MARKET REVIEW AND FORECAST MAKKEI KEVIEW AND TORECAST

Toronto, Tuesday, December 26, 1911.—In for Ontario wheat remain unchanged, the every section of business except retail, price being 27c to 28c. On the Farmers' trade is taking on the holiday sepect. Market here, fall wheat is 28c to 38c, and conceniently the volume of trade this last week has been small.

The most notable feature of the ocarse term of the coarse trade that the strong of been small.

It is becoming increasingly evident that the situation in Western Canada is the most serious in years. Much of the wheat cannot be moved for lack of cars. All of the interior elevators are full and milthe interior elevators are full and mil-lions of bushels of wheat have no better covering than straw, and unless cars are obtained before warm weather sees actions farmers cannot dispose of enough wheat to meet present obligations, and the banks have refused to loan them more money. The Railway Commission is going west to investigate and the results of their visit may mean some relief for western farmors.

A review of the produce market this past week shows declines in oats, a new record for wheat and steady prices on the cattle market. Sheep and lambs are up and hogs indifferent.

WHEAT

Wheat prices have achieved a new high record for this season's crop of $1.09. A good strong demand from the Old Country and confirmation of reports of damage to crops in the southern hemisphere account for the rise in price. No. 1 Northern is quoted at $1.09. No. 2, $1.61-2; No. 3, $1.2; reed wheat. 78c. Market conditions
