WAITING!

The whole country is now waiting in the deepest anxiety to see what the Government is going to do towards the fulfilment of the numerous promises in regard to labor made to the people before the Election. The usual Spring business of issuing supplies for the fishery is at a standstill and the merchants, who were called "skunks" and "robbers" by the Prime Minister, seem to be resolved to stand aside and no longer run the risk of having those epithets applied to them, because of the fact that they issued supplies for the fishery. Apart from this, as a matter of fact, while the shadow of Coaker domination hovers over the fish export trade of Newfoundland, no fish merchant will want to risk his money, if he has any left, and if he has not, was it not Coaker's Fish Regulations that ruined many of our leading merchants. Surely then, with Coaker still in charge and many new schemes afoot, the merchant cannot take the risk of issuing supplies. This is one of the weakest spots in the Squires Government and what makes it more threatening just now is that there is no surmise about the matter, as Mr. Coaker has already, on divers occasions, and in the Press, heralded to the world his new panacea, second only to the Humber Deal, namely: "The Nationalization of Cod-fish" to be exported from Newfoundland. There is no room for doubt about that. He comes back with his eleven men (assuming that St. Barbe has also swallowed the dope) and will still hold the whip-hand over the Squires Government. The knowledge of this is what is keeping the wheels of commerce stalled and causing the merchants to tell the skippers of their schooners to "moor them off the wharf as there is nothing doing in supplies." There are 45,000 fishermen in Newfoundland waiting for Coaker and Squires to show them how the fishery can be carried on the coming summer so that they can get the supplies they require, and these having been secured, how they can, even when they get a good voyage of fish, make the undertaking pay at $8.50 for Labrador and $5.00 for Shore fish.

Open the House.

In view of the critical situation in which the workers of the country, the fishermen, the laborers and the mechanics, find themselves at the present time and the downward trend of all trade business and industry, we feel that we are voicing the sentiments of the whole country in suggesting to Premier Squires that he should at once call the Legislature together and lose no time before discussing ways and means to lift this unfortunate land out of the slough of despond in which it is fast sinking. He and his colleagues during the election on platforms and in their papers never missed an occasion to induce the electors to believe that they would find employment for them all, and that the prosperity of the country could be assured only by the election of the Squires-Coaker Government. The majority of the voters took them at their word and returned them to power. It is now—as the Americans say—"Up to them to deliver the goods." There is no time to be lost for we can assure them, that the thousands of voters who were "helped" in various ways, during the weeks when canvassing for votes was going on, are still living men and require the necessities of life. Their want did not end when they deposited their ballots. Let the House be opened then at once, so that out of the deliberations that may be held there, the people may see some hope of getting employment for the summer. In addition to those who have already left the country, there are hundreds more waiting in suspense, as to whether they too, will emigrate. They should no longer be kept in waiting for the knowledge as to what the Government intends to do with regard to the Humber work and the Codfishery. If the former is such a good proposition as we have been told again and again, then, by all means, open the House; let the terms be known and the Deal ratified, so that the numbers of men seeking employment may be able to get to work. It is not now of any importance to the people of the country whether this defeated candidate or that elected one, in Squires' Party gets an office and a salary, or what is to be the personnel of his Executive; but it is important, and vitally so, whether the 50,000 workers of Newfoundland will get such employment this summer as will enable them to earn sufficient to live on during next winter. Then by all means open the House and lay the cards on the table.

Collecting Ballot Boxes.

EXPECTING ST. BARBE COUNT TO-MORROW.

It is expected that by to-morrow the ballot boxes in St. Barbe District will have been collected and that possibly the count will be made known during the evening. Over this long stretch of coast communication is difficult and the collecting of the boxes has, in many cases, to be done by dog teams.

The jury retired and after a half hour's consideration of the evidence returned to Court and through foreman T. Harris announced a true bill in each case. Grey will be arraigned on Friday and Squires on Saturday before a petty jury. It is understood that both prisoners pleaded not guilty.

The Unemployment Situation.

A large number of men who have not earned anything since Nomination Day congregated in front of the Board of Works Office to-day in anticipation that some work was to be given or tickets for the Humber distributed. So far as can be learned nothing is being done by the department to relieve the situation. In view of the fact that it was absolutely necessary to give out relief during nomination week, the condition of some of these men and their families must now be deplorable, and if the relief was necessary then it must be equally so now.

Libel Suit Settled.

ADVOCATE MAKES APOLOGY.

In the Supreme Court this morning Mr. A. B. Morine, acting for Mr. John H. Collins of Catalina, in the matter of Collins vs. The Union Publishing Co. for libel, announced that the matter had been settled out of court on the payment of $100 expenses and the publication of an explanation as follows:—

"In the Advocate, on the 13th of February last, appeared a letter from Catalina containing statements for which Mr. John H. Collins promptly took a libel action against the Union Publishing Co., Ltd., alleging that they were damaging to his reputation by implying that a store belonging to Mr. Collins was destroyed by fire through his act of contrivance, and that the author of the letter in the Advocate had information to that effect which he could produce. The action has been settled, upon the terms that an explanation to Mr. Collins shall appear in the Advocate, and that the expenses of the action shall be paid by the defendant. The letter in question was incautiously published, in the heat of preparation for the general election, and upon enquiry it has been found that there was no ground for attributing any misconduct to Mr. Collins in relation to the fire referred to, and the Advocate regrets that the words complained of appeared in its columns."

The above apology appeared in the Advocate of Saturday last.

Ladies who know good perfume, have given their approval to Hudnut's, so it has quickly come into popular favour. The Three Flowers odor is the fascinating scent in Hudnut's Face Powder, Talcum and Vanishing Creams too, and these are all most beautiful and distinctive Toilet requisites. You will simply rave about the glorious odor. Try Three Flowers Powder next time.—may14.11
