SIGNS AND PORTENTS
To those who believe in signs and portents, the sum of this year's figures, 1923-15—may afford some ground for the belief that events of importance, both at home and abroad are pending. The last time the total of the year's figures amounted to fifteen was eight years ago, and none of us are likely to forget 1914. The year 1905 also saw happenings of world-wide interest, including payment by Russia to England of an indemnity for the "North Sea Incident." In 1806 both Pitt and Fox died; 1815 saw Waterloo; in 1824 Byron died; and in 1851 the Great Exhibition was held. What, we wonder, will be the outstanding feature of 1923?

Mrs. Good Housekeeping was asked why it was she always served such good tea. Her answer was as follows:—"I always use MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE and I never make it so strong that I have to thin it out with hot water after it is poured in the cup. The best cup of tea is the cup that you get just as it comes from the pot."

BOYS NOT AFRAID TO WORK
The members of Harkins Academy, Football team are anxious to procure suitable uniforms to permit them to play football in a correct manner. These young men are not asking for donations to enable them to do so, but are willing to work for them. They have decided on a method, which no doubt should meet with the approval of the citizens. These boys are prepared, after school hours and on Saturdays, to perform work in the nature of piling, splitting and sawing wood, cleaning up yards or any other work of a similar nature, for those having such work to do. At this time of year there is always more or less of this kind of work needing attention, before winter sets in, and if any person, who wishes to have such work done, would advise Kenneth Brown, or any teacher of the Harkins Academy staff, the work will be promptly and satisfactorily attended to by the boys of the football team. Encourage boys of this type who are not afraid of work.

U. S. HUNTERS GET 100 CARIBOU

Wrangell, Alaska, Oct. 10—A caribou, killed by D. W. Bell of Williamsport, Penna., member of a party from the eastern part of the United States that has just arrived here after a big game hunt into the Cassiar country, across the Canadian boundary from Wrangell, was yesterday announced by experts as the largest specimen ever seen. The party brought in more than one hundred caribou stayed by its members. Many of these caribou were of a large size. R. N. Barnes of Boston, killed a moose whose antlers had a spread of 61½ inches. State Senator Robinson of Mohawk, N.Y., slew three grizzly bears, one of which was ten feet, two inches long and weighed more than 800 lbs. The large caribou obtained by Mr. Bell had antlers with a spread of 55½ inches and a length of 65½ in. It was of the ordinary species.

ENGLAND TO DISTRIBUTE MAIL BY AIR

To ascertain what time can be saved in the distribution of American and other mail for northern England and northern Ireland an airplane service from Plymouth to Manchester and Belfast is soon to be started by the British Air Ministry in cooperation with the De Havilland Aircraft Company, according to a report just received from American Consul R.C. Brusser. Upon notice by wireless from incoming American mail steamers approaching Plymouth motor trucks will be placed in readiness to transport mail from the steamers to the aerodrome, which probably will be located on Chelson Meadows—the largest accessible tract of level ground in the neighborhood and close to the harbor—a distance dispatched by plane to London, Manchester and Belfast for distribution in Great Britain and northern Ireland. The post office will be responsible for the handling of mail at Plymouth and other towns in the territory of distribution. The return journey from Belfast will be made via Manchester and Birmingham with the intention of linking up with the outgoing mail steamers at Southampton. However, planes will proceed no further than Birmingham for the present, as Southampton has no aerodrome suitable for the purpose. Although the service is primarily an air mail service, it is reported that arrangements also will be made to carry passengers.
