Bad Fire at Canning.

The prosperous town of Canning suffered one of the most disastrous fires in its history on Sunday morning last. Right buildings in the business section of the town with most of their contents were burned, causing a loss estimated at about sixty thousand dollars on which there was only thirty thousand dollars insurance.

The fire started in the stores of the Cornwallis Trading Company. It was discovered by the crew of the steamer Brunswick which arrived in port at about six o'clock. The fire had then made good headway and it is thought had been burning some time.

The buildings burned were: post-office, C. R. Dickey's flour and feed store, E. M. Beckwith's office building, R. W. North's hardware store, S. Hatheway's shoe-making establishment, Frederick Northup's grocery, A. D. Payzant's three stores—furniture, dry goods, etc., Cornwallis Trading Company's three stores—grocery, dry goods, meats.

The fire fighting apparatus of the town is limited, but the firemen, assisted by the citizens and a good water supply, succeeded in checking the flames, and thus prevented the whole town from being wiped out.

Everything was dry as tinder—the Cornwallis Trading Company was soon a mass of flames. Some goods were removed, but the proportion was small. The building was soon doomed, and the flames continued to roll onward. The stores of A. D. Payzant were next attacked, then Northup's grocery, Hatheway, shoe-maker, and R. W. North's hardware store. When the latter ignited, the inflammable material burned fiercely, and this building was soon reduced to ashes. Before it went down, however, the flames licked up the side of E. M. Beckwith's office building, and the burning embers therefrom were carried to the store of C. R. Dickey.

It was here that the firemen and citizens did heroic work, and checked the progress of the flames, which at times threatened to sweep away other buildings in the neighborhood.

Fortunately the wind was not very heavy, and the burning embers were not carried any great distance beyond the area above mentioned. J. E. Kennedy's grocery store was threatened, but it fortunately escaped.

While fighting the flames, Wiley Brewster, fell from the roof of a barn, a distance of twenty feet, and he was very severely injured. It is expected, however, that he will recover.

An Excellent Remedy for Little Ones.

Mrs. John C. Lepage, Rimouski, Que., writes:—'Your Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent remedy for little ones and I always keep them in the house.' Thousands of other mothers say the same thing. The Tablets always do good—they cannot possibly do harm. They are the only medicine for children sold under the absolute guarantee of a government analyst to contain no opiates or harmful drugs. They sweeten the stomach; regulate the bowels; break up colds; expel worms; cure indigestion and promote healthy sleep. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from 'The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Boy Scouts.

The Rifle Match on Saturday, in which there were about 25 competitors, resulted in a tie between Leander Thurlbur, Wolf Porter and Paul Tingley, Patrol. The shoot off gave the prize to Paul Tingley by a margin of one.

On Sunday the five patrols, Beaver, Wolf, Otter, Cuckoo and Fox, turned out to church parade in almost full numbers. The Rev. Mr. Webber preached a sermon full of practical advice which appealed directed to the boys.

On Saturday next the second competition in the series, Fire Fighting, will be held.

It is hoped that an excursion to Starr's Point may be arranged for Monday, July 1st.

The Paul Gilmore Co.

'Billy the Kid', the successful Western drama, while sensational, is consistent and tells a story that is full of interest, having for its big climaxes situations which are exceptionally dramatic. The comedy element is furnished by a good-natured Irishman, a fine type of old school Southern colonel and his colored orderly. The love interest that is developed in the telling of the story is exceedingly strong and the 15 pes which have been introduced by the authors are taken from life and well and clearly drawn. From a production standpoint the play is elaborate, each of the four acts having been given handsome and artistic settings. 'Billy the Kid' will be seen here on Friday evening, June 28th, at the Wolfville Opera House.

Edison.

It appears that the Wizard of Menlo Park is of Nova Scotia ancestry, as will be seen by a note recently received from him by a resident of this town:

Orange, N. J., June 13, 1912. Dear Sir—Replying to your favor I beg to say that my father's name was Samuel Edison, who was born at Digby, Nova Scotia, in 1824. He was the son of John Edison, who went from the United States to Nova Scotia soon after the close of the American War of Independence. Trusting that this information will answer your purpose.

I am yours very truly, THOMAS A. EDISON.

We learn from his biography that Edison himself was born at Milan, Erie county, Ohio, Feb. 11th, 1847.

Wedding Bells.

A wedding of more than usual interest took place in our town on Wednesday morning of this week when Mr. John A. McDonald, of Upper Dyke Village, and Miss Marguerite Taylor, of Wolfville, were united in marriage. Both the young people are well known and highly popular with their acquaintances, so a large group of friends gathered to lend cheer to this momentous event in their lives. The ceremony was in the Presbyterian church, the use of which was very kindly offered for the occasion, and was conducted by the bride's pastor, Rev. E. D. Webber. The wedding march was played by Miss Muriel Harrington. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple left by auto car for Halifax as the first stopping place on a tour of some weeks duration. Early in the autumn they expect to take up residence in Wolfville while Mr. McDonald completes his college course. THE ACADIAN extends best wishes.
