CLEAN UP!

This demand applies equally to the physical features of the city of St. John's (municipality) no less than to the moral. Ever since the last snows of winter melted away, there has been a cry of clean up from the citizens and ratepayers. How far that cry has been heard by those responsible is not difficult to discover. Apparently it has fallen upon deaf ears, for but little heed has been given it. Excepting in the most superficial way there has been no cleaning up of the city streets on a systematic basis. Sporadic attempts have been made here and there, with results that are more imaginary than real. During rain storms the mire on the most used thoroughfares is ankle deep. After a day's sun and with the lightest breeze of wind the dust pest is intolerable to pedestrians, and they are exposed to the dangers of suffocation not alone from the clouds of dust raised by the wind but also those stirred up by motor cars and trucks, which dash along merrily and with an utter disregard to the rights of the foot passenger. Regulations there may be, but it is patent that these are more honored in the breach than in the observance. In this instance then clean up becomes the duty of the City Fathers. Other instances could be given, not bearing upon the dust nuisance, but upon the sidewalk cleansing process by means of hose, which usually takes place when people are going to work, between the half hour from 8.30 to 9 o'clock.

The other Clean Up demand is of a different nature. Can it be true, as reported by a contemporary, that there is a festering sore on the moral body of this city? A sore that needs drastic treatment, and which, if not attended to at once, will spread and spread until cure is impossible. It has been charged that there are "redlight" sections in this town frequented by men and women who move in what is known as Society, and with a capital S., if you please. Some of these have been raided by the police, but it is noticeable that no prosecutions have followed. The aged woman who dispenses spruce for hop beer for a consideration in order to earn a livelihood, is hailed before the Court, when suspicions are aroused that her liquid refreshments are over-proof and capable of causing consumers to become intoxicated. The man who through over-indulgence becomes hilariously inebriated and departs from the paths of peace is likewise caused to appear before the judge and either receives a lecture on the evil habits of indulgence, or pays a small contribution into court toward the expenses of the Colony. But the rone, the profligate, the frequenter of houses of ill-fame, even when discovered by the police and routed out, rarely, if ever, comes before the bar to answer for immoralities that are a crime against the civil and social codes. Shielding of such loose characters, whether male or female, is but placing a premium on the continuance of actions that bring the fair name of St. John's into disrepute, and but offer an incentive to the increase of illicit intercourse.

Sugar.

EXCESSIVE PRICE INCREASES.

The price of Sugar in August of last year was $12.00 per 100 pounds wholesale. Recent advances have brought the price up to that figure again. At present, however, wholesale dealers are selling at $11.50 in one and five barrel lots and at $11.25 in 50 and 100 barrel lots. The existing tariff rate on sugar accounts for $6.10 per 100 pounds, so that without the duty the price would be only six cents per pound, which some dealers consider is cheap enough under present conditions.

Our Local Peeps.

HIS DIARY.

July 27th.—Up betimes and abroad. I did meet with Mr. Mews and did have discourse with him of the Cabot and its intent to have a steamship service direct to West Indies, Anon, meeting Hon. G. Shea, that is the acting Premier, he tells me that the Cabot did have this matter on their minds this long time, and will try it as an experiment. It is, I think, like to be a good thing, and will cost less than divers other experiments which the Cabot did try. I learn to-day how the City Council will ask for a loan of $250,000 to improve the city's sewerage, which is a matter that should have long ago received their attention. The Regatta Committee did hold a meeting in the night, but they fell into quibbling and argument, and, indeed, little else have they done this year.

Well Known Clergyman Passes Away.

A well known citizen and esteemed Minister of the Church of Scotland in Jamaica, the Rev. William Graham, has died in Edinburgh, Scotland, with his wife, a daughter of the late Sir Robert Thorburn, of St. John's Newfoundland, he arrived from the West Indies a month ago (writes a correspondent) to enjoy a time of rest after long continuous work, and to have the benefit of surgical skill. He was received into the Deaconess Hospital, where an operation was performed, and he seemed to be doing well, but his strength unexpectedly failed, and he passed away. Born in Lochmaben, sixty-three years ago, he received his education in arts and divinity in Edinburgh University, and after acting as assistant for a time in Cononagh parish, he was called to be minister of the Presbyterian Church of St. John's Newfoundland. While he was there, half the city, including his church and manse were burned down, and mainly through his energy and vigour were rebuilt and freed of debt, and a period of prosperity opened again for his congregation. In 1917 the Rev. Mr. Graham visiting friends in Curling, while on a visit from Jamaica.

He has left behind him a widow, six sons, and one daughter. He will be greatly missed both by his congregation and by the people of Jamaica, for his personality was unique.—Western Star.

Road Work.

TELEPHONE COMPANY WILL CO-OPERATE.

The Avalon Telephone Company have notified the Road Commission that they will co-operate with them in any way they can, and this is taken to mean that the telephone poles on Topsail Hill, about which complaints have been made, will be moved back. These poles take up a considerable amount of road space and are a danger to motorists. The Torbay Road is now being repaired under the direction of the Board of Works. Good work is being done, but it has been suggested that red flags or similar warnings of danger, should be placed near openings in the road. Work on the Portage Cove road was temporarily delayed while some repairs were being effected to the machinery. This road is in a very bad condition and repairs are urgently needed.

Tourists Return.

SIR M. P. CASHIN AND M. CONNORS ARRIVE FROM TRIP AROUND ISLAND.

The trim ship Cabot with Sir Michael Cashin and Mr. M. Connors on board steamed into port yesterday afternoon, after completing two thousand miles of a cruise around the island and on Labrador. The ship called at over fifty ports and the trip proved both interesting and enjoyable. The Cabot left here on July 12th, having in tow the Lunenburg schooner Shepherd King bound to Burin. The port was reached in 30 hours, after which the ship went to the wreck of the Canadian Comander at Miquelon. Lloyd's agent going along with the party from Burin. After landing the agent the Cabot returned to St. Lawrence. Sir Michael reports the fishery looking up fairly well there, especially hand liners. At Burin the trap fishery was good, and the day before visiting the beach for the day was about 3000 qts. Going up the South Coast the Cabot touched at Lawn, where very little was being done. At Ramea the fishery was a bank. Pleasant and Bay St. George and Bonne Bay were visited, the visitors staying over for the best part of a day at the latter place interviewing the business and other prominent people. Bonne Bay is slowly recovering from the effects of the disastrous fire of some months ago. The Government is expending about $20,000 there, and is erecting a public wharf and stores. Enterprising firms are also rebuilding their premises. Leaving Bonne Bay the Cabot went through the Straits of Belle Isle, and received reports from the schooners. Grand's crews have about 8,000 qts. of fish and Whiteley about 3,000. The fishery on the Newfoundland side is the worst for years. The weather was very foggy and icebergs were numerous. During a lift in the fog as many as 100 bergs were counted between Belle Isle and Battle Har. On the Labrador, Holey Harbor was made. The vessels there were not doing anything with fish and were preparing to go North. Battle Har. where the ship took water, the fishery was very backward. The total catch for the biggest branch firm there did not reach 1000 qts. The next place visited was at Rigolette, after which the Cabot steamed for 90 miles up the North West River. The arrival of a steamer was anxiously awaited by the Esquimaux, who were expecting the arrival of the missionaries. Over 200 Indian people were shipped on the sea shore near Revillon Freres premises when the Cabot arrived. The bay Esquimaux, however, arrived two days afterwards with the Missioners, Rev. Dr. Whelan and Rev. Father O'Brien. The salmon fishery at Rigolette was very good and reports from North of there were very encouraging. At Salmon Light, and the port of Colville, the fishery was good and the visitor had an interesting chat with Mr. Howlett, who is agent there for Murray. On the return to the Cabot called at the important stations. Over 100 schooners were met going North, and reports were given to about 70 per cent. of those reaching the Newfoundland coast. The Cabot called at Griquet. The fishery here was bad. At Conche there was much better reports and about 1000 qts. of fish were ashore. At Twillingate Sir Michael also received poor accounts of the fishery. At Foggo things were looking fairly well, reaching the Cabot at St. John's yesterday. The fishery there, which has been exceptionally good, shows signs of slackening up. Captain and crew of the ship, the last ports of call made, Sir Michael and Mr. Connors are looking well after their trip. Mr. Connors put on 19 lbs. in weight during the three weeks voyage. Sir Michael, when asked about the gold find on the Labrador, said that Mr. Connors was looking after that end of the expedition, and was keeping his discovery very close.

C. L. B. Cadets.

LAST DAY AT CAMP.

Very little drill was done at camp yesterday, as it was the last day. The Annual Camp Dance was held in the night and proved a great success. Many people came in from town for the occasion, and the music provided by the band, was all that could be desired. As only a small number of the last night under canvas, practical jokes of various kinds were played on both officers and men. Lieut. Motley, Camp Quartermaster, was drinking of the mutton he had provided for dinner yesterday, when a violent blow in the chest, caused him to wake with a start. As soon as his eyes became accustomed to the darkness, he discovered his assailant to be a sheep which had been introduced during the early hours of the morning into the tent. He seized Lieut. Hayward's boot and threw it at the intruder which was about to pounce Lieut. Reeve's moustache. It started suddenly, jumped on Lieut. Reid's chest, and then gambolled madly round the tent, knocking over the bureau, the pride of the tent's occupants, and waking the whole camp with its plaintive "baa's". Later in the morning, "King" Bursell discovered that his horse, the envy of the camp, had disappeared. A search was immediately instituted and the animal was finally discovered locked in the officer's mess, but evidently enjoying itself, judging by the manner in which it was making love to Major Lindsay's cigars. This beat the joke in which the horse had been introduced walked off with the hat of a prominent visitor, to a Toppail hotel.

This morning camp was struck and at 2.30 p.m. the Band and Cavalry tramped to town. It will be met by the Band at Albany at 7.30 p.m. and will parade to the Armoury for dismissal.

To the Memory

OF THE LATE CHAS. R. DUDER. Drowned at Ocean Pond, Saturday, July 22nd, 1922.

Oh, what thoughts are floating o'er me As I weave my mournful lay— Thoughts of boyhood come before me On a pleasant summer day. When at cricket "Charley" fielded Handsome featured, kind and tall, How the bat he often wielded With great skill, I now recall. Many years since then have glided Since I watched his manly form, When in sorrow friends consoled Under his heart was warm. He'll be missed on earth by many Ah! there's grief in town to-day, Poes, dear "Charley" hadn't any To confront him on life's way.

To his wife and sons and daughters Come the message o'er the phone, Far beneath the gloomy waters That his soul to God has flown. Ah! what sadness was prevailing When the news to them was broke, While his many friends untailing In their hearts a grief awake.

Chesley Crocker from the city His companion and his friend, It awakes our love and pity Both were faithful to the end. They were found beside each other Deep beneath the chilly wave, No doubt, "Charley" proved a brother Trying "Chesley's" life to save.

There is grief, and pain, and sorrow In those orphan homes to-day, Strength from one strong hand they'll borrow To upkeep them on life's way. He will guard them, He will guide them Yes dear Lord they'll look to thee, As He did with those beside Him On the lake of Galilee.

Ah! we'll miss those handsome features And that tall well moulded form, Who to one of God's own creatures Never wrought the slightest harm. That he did a noble action That sad eve on Ocean Pond, So think every creed and faction And will live as years roll on. CITIZEN.
