

The Maple Sugar Season The sunny days and frosty nights of early spring bring out the sap, which is collected several times a day. The women help in boiling it down to a delicious syrup or sugar.—Sallows, photo.