The Engineering Combine.

The Hon. James Angel, President of the Angel Engineering Company Ltd., invited fifteen of his trusted and older employers, some of whom had been with him, from 20 to 40 years, to his residence last night to have a talk to them about the sale of the plant, etc., to the Reid Newfoundland Company.

The transfer deals date from the beginning of the year, but matters were not actually finalized until the beginning of this week. The men who had served Mr. Angel faithfully and well for a long period of years were naturally somewhat concerned as to their jobs under the new management. Mr. Angel told the men that this matter had been discussed between him and Mr. W. D. Reid, the President of the Reid Newfoundland Company, and that he had Mr. Reid's assurance that they would receive fair and proper consideration from the new management. All who served their new employers as faithfully and loyally as they had served him need have no fear of their jobs. Present day conditions had made it desirable for the Angel Engineering Company to accept the offer of the Reid Newfoundland Company.

There was not enough work offering to keep two large engineering shops in the city competing against one another. There were not as many lams ducks, needing the services of such shops as formerly, and when they did come, the cutting of one firm against the other, made the jobs of little value, besides which they could not be done as expeditiously and as well, as under the new arrangement, when the staffs of the two shops, could be concentrated on "rush" jobs, such as these usually are. Mr. Angel distributed some $500 among the men present as a recognition of their trusty and faithful services to him and expressed the confidence he felt that they would be as true in the future to the new management as they had been to him and his associates in the past.

Cochrane Street Church.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the men of the congregation was held last evening, when the church accounts were read and the question of the debt on the church property taken up; and it was the unanimous decision of the meeting that, with an earnest effort by the members of the congregation, it would be possible to clear off the debt in five years, and those present stated that they would do their best to carry this out. This congregation has always given well, and there is no doubt that there will be a splendid result from the special effort which will now be put forth.

Personal.

Miss Gertie Hall, pupil of Cove Rd. School, Miss O'Brien, Teacher, received by last English mail a Shortland Diploma of Accuracy (reporting style) from J. M. Sloan, Esq., Rams-gate, Eng.

TO-NIGHT'S WRESTLING MATCH.—The wrestling match to-night in the C. L. B. Armoury between Young Olson and Bob Berry, for the middle weight championship promises to be of absorbing interest and a crowded house should certainly result. Both men are in good condition and to-day bets are freely circulating on the outcome, odds being given in favor of Olson.

BROKE TWO OF HIS RIBS.—Peter Mitchell of Portugal Cove, broke two of his ribs yesterday while cutting firewood in the woods near Portugal Cove. He was cutting a tree and was standing on a windfall about six feet from the ground. The latter broke and he fell on a stump sideways, breaking two of his ribs. He had to be hauled home on boughs by his companions as they did not have a slide.

HAD ROUGH VOYAGE.—The sch'r. Nellie M. which arrived here last night, after leaving the neighbourhood of Bermuda had terrible weather. She had to run before the storm on times under bare poles, was 38 days on the voyage and had her Jumbo and foresail blown out of the bolt ropes while seas occasionally made a clean breach over her and swept away some of the deck gear. She had several snow storms and met much slob ice 2 miles off Cape Race.
