Messus. Armstrong & Agnew, agents for agricultural implements, were in town last Friday introducing some of their machines. They represent several of the best manufacturing works in the Province. Their agency extends over five of the neighboring townships, Gorrie being the point from which they radiate.

Mr. W. M. Bruce, a licensed dental surgeon, will open an office in town, over Barnes fruit store, about the 20th of this month. Mr. B. has had two years' practice in the city of Toronto, and no doubt as gentlemen well skilled-in his profession. We welcome him as a new comer and trust that he may find Listowel a profitable location.

The Town Band.

For the first time this season the town band turned out on Monday evening and favored the citizens with a number of musical selections. Since their last appearance in public they have made a decided improvement. Regular practice and the adoption of a better class of music have, no doubt, had much to do with this. Could not a band stand be erected in some pleasant part of the town, and the band be induced to occupy it at least once a week? Less pretentious towns than Listowel have established weekly open air concerts; why could not something of this sort be inaugurated here? We feel sure that were proper accommodation offered the band, they would willingly supply an abundance of good music.

During two nights of the present week this lady has occupied the M. E. Church for the purpose of delivering lectures. On Tuesday evening she addressed a very fair andience on the subject, "Our Girls;" and on Wednesday evening she spoke in German to a very small house. As we had not the pleasure of cultivating the acquaintance of "Our Girls," and should have been none the wiser had we attended her German temperance address, we are not in a position to speak personally of her abilities as a lecturer. She is said to have administered some very good advice to "Our Girls," although her remarks were more of the common-place than eloquent order. Mrs. Skelton claims the rank of an authoress as well as lecturer, having already produced some half dozen works of more or less merit, and is now preparing another, "Home Life in Canada," the material for which she is gathering while pursuing her lecture tour.
