DEBATE IN BELGIAN CHAMBER

Brussels, July 6 .- The debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the interpellation of M. Von der Velde, the Socialist leader, on the administra-tion of the Congo Free State was resumed to-day. Baron de Favereau, Minister of Foreign Affairs, continued his defence of the administration. He said that the Free State's penal system was 'excellent. Few States had done so much in behalf of natives as the Congo State had done Public comploy aproad regardon natives as the Congo state had done. Public opinion abroad regarding the treatment of the natives had been strangely misled, but the world would eventually recognize the immense material and moral good that had been effected by the Congo Government of the congo Gover ernment. Many Americans and Englishmen had borne witness to the excellence of its organization and its humane treatment of the blacks.

Minister Woeste said that bloody crimes had been committed in Europe. and, he asked, how could disorders be avoided in a country 82 times the size of Belgium? As to cutting off the hands of natives as a punish-ment, of which so much had been ment, of which so much had been made by the attackers of the adminmade by the attackers of the administration, that was an ancient native custom. It was not done at the bidding of Belgian officers. He appealed to Great Britain to end the campaign of disparagement against Belgian of disparagement against Belgian of the statement of the statement against Belgian of the statement of the statemen After the sacrifices the Belgians had incurred, who would think of depriving them of the land which they had saturated with their sweat

M. Woeste submitted a motion comthe Chamber to agreement with the Government, and expressing confidence in the progressive development of the Congo State under the aegis of King Leopold. The debate was adjourned until tomorrow, when a division on the mo tion is expected.

SUSPENDED ELECTRIC RY

To be Formally Opened by the Kaiser Shortly.

FROM LONDON TO BRIGHTON.

Berlin, July 6.— Kaiser will open next week the only suspended electric railway in the world. It has been built between Barmen, Elberbeen built between Barmen, Elberfield and Vohwinkel, and for part of the way it runs over the River Wupper, and for part through these three busy towns. It does not interfere with the street and road traffic and it is cheaper than an ordinary line, as it can be slung over rivers and back streets and the only land required is that necessary to plant the supports of the structure.

In the case of the Barmen-Elber-field-Volwinker line the conclusion was arrived at that an overhead railway over the River Wapper was the only kind permissible, as an underground line would have been too costly, and there was absolutely no room for a surface railway or tramway. The question was whether the railway should be on the plan of the New York elevated railways, with the necessary girders placed in the bed of the river, or whether the suspended plan of Engineer Langen should be adopted. The latter won the day.

The promoters of the new system claim that this suspended railway, in consequence of its high and light construction, does not deprive the inhabitants of the houses along which it runs of either air, light, or free outlook.

The inhabitants, who have shown much artistic feeling in their architecture, do not seem to object to the carrying of the suspended line through their towns. This may be accounted for by the fact that the suspended railway is much less noisy than competing systems. The collector of the suspended railway is much less noisy than competing systems. aerial vibration from the whole structure lies, in amount, some-between that coming from Bow and trolley systems. Besides aerial vibration, surface railways also cause vibrations of much greater energy through the earth, and these, although they are not everywhere perceived, soon develop, in unfavorably situated buildings, tremblings of the walls and floors of more annoying character than the aerial noying character than the aeria disturbance. In respect to earth trembling, that caused by the suspended rali-way, is very markedly less than that caused from street transays, whose way, is very markedly less than that caused from street tramways, whose speed and carrying capacity are much less, while it is insignificant compared with that emanating from the ordinary surface heavy railway. The vibrations from the suspended railway do not reach the pended railway do not reach the earth foundations, except after passing through a girder and arch column; thus they are almost wholly

Well Behaved.

Rochester, July 6.—Leland Door Kent, sentenced for killing Ethel Blanche Dingle, was visited in Adburt. Prison yesterday by his attorney, Mr. kaines, who was told that Kent was in every way a model prisoner, and had already received two promotions for good conduct. The prison officials say his intelligence and readiness to perform 21 tasks assigned him have were the good will of his keepers.

When taken to Auburn, Kent was placed in the rear ranks of one of the marching companies, and has since been promoted to the front rank and is about to be placed in command of the company. He was first assigned to work in the broom factory, but was recently transferred to the backet factory.

Kent has grown very thin during his short confinement.

Work on the appeal of his case will be started soon, and if a new trial is secured it will be held in some county other than Monroe, as Mr. Raines believes his client could not receive fair treatment at the nands of a Monroe County judge. Mr. Raines said he had discovered new evidence, which, he believes, will be of maetrial benefit in the event of a new trial. Kent's parents lave visited him every visiting day since he was taken to Auburn.
