government and with no desire to judge the Government harshly, it will be my duty to oppose them, and when necessary sustain such men in the formation of a Liberal Government as we may have reason to believe will better meet the wishes of the people.

As it is a recognized fact that manufactures greatly increase the prosperity of any people, their encouragement will always receive my hearty support. Tending to this, is the importation free of duty of all necessaries of life, so as to cheapen the cost of living to the laboring population—of all raw material necessary in the on-of all raw material necessary in the try, and a judicious arrangement of the tariff for revenue purposes, which while operating to encourage native industries, will not be open to the objection of being y productive.

GOVERNOR ARCHIBALD'S EXCUSE (From the Halifax Citizen.) The absurd excuse is made for Gove above it. Some of them are from twenty to thirty feet square, and built of very wide cedar planks, many of them more than four feet across, worked out by these rude people.

We entered several. Creeping through apertures, both square and round, not more than three feet in diameter we the Scott Murder. The excuse is too ridiculous to bear examination for a mo

the sleeping places, covered with skins and blankets and in some instances separated by low partitions. In the rear, and on the shelves below the dormitories, were stored potatoes and drieds almon in small bales, covered with matting. Their largest potatoes are the size of a hulled walnut.

The ladies beautify their complexions with soot and red paint, and still further enhance their charms by wearing a bone through the upper lip, the size of which is increased from year to year until, in some of the old ones, it attains a width of two inches. An Indian lady thus adorned, with her coarse, black uncombed locks hanging in matted profusion around her beautiful pig eyes and lop ears, is all a solid profusions and the period of the purpose for timber. Any plan which affords reasonable promise of checking the reckless devastation of forests, which is now going on throughout the country is worthy of commendation, and it is to be hoped that the Legislatures of other states will make efforts to accomplish the same end.
