

LOCAL NEWS.

A NEW ARRIVAL.—The home of Randolph Cox, Campbell street, is blessed by the appearance of a son and heir. Congratulations.

CHEAP SALE.—Remember the sale of wall papers, commencing Monday, at the store lately occupied by E. B. Nixon. Great bargains.

OUT OF DURANCE VILE.—Two soldiers, Hache and Williams, who have been confined to the goal since July 12th for assaulting the police, were released Wednesday and taken to barracks.

FROM THE WEST.—Harry Tibbits, formerly station agent at Andover, but who has lately been living at Missoula, is visiting his friends in York county. He reports all the Fredericton boys in the west are doing well.

VACATION.—Engineer Taylor of the Fredericton water works, who together with engineer Ross were granted two weeks holidays, is now enjoying his vacation. His duties are being performed by Edward McMillin.

TRANSFERRED.—George W. Rabbit, of the 8th department of the bank of Nova Scotia, has been transferred to the bank in Moncton, and will arrive about the middle of this week to begin his duties.

REMOVED.—On Friday, J. H. Murch's horse which had been left standing near John M. Wiley's drug store, became tired of remaining inactive, and started down street. It was captured, however, before it had proceeded very far.

BEAT CONCERT.—The Matryville people are well supplied with music. Every Tuesday evening, the band favors them with a program. A large number of the city crowd up on Tuesday evening to listen to the delightful music of the band.

THE SEWER.—The York street sewer which has been in course of construction for some time is about completed, and is slowly pushing toward the river. As a result of the operation along York street, the asphalt is in a bad condition and should be repaired.

FIREWORKS.—At a meeting of the Fredericton fire department, Tuesday evening, it was decided to have a torchlight procession and display of fireworks, during the exhibition week. On the 17th, they will hold an entertainment to raise money, which should be patronized by the citizens.

AT BARNOR.—At the Barnor races last Friday, John McCoy's Mack P. won the 2.45 class in three straight heats, best time 2.33, and George Carvell's Speculation took the race in the 2.31 class, best time 2.31. Sir Charles captured first prize in the stallion competition at the fair. All three are St. John horses.

GALE DAY.—The Knights of Pythias have decided upon Oct. 7th, the second day of the exhibition as the day they will celebrate. The program contains a mammoth street parade, in which all lodges and uniform ranks in the Maritime province and those of Eastport, Bangor, Calais, etc., have been invited to take part.

SPREED TRIAL.—John Johnson, charged with the theft of a truck wagon from Edgecombe & Sons, was tried under the provisions of the act before Judge Steadman Tuesday, J. H. Barry appearing for the crown and G. A. Hughes for the prisoner. He was adjudged guilty of misdemeanor, and sentenced to three days in the county jail.

ACCIDENT.—While a young man named Todd was engaged painting the roof of J. C. Risten & Co.'s warehouse, on Wednesday last, the ladder on which he was standing slipped, precipitating him to the ground and hurting his leg somewhat. He was picked up and taken home. Medical assistance was summoned and young man is now doing well.

A FREDERICTON LADY APPOINTED.—Speaking of the Halifax school for the blind, the Halifax Chronicle of Saturday says: "The vacancy on the teaching staff caused by the resignation of Miss Hunter is filled by Miss J. E. G. Roberts, of Fredericton, N. B. Miss Roberts is a well-known magazine writer, and possesses her share of the literary taste of the Roberts family."

AT THE CITY HALL.—On Monday evening, The Reclaimed Company opened at the city hall for two nights, and will no doubt have a good house as they are a good company. The leading lady is Miss Nellie Robinson and the two pieces played are entirely new to the theatre-going people of this city. "Reclaimed" is a four act comedy in the bill for Monday night. Seats at Fenety's.

THE PARLOR MEETING.—The rink has been crowded every evening with people anxious to see Maud Muller, the 805 pound woman, and the paper King. The entertainment is a very pleasing feature, and musicians are delighted with the floods of music poured forth by George Dean Spaulding, on the cornet and harp, and F. H. Kent with the violin. This evening, the best gasser will receive an elegant suit of furniture valued at $50.

OUR EXHIBITION.—The preparations are being gradually completed for the exhibition to be held here on October 6, 7 and 8th. The premium list will attract competition, and an interesting feature of the exhibition will be Linn's, the stallion with a fourteen foot mane and tail twelve feet long. In addition to this the committee are making arrangements to have Allin's live rooster orchestra present, as well as Myrtle Cole, the celebrated bare-back rider.

LUMBER OUTLOOK.—The arrangements for the winter's lumber operations on the upper St. John, are being made with great estimation made in regard to the cut, place the probable amount at about 75,000,000, which will be 30,000,000 less than that of last year. The mills, however, will have plenty to keep them running, as if the cut of this season is all got out, together with the probable 60,000,000 that will be wintered over, will make about 130,000,000 for next year's sawing.

OSTER SUPPER.—York street restaurant was the scene of a happy gathering on Wednesday evening, when the members of the F. O. M. W. entertained their departing member, E. B. Nixon to an oyster supper. Music was furnished by the club orchestra, and the company were treated to solos by the singers of the club. During the evening a handsome pipe was presented to Mr. Perkins on behalf of the club, Geo. R. Perkins, the president, making the presentation in a nice little speech.

LAW SUIT.—The replevin suit which was concluded Tuesday at Oromocto, between sheriff Holden and jury, between Messrs. Hale & Murchie and Hilyard Bros., resulted in favor of the latter. The property in question was a quantity of spruce logs worth about $5,000, and which Hale & Murchie claimed and sought to hold by replevin. The case occupied several days and excited considerable interest. Geo. F. Gregory, Q. C., and D. F. Jordan, Q. C., for Hilyard Bros., and J. A. Vanwart, Q. C., for Hale & Murchie.

MARRIED.—An interesting event took place at the residence of Robert Mitchell of this city on Wednesday, by which his daughter, Beattie and Mr. Hoyt of the North Sydney Telegraph service were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Payson in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The presents were many and costly, as Miss Mitchell was a favorite wherever she was known. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt left by the morning train for a trip to Boston, New York, etc., followed by the well wishes of their numerous friends.

THE GOVERNMENT WILL WIN.

A Good Majority for Legere Assured.

A ROUSING RECEPTION AT BUCTOUCHE.

The Government Carry Everything at the Nomination Proceedings.

The political meeting held at Buctouche last Friday night was one of the grandest political occasions ever tendered any public man in this country, and from the minute the meeting opened, all doubt as to the result of the campaign, if such indeed there had been, vanished, and everybody had but one feeling—that Legere would be elected by a handsome majority.

On Tuesday, the combined picnic of the St. Andrews society and St. Pauls church will be held up the Nashwaak. A special excursion train will leave the Fredericton station at eight o'clock sharp. The grounds are beautifully located, and as a competent committee are in charge of the sports, etc., those attending will be sure of a good time.

An excursion party of about seven hundred persons came to this city on Tuesday from Chatham. A special train of 12 coaches conveyed the party. They spent the day seeing the points of interest in and about the city, and about five o'clock the excursion party boarded the cars for home.

On Wednesday, the Methodist of Central Kingsclear intend holding a tea meeting on the grounds of William McKay at that place. All the usual amusements will be provided, and in addition, the sermons of Rev. Mr. Harvey will be given. A band will be in attendance, and those wishing a good time cannot do better than attend the tea meeting. Should the weather prove unfavorable, it will be held on the next five days following.

The grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, of the Maritime provinces opened its fifth annual session at Spring Hill, N. S., Tuesday evening with an attendance of twenty-five delegates. The following grand officers were present: Grand chancellor E. A. Powers, vice-chancellor J. F. Frazer, prelate F. L. Peers, grand master of Excelsior Thos. Armstrong, grand recorder of records and seals John C. Henry, grand master at arms W. R. Parker, grand inner guard James D. Fowler and grand outer guard W. F. Nicholson. The grand chancellor read Mr. A. Nicholas, a fine appearance, read the following officers elected.

J. Fenwick Fraser, St. John, Grand Chancellor. F. L. Peers, Spring Hill, Vice Grand Chancellor. James D. Fowler, Fredericton, Grand Prelate. Thomas Armstrong, St. John, Grand Master of Excelsior. John Cherry, St. Stephen, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals. W. F. Nicholson, Woodstock, Grand Secretary. W. R. Parker, Moncton, Grand Inner Guard. Frank Fales, St. John, Grand Outer Guard. Murray Fleming, Supreme Representative for four years.

George Dunn, Trustee three years. The grand lodge accepted the invitation of Fredericton lodge to meet in Fredericton on the 3rd Tuesday in September 1892.

Will be Closed. The lease of the McAdam dining hall, which George W. Ross, of Vancouver, has had for five years, will expire on the 1st of October next, and as Mr. Ross does not intend to ask for a new lease, it is probable that the hotel will be closed. The closing of this house will be a great loss to the travelling public, for though it has not been up to the mark in some respects, its patrons would like, yet it has been as well kept as the circumstances would permit. Mr. Bishop, who has been in charge for the past two years, has labored most assiduously to please his patrons, and if he has not succeeded the fault is not his. The house wants modernizing a good deal to bring it up to the requirements of travellers.—Beacon.

Two Genuine Harvest Excursions.—Will be run from Chicago, Milwaukee, and other points on the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, to points in Western Minnesota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and Montana, at cheap rates, from August 23rd and September 2nd, 1891. For further particulars apply to the nearest coupon ticket agent or address A. J. TALLOS, C. P. agent Toronto, Ont. or Geo. HARRISON, Gen'l Pass agent, Chicago, Ill. P. S.—It will do your heart good to see the magnificent crops in South Dakota. They are simply immense.

Literary Notes from the Century Co. Rudyard Kipling's new novel, written in collaboration with Wolcott Balestier for the Century, is entitled "The Naulahka, a Tale of West and East." It is a story of America and India. The principal characters live in "booming" Calcutta, where the story opens, but the scene quickly shifts to the court of an Indian maharajah, whither the hero and the heroine journey to meet with most varied adventures. The story will begin in the November Century.

Mrs. Burton Harrison, the author of "The Anglomaniacs," has written a new novel of New York life upon "The Tabor of this city." It is said to deal with divorce.

PERSONAL. Concerning People Known to Most Readers. Frank I. Morrison leaves on Monday for an extended tour to Ontario and the eastern and southern States. J. A. Vanwart went to Chatham this week to attend the session of the Northumberland county court. Messrs. Geo. W. Adams and Geo. R. Perkins of this city, who have been spending their vacation at St. Andrews, returned home Monday.

Andrew Richey, of the firm of Ingersoll & Richey, Haverhill, formerly of this city, is here on a visit to his relatives. He is accompanied by his wife.

Police Penalties. On Wednesday, an interesting civil case came up before police magistrate Marsh, in which Mrs. Bartlett, of St. Mary, is sued for an account in ten dollars by J. W. Tabor of this city. The defendant showed a receipt obtained from A. J. Blair, a former clerk for Tabor, but now in Boston. An adjournment was made in order to obtain him as a witness. Some other civil matters were disposed of.

Police Intelligence. The Scott act case against Andrew McCoy which has been adjourned from about three weeks ago, came up again for trial on Friday. The absent witness, Samuel Cole was produced, and put upon the stand. He gave evidence that he neither obtained any kind of spurious liquor from McCoy during that time, nor was he McCoy's place of business during the time mentioned in the information. The case stands over.

Canada's International Exhibition, ST. JOHN, N. B. SEPTEMBER 23rd to OCTOBER 3rd, 1891.

INDUSTRIAL AND AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

Competition open to the world. Stalls and power free. The largest array of special attractions ever collected together in the Maritime provinces.

Balloon ascensions with parachute drops. Splendid fireworks displays. Electrical and mechanical novelties in great variety.

For full information, address A BLUENOSE SARATOGA. A Trip to St. Andrews, the Saratoga of New Brunswick.

It is to be regretted that the pleasure trip to St. Andrews via the C. P. R. last Saturday was not better patronized, as it is one of the finest trips to be had, as it passes through a large portion of the best cultivated land in the province.

Leaving Fredericton by the 7:15 train, we speed along the lines between Fredericton and Fredericton Junction, past farm houses of thrifty farmers, who may be observed taking advantage of the moment of respite from the weather (about the nearest they can get to it now-a-days) by starting into their harvesting which has been so delayed by the heavy rains.

Towards the east named places the clearings become more pronounced and arriving at the village itself with a rush and a roar, we land at the station, there to await the St. John train. At McAdam, where we again change cars, the C. P. R. train from the west is two hours late, which involves that much delay, during which time we visit the extensive railway works. At this point we bid farewell to our companions from Fredericton, but who are now on their way to the states, some on pleasure trips, and others, the larger majority, going from New York to St. John, and very likely in the country. Our train arrives at last, and we set ourselves for a pleasant ride on the fastest train on the road—conductor Henderson's. After a ride of about two hours, we arrive at West Junction, where we again change cars for St. Andrews.

The scenery along this line, from West Junction to our destination, is very beautiful, and the lakes that abound are large and present a fine appearance. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday excursion boat for Eastport, and enjoy an excellent view of St. Andrews harbor and the surroundings. On arriving at Eastport, the principal feature that attracts the attention is the large number of sardine factories, which line the wharves. The steamer here connects with the New Brunswick line, and the arrangements for the comfort of the passengers are perfect. About twelve o'clock we arrive at St. Andrews and stop at that well-known and excellent hotel, Kennedy's hotel. The hotel has lately been refitted, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests are perfect. We visit the numerous places of interest, such as the Algonquin and Argyle hotels, the Fort, etc., and then to the island band, sometimes called the "island band," which is parallel to the streets. The band was composed of musicians from Calais and St. Stephen, who have been camping on the island opposite West Junction for some time. After a late breakfast next morning, we take the Sunday