Admiral Enquist Arrives At the Philippine Port.

3 CRUISERS AT MANILA

U. S. Admiral Train Escorted the Rus sian Commander, With His Flag staff the Aurora, and the Protecte Cruisers Oleg and Jemtchug, Into the Harbor-The Oleg In a Storm of Shells-Likely to Be Interned.

Manija, June 5.—Rear Admiral Enquist, who was commander of the heavy cruiser squadron of the Russian fieet, arrived in the bay at 9 o'clock Saturday evening on board his fiagship, the protected cruisers Oleg and Jentchup. All the vessels were more or less damaged and there were many wounded on board.

Rear Admiral Train, on board his fiagship, the battleship Ohlo, with the battleships Wisconsin and Oregon and the cruisers Raleigh and Cincinnati, was outside Corregidor Island manoeuvring when the Aurora saluted with thirteen guns, and the Ohfo answered. Admiral Train and his squadron accompanied the Russian vessels to Manila.

Admiral Train and his squadron accompanied the Russian vessels to Manila.

The Oleg in a Storm of Shells.
In an interview, Rear Admiral Enquist's executive officer said:

"When the battle began the admiral was aboard the cruiser Oleg, which was hit a number of times by large shot. There was an incessant rain of shet from quick-fising guns and the ship was soon badly damaged.

"The Admiral transferred his flag to the Aurora, which then drew the combined fire of many torpede beat destroyers at close range and the attack of submarines. We were everwhelmed by the latter. A mist arising, we made a dash for the open sea and were followed by the Oleg and Jemtonug."

Rear Admiral Enquist is uninjured. Capt. Egorleff, of the Aurora, was killed by a shell which struck the conning tower, and he was huried at sea the day before reaching Manila.

On the Aurora three officers were wounded, twenty of the crew were killed and eighty-three were wounded.

The losses on the Oleg were thirteen of the crew killed and eighty-three were wounded.

Work of the Submarines.

From their sppearance, the Russian vessels are not damaged below the water-line. Their funnels, however, are riddled by large and small shot. Several large shells pleroed the cruisers amidships and a number-of guns were dismounted. All the Russian officers interviewed assert that a large number of submarines caused confusion and defeat, Read Admiral Enquist has cabled his arrival to the Euseror of Russia.

Vessels Seriously Damaged.

Washington, June 5.—In a cablegram to the United States Navy Department from Admiral Train, he says:

"Admiral Enquist states that the Aurora and the Oleg are both seriously damaged and are not seaworthy. The Jemtichug is in a bad condition. He makes the request to fill up with provisions and coal. He will require fourteen days to repair damages. A board has been ordered to examine and report their condition. One hundred and thirty men are wounded. Permission has been granted that they be landed.

Likely to Be Interned.

It is said at the State Department that the Russian vessels will be treated precisely as was those which arrived in the Chinese ports during the carlier stages of the war, namely, they will be allowed to remain 24 hours if undamaged and seaworthy. Otherwise they may make absolutely necessary repairs, or, lastly, they may be interned until the end of the war. It is expected that the latter course will be followed.

The enforcement of neutrality will be left in the hands of Admiral Train

Toge Visits Rojestvensky.

Toklo, June 5.—Admiral Togo visited Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky at the naval hospital at Sasebo Saturday and expressed his sympathy for the admiral's wounds. He praised the desperately courageous fight of the Russians and expressed his hope that Vive-Admiral Rojestvensky would soon be able to return to Russia. Rojestvensky was deeply moved by the admiral's words and thanked him. He congratulated Japan on the courage and patriotism of her sallors and said it lessened his regret and the sorrow of defeat to know the high character of the victors. St. Petersburg, June 5.—A despatch received here says that all non-combatants have been ordered to leave Vladivostock.

The bony system, a model of architectural perfection, combining throughout the greatest possible strength with the least weight, consists of, first, the skull or brain case, complete except for the foramina or openings through which pass the nerves and vessels and the spinal cord; second, the spine, flexible and elastic, yet rigid enough to support the head and body, and, more than that, containing a larger canal in which is the important extension of the brain called the spinal cord. The spine is made up of a larger number of irregular bones, between which are the openings transmitting nearly all the nerves of the body as well as the blood, which passes inward to nourish the cord. These bones, like all other joints of the body, are held together by strong inelastic bands called ligaments (ligo-bind), but which are loose enough to allow the varied movements of the body. These bones may become sufficiently twisted or turned upon each other to cause pressure upon the nerves or vessels which pass between them, or, as a whole, the spine may become bent in any direction, causiung the different varieties of apinal curvature; which must be cured, if cured at all, by some such mechanical method as osteopathy: third, the thorax (the spine), together with the ribs and the breast bone, form the chest, a bony case, though not as complete as the skull, for the protection of the vital brgans, the heart and lungs. The ribs are attached just at the openings in the spine, and a slight turn in their direction may compress the nerves and vessels passing through hese quenings. The jibs and breast bone may be dropped or sagged, producing the hollow chest, which predisposes to consumption, and synich osteopathy can always correct if taken before actual disease has begun. Clamor for Funeral March Loads to Many Injuries.

Clamer for Funeral March Leads to Many Injuries.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—At a great demonstration last evening in the Pavlovsk Gardens, near Tsarskoe Sele, the five thousand persons present clamored for a funeral march in memory of the Russian sailers who had lost their lives in the naval disaster in the Sea of Japan. The members of the archestra becames alarmed and fied from the platform, when M. Novikoff. former Mayor of Baku, rose and said: "Let us all by rising show respect for the victims. Down with the war. We have had enough of blood."

Some eighty policemen entered from either side of the hall and showed their way through the crowd toward M. Novikoff, whereupon cries were raised of "Let us attack the police." Chairs were seized and hurled at the police, the crowd being led by a colonel with a drawn sword. The policemen fied. Order being restored a number of speeches were delivered on the national crisis. Suddenly the police, reinforced to between 200 and 300, again invaded the rall and rushed on the audience with drawn swords.

The people defended themselves with chairs and sticks, but after ten minutes were driven from the hall into gardens, where there was a battalion of trailleurs, who raised their rifles to their shoulders preliminary to the order to fire being given, causing a panic. The public fied toward the exits and finding them closed smashed the doors and windows of the hall and se gained the street. Many persons were injured.

M. Novikoff was arrested and the gardens were occupied by police and Cossacks.

High Powers Fer Trepost.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—The Russian Government has shown that it has not weakened in the heur of disaster. Instead of yielding to the stormy demands which the radicals hoped Rejestvensky's defeat would force the Government to grant, the Emperor Sunday issued a utase conferring greatly increased powers on Governor-General Trepost, making him assistant Minister of the Interior, in place of Major-General Rydectsky, who is made a Senator, also chief of the department of police and commander of the corps of general Rydectsky, who is made a Senator, also chief of the department of police and commander of the corps of general repost is given the right by the utage to close all assemblies and congresses, to suspend indefinitely all societies, leagues and other bedies manifesting pernicious activity, and to take all other steps necessary to preserve order so as to prevent interference with the established regime, and to suppress the revolutionary propaganda.

BUSY YEAR

In a conversation this morning His Worship the Mayor called attention to the fact that Chatham faced the busiest and most prosperous season in its history. The Wallaceburg & Lake Eric Rainway, the market building and the new armories are well under way; the Defiance Iron Works will soon be in its new quarters; the Bending Works are assured, and the Wm. Gray & Sons Ocontemplate the erection of an addition to their already immense establishment. The work of having our city attractive also grows apace, Head street, Murray street, Raleigh street, William street, and the market square already being assured. In addition to the foregoing, which may be classified as being more or less of a public nature, there are a great number of private enterprises astir, notable among which are the new buildings for both the Bank of Commerce, the Glassford Hotel and the Richards—Jahnke's Block.
