LAGER AND WHISKY

Prohibition Prevails in Goderich Just Now.

John McBride, of the Albion Hotel, Goderich, appeared before mayor Hor-ton on Friday, charged with selling liquor contrary to the Canada Tempert. W. Proudfoot conducted the case Helt. W. Proudfoot conducted the case for the Inspector. The case had been adjourned from the previous Saturday. There was the usual legal sparring at the opening of the case, Holt making two objections on behalf of the deft. (1) That he had not been served with a summons, only with a copy of one.

His worship—The objection was a good one had it been taken in the first name that the defendant had accepted.

place, but the defendant had accepted prvi e, by appearing and pleading "not

Mr. Holt also took objection to the aformation on the ground that it covered the 5th and 6th days of July as the days on which the alleged offence might have been committed. The information have been committed. The information should be to the effect that the defendant sold liquor on a certain day. If it turned out that defendant sold liquor on any other day but that named in the information, then his worship could have the information amended. Another objection still was that the information did not show that it was taken before Mr. Horton as mayor of the town of Gederick. Neither did the summonses. As Horton as mayor of the town of Gederich. Neither did the summonses. As a justice of the peace his worship had no right or power to act in this matter. He had power as a mayor, not as a J. P. It was just as when before two magistrates, the information should name both magistrates. He also took objection on the same ground to the summonses.

Mr. Proudfoot said there was really nothing in the objection to the informa-tion. The printed words put there were mere surpluses. They could be struck out, as they had no bearing on the matter, and the summonses and informa tion would still contain all that was required. The fact that the defendant had appeared and pleaded to an information taken before the mayor of the town of Goderich settled any question as to the correctness of the information in that respect. As to the objection that the information could not be made to cover more than one day, that had been dis-posed of in the Wallace case. He also cited other instances where the information had been made to extend over 30 days.

Mr. Holt held that the plaintiff did not waive any right to object by appearing before the Mayor. He still claimed that the information was wrong.

The mayor over-ruled the objections.

Mr. Proudfoot then put in a copy of the Canada Gazette, to show that the Act was in force in Huron.

David Donaldson, bar-tender of the Constable Johnston swore to having served Donaldson with a summons to appear as a witness. He served him on Wednesday, the 22nd of July. Richard Sinmonds, shoemaker, sworn, said: I live in the town of Goderich, and been run as a hotel for about 20 years; been run as a hotel for about 21 years; there is a bar room in it; I don't know whether there has been any change in it since the Scott Act came into force; any by going into the box. Mr. Prondfoot—Were you approached evening that I got my subpoens, and he said: "Well, Simmonds, did you get your subpoens?" I said "Yes;" he said,

"Do you recollect what you get?" and I said, "Yes, I did;" and he said, "That's all right;" he didn't try to persuade me that I hadn't got the liquor that I took.
To Mr. Proudfoot—When I went into the bar-room the door was open, and I asked for what I wanted; I had no difficulty in getting it; I asked for what I wanted, and didn't take it without.

To Mr. Holt-I didn't see Montgomery pay for it; and the only reason I have for thinking that he did was he is a man who will pay for what he gets. Thomas Robertson, blacksmith,

Thomas Robertson, blacksmith, was the next witness. He was sworn and said:—I live in Goderich, and know the Albion hotel; it is kept by Mr. Mo-Bride; I could not say how long he has kept it; but he kept it before the Soctt Act came into force; I was in the hotel on Saturday the 3rd of July; I had somathing to drisk there; I said "Give me a drink;" I didn't ask for anything particular; I cannot say who was behind the bar; it was either McBride or Donaldson, but I cannot remember; Donaldson appears to be his bartender; to the knowledge it was the Saturday after the 1st of July, but I will not positively swear that it was on that day; it was etween six and seven in the evening behind the bar; I don't remember whether McBride or Donaldson was there; but it was either one of them; I don't knew Donaldson is in the employ of McBride or not, in any capacity; I went in and asked some one to give me a drink; I didn't mention any kind of liquor; but I got the drink; it was givto me then and there; I will swear to the best of my knowledge that it was it. tha best of my knowledge, that it was; I told Mr. Yates last night that to the best of my knowledge I had a drink of liquor there; I could not tell whether it was in-there; I could not tell whether it was intoxicating or spirituous; I have not been drinking anything for some time.

To Mr. Proudfoot—I was there on the Saturday night after the 1st of July to the best of my knowledge; I have seen Donaldson behind the bar, when I was in the hotel. To the best of my opinion it was whiskey I got to the best of my

T. B. VanEvery, shipping clerk, was called as a witness, but did not appear. Asher Farrow, collector of customs, but did not respond.

F. W. Johnston, Reeve of Goderich,

Bride served me that time, too; that is the last time I was in there; I saw no one else in the bar.

To Mr. Holt—I didn't tell anyone that I had been an infraction of the law, it was his duty to place the defendant on his defence, and if he did not testify, then the inference was that he could not rebut the evidence that there was against him. Had this defendant one else in the bar.

OUR AIN BOYS .- On Tuesday evening of last week a number of young people, with friends from Dunlop and Dungannon, gathered at the hospitable residence of W. Clutton, sr., to tender a welcome to our students, Wm. H. Clutton, Peter Stuart and Harry Horton, whose familiar forms met many a bright smile from the fair area. Counce had its least in the fair sex. Croquet had its leaders in G. H. Clutton and F. B. Linfield. Baseball sides found Harry Horton and J. H. Williams as rival captains, with the ladies interest rather divided. The game was won by the latter side. After an adjournment at the house a short time, songs were given by Harry Horton, Edith Horton, Miss McManus and Miss Macdonald, of Dunlop, and recitations by J. Linklater, F. Linfield and G. H. Clatton. The Dunlop scribe made a few remarks, congratulating all present on the merry evening they had, and ex-pressing thanks to their host and hostess for their kind attention to the guests.
