They only had several of best men away, such as the Airds and the Elliotts, but from beginning to end ex-hibited none of that dash and brilliant hibited none of that dash and brilliant maneuvreing which informer championship matches have been especial features of their play. On the contrary, if anything their execution on Saturday displayed only too vividly its weakness by the resert to such unworthy tactics as holding sticks, tripping, etc. Of absolute roughness there was very little, only one man coming in for anything like an ugly knock and that W.H. Hubbell, the Toronto point, who received a nasty accidental blow on the eye. The spectators were kind enough to raise several cries of "foul," but the referee had no necessity to exercise any of the penal powers with which he is provided.

About 2.30 a shower of rain fell, and the sky continuing to be overcast the attendance was not so large as the reputation of the clubs would warrant the expectation of, only about fifteen hundred or two thousand being present and there being an almost entire absence of that gay assemblage of ladies which usually adorns the grand stand.

first time secured the ball, which took a speedy flight northward, where a determined onshaught was made on the Toronto fortress. Hubbell and Garvin, the Toronto main defence, were too much for the opposing home and by a pretty piece of work succeeded in diverting the attack. A quick journey down the field saw the ball in the journey down the held saw the ball in the vicinity of Eckardt, one of the Toronto home, and a clever shot on goal from his stick was capitally stopped by Paton. Again the phase of the game changed and Sam Martin was called upon to exert all his faculties in defence of the home club's goal. This he did most effectually, although his throwing was somewhat erratic. In this way the play proceeded for twenty-six minutes, at the expiration of which time Eckardt made the lucky shot for the Torontos that won them the game and the

The play on meither side was up to championship form. The field of both teams was deficient, but especially of the Torontos, all the work being confined to either the defence or the home. Still the Torontos did well, and although there is talk of making some—changes next Saturday, when they meet the Ontarios, the wisdom of doing so is doubtful, except in the case possibly of Hardy, who on Saturday appeared rather astray, and for whom Alf. Blight would make an excellent substitute. The great beauty of the present stitute. The great beauty of the present twelve arises from the fact that it is composed entirely of men who were almost born with a lacrosse in their hands, who think practice a pleasure and not a hardship, and whose whole hearts are cenhardship, and whose whole nearts are cen-tred in the work. For these reasons we think it would be wise to keep them to-gether, and with good coaching no fear need be felt even when they collide with the yeterans of the Shamrock club.

The Shamrocks Defeat the Ontarios.

Montreal, May 30.— The lacrosse champiouship season in Montreal was opened to day with the Shamrock Ontario match, which was played on the Shamrock grounds. During the entire game a steady rain fell, making it most unpleasant for the players on the field. The attend for the players on the field. The attendance was small, no doubt owing to the weather, only about 1500 being present, but those who did attend the match were well repaid for their trouble, as it was one of the hardest and closest-contested At 3.30 the teams appeared on the field ad took places as follows:

Messrs. H. Darling and Starns as unspires.

The ball was faced at 3.40 and at once accured by the Ontarios who sent it to the Shamreck goal, soon to be returned. The game throughout was a fine one, neither team having the advantage. After 23 minutes play Gerry scored the first game for the Ontarios.

better checked, and it is admitted by all that the Ontario defence had the better of the game. For the champiens Prier and McGuire en the defence and Rowan and Green in the field did the best work; while for the Ontarios Wilson, Clark, Small Hull and B. Ryan were an almost perfect defence, with McPherson and Crown in the field who played a fine game. Gerry and O'Neil did capitally on the home, but "Pluck" Martin was hardly up to his old form. When it is considered that McGovern, the cover point, and J. Burns, the centre field, were absent from their twelve, we think the Ontarios should congratulate themselves on the result and the admirable showing they made.

Although there has been a good deal said about the improvement of the Shamrock ground it was found almost as bad as ever and in spots was little better than a quagmire.

Some Remarks that Need Revising. In the light of Saturday's matches we ther think our esteemed contemporary the Montreal Gazette will feel disposed to somewhat modify the following remarks, nade by it one day last week:

From all we can hear the Toronto club is not to be feared, and there is no getting over the fact that the Ontarios are a very young team and have to play a couple of championship matches before they know where they can swim and where their feet touch the bottom. They do say it was rather hard for the Ontaries' feet to touch bottom on Saturday, while on the other hand the Rosedale grounds were in magnificent trim, the greensward presenting a picture that in verdure and evenness is rarely equalled, and cannot be surpassed.

The Montrealers, our other city team, is better than it has been for a long time, and has, in our opinion, been improving for several seasons.

They will have to improve a great deal more if they wish to be in the champion-ship race at the end of July, let alone when the season closes.

Montrealers have reason to be proud of our two first-class teams. Sure first and second It may be so and then again it may

The visitors expressed their pleasure in loud terms of the "game," being the first witnessed by the majority of them.

Following the match a one mile race between the Captain and Davis was decided in favor of the latter, who won by a close finish in good time. After some drill movements around the track a ride through Rosedale and down Yonge street soon brought the clubs to the hotel, when the whole party sat down to supper.

The Rochester men left on the Sunday noon train and were loud in their praise of the treatment received at the Walker house and from the Wanderers bicycle club.

The Queen's Own Indignant.

The following telegram was received h

There is great indignation among me bers of the Queen's Own at the front a in the city that the four companies now Battleford were not taken by Gen. M dleton in his expedition against Big Be Private telegrams from Battleford are the effect that the Q.O.R. feel their be passed over as a slight, and one promin member of the corps here said unlessatisfactory explanation was forthcom he would not be surprised to see the rement go to pieces.

ment go to pieces. Two possible explanations have offered of Gen. Middleton's course: That he knew the men who had been him at Batoche; that they were inure marching; that they could go at a more motice; and that they would give a secount of themselves. (2) That the ernment at Ottawa, fearing that reformers and the Globe were making much capital out of the list of those alrealin, and that they would have a more potent weapon if perhaps a dyoung men of prominent Toronto fan were added to the death roll, they Middleton to pass the Queen's Own.

A despatch to the Hamilton Times another complexion on the incident extracts as follows:

I am not able to sit up yet, and altoge am a poor helpless mortal, though to feel in pretty good spirits. There are of us poor wounded devils under cany marques: all are doing well and all se good spirits under the circumstances are well cared for. Every attention anness is shown us, and the ambulance sent out by the city of Toronto arrived time and have rendered invaluable set ol. Miller has been exceedingly kind in fact I could not enumerate the ma of kindaess shown me by all ranks. kindness makes me feel I did not do to deserve it all, but God knows I d knew how.
