

BOYS BECOME EXPERTS AT SWIMMING AFTER AN HOUR OF CAREFUL INSTRUCTION

City Playgrounds Mecca For Thousands of Youngsters, Who Receive Free Tuition.

One of the most essential aids to the health and safety of every human being and as the majority of them are children, the proper time for thorough training in this important art is during the early days of youth. This is the opinion expressed by Dr. George Smith, chief supervisor of the city's supervised playground system, and the man who is responsible for bringing to London George H. Corsan, world-famous swimmer and expert instructor, who will spend the next two weeks at Thames Park swimming pool.

Mr. Corsan conducted his first class of instruction for boys and girls of 14 years and under this morning, and not only did he attract a huge crowd of youngsters, but he demonstrated the actual accomplishments of the possibilities of what expert training can do. This afternoon the famous instructor, who has already won the confidence of London kiddies, will conduct a special class for ladies, while between the hours of 7 and 8 in the evening he will give free instruction to a number of youngsters.

GOOD FOR DEVELOPMENT

"There is nothing like swimming for a thorough development of the shoulders and chest of the child," declared Mr. Corsan to the Free Press today. "It is the most healthful, invigorating form of recreation available to-day and in my opinion it is a crying shame that the public schools of Canada do not place expert swimming in its regular curriculum."

Taking a 14-year-old boy from among the group of youngsters who are being taught by the expert instructor, Mr. Corsan proceeded to demonstrate the possibilities of physical development as a result of proper swimming. By what is known as the "crawl" the shoulders, blades and spine are kept continually in action, while the chest is naturally expanded as the swimmer's arms are brought into use by the swimmer.

"Too many people to-day think they are swimmers when in reality they are just water babies," declared Mr. Corsan. "They do not know the proper strokes or how to use them. They have just picked up the rudiments of swimming and they do not know what is necessary for real, comfortable swimming."

The fact was then demonstrated by a little girl 10 years of age, who took her first lesson this morning. She had just picked up the rudiments of swimming and she was able to cross the pond without the least fear and when met by a Free Press representative he declared that he was going to be back on the job this afternoon to learn some more.

LEARN IN AN HOUR

Another little fellow just past 10 years, who, his father declares, has always had a sort of terrifying fear of the water, was taken into the Thames Park swimming pool to-day by Mr. Corsan and given one hour's instruction. At the end of that period the boy was able to cross the pond without the least fear and when met by a Free Press representative he declared that he was going to be back on the job this afternoon to learn some more.

WATER KELLY GETS NO OPTION OF FINE

"Gee, but it's great stuff," remarked one youngster, and this appeared to be the general opinion among the happy crowd of young Londoners flocked around Mr. Corsan as he was demonstrating the various strokes required of an expert swimmer.

Mr. Corsan has spent considerable time in the United States during the past few years and he has been teaching schools over there are already adopting swimming instruction as a part of the regular curriculum. The instructor believes that the present day children are due entirely to lack of proper swimming knowledge and he insists that it is never forgotten in after life.

In the Thames Park swimming pool Mr. Corsan declares London has something that it can well be proud of. It will not only enable its growing citizens to enjoy good, healthful exercise, but it will also enable many to learn the art of swimming when they otherwise would never do so under ordinary circumstances.

Waxing reminiscent, Mr. Corsan, who is in reality a former Londoner, stated that early this morning he took a walk along Richmond street and looking at the customs buildings and other buildings which were demolished at the way in which London has grown. He recalls the time when the Bank of Montreal burned and the Queen's Queen's avenue and Richmond street was on the edge of a large open ground.

WOMEN FROM FORTY TO FIFTY

Will Be Interested in Mrs. Thompson's Recovery by Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me good in every way. I was very weak and run-down and had certain troubles that women of my age are likely to have. I did not like to go to the doctor so I took the Vegetable Compound and am still taking it right along. I recommend it to my friends and to any one I know who is not feeling well." Mrs. THOMPSON, 303 Lizzie St., Winnipeg, Man.

PUTTING SCHOOLS IN SHAPE FOR NEXT FALL

Cleaning up the city schools, redecorating and renovating the interior of the buildings and making alterations here and there, is keeping Superintendent Robinson, of the Board of Education, busy just at present. He has extra gangs of men at work and has a particularly heavy program mapped out for the two months' vacation period.

Several of the school buildings will undergo a complete change before reopening in September and even the boiler buildings must be thoroughly cleaned, the floors scrubbed and things otherwise brightened before they are opened again.

News of the Screen

This is one of the very pleasant moving pictures seen in London for some time. You will love it because like you, it is something to do. The reason it is so pleasant is because it pictures a cash customer moving two screen doors away from the home of Mrs. Blacker, 250 Horton street. Mrs. Blacker wanted to sell these things and therefore used a Free Press classified ad. for one month. It brought her an abundance of replies—40, to be exact. "I really thought the telephone never would stop ringing," said Mrs. Blacker. "I have sold dozens of screen doors. Thanks!"

KILWORTH S. S. HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC

The annual picnic of the Kilworth Methodist Church Sunday school was held at Springbank Park on Sunday. The weather was ideal and the many present had a most enjoyable time. A picnic supper was provided, the table was laden with a variety of dishes and other games and sports. A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a gold fountain pen and also a gold pencil holder to Miss Bernice Rawling as a token of respect of the community for the great interest she takes in Sunday school work and other organizations. Miss Mae Woodhull read the address and Miss Freida Uptgrove made the presentation. Miss Rawling in a few well-chosen words thanked the donors for their gifts. Following were the winners of sports:

15 DAYS IN JAIL FOR CELEBRATING

Walter Kelly Gets No Option of Fine.

When Walter Kelly pleaded guilty in court to-day to celebrating Dominion Day with the aid of spirits he was given no opportunity of paying a fine and was sentenced to 15 days in jail. Kelly had been a regular customer at police court for a long time and has been charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct numerous times. Magistrate Graydon told him that each subsequent appearance would result in a longer sentence until the maximum term of six months had been reached.

"I have done everything I can to help you and you are making no effort whatsoever to help yourself," the magistrate told the prisoner.

Kelly ascribed his convictions in court to "hard luck."

Six other charges of being drunk graced the court docket and in each case the usual $10 and costs was assessed and paid.

James Sloan gave a satisfactory explanation of himself and the charge of trespassing on railroad property was dismissed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burridge, youthful husband and wife, were in the magistrate's office again to-day and the case was enlarged for another week. Mrs. Burridge accused her husband of assault a week ago and, after consultation with Magistrate Graydon, was ordered to attend court.

The difficulties of the couple have not yet been fully straightened out.

TRUSTEES TO DECIDE ON CIVIC SURVEY PLAN

Meeting To Be Held on Thursday Afternoon Will Take Up Citizens' Research Institute Proposal.

The Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon of this week and incidentally its members will be given an opportunity of considering an offer from the Citizens' Research Bureau to conduct a thorough investigation into the affairs of the board, with a view to recommending certain improvements in its business administration.

There are a number of other matters to come before the board, but this one is undoubtedly the greater part of the time. Delegates from the Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the research bureau will outline the aims and objects of the proposed investigation.

Several of the trustees were averse to hearing such a deputation when the matter was brought to the attention of the board a month ago, but it was finally agreed to allow the delegates to attend and spend a very brief period outlining their proposals. It was stipulated, however, that the speakers who were admitted must refrain from long speeches.

KEEP SIGNS LIGHTED UNTIL MIDNIGHT

The police commission has been authorized to put in force the by-law requiring owners of illuminating signs to keep the latter lighted after dusk and until midnight.

A notification in the hands of Chief of Police Robert Birrell. In the permit issued to owners of such signs the hours in which they shall be lighted is stated, but it has been found that the requirements are not unanimously complied with. This will be enforced in future.

Chief Birrell has also been notified of the City Council's amendment to the by-law covering vehicular traffic in Victoria Park. The Council originally prohibited traffic in the park between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 12 o'clock midnight. This by-law has been amended making it illegal to drive automobiles or other vehicles through the park at any time, whether day or night.

EXPERT MAY MAN CIVIC OFFICES

Dr. Brittain, of Research Institute, Arrives To-day.

START SURVEY WEDNESDAY

Fire Department First To Be Examined.

Reorganization superintendents supplied by the Citizens' Research Institute may take temporary charge of various civic departments after they have been surveyed and reports forwarded to the City Council or other bodies concerned.

When a similar report was forwarded to the Hospital Trust concerning Victoria Hospital that body asked that Dr. Brittain supply a man to be reorganized and sent to the hospital to put recommendations of the report into effect. This was done and R. L. Armstrong has been in charge at Victoria since that time.

In order to secure efficient reorganization similar steps may be taken as different departments are surveyed and reported upon. It would relieve existing department heads of the responsibility of carrying out suggestions made, and would also speed up the changes suggested.

While the Board of Education has not yet accepted the local citizens' research institute's offer, it is believed that the trustees will give approval at an early board meeting. August 1 has been set as the date for the survey to begin in the board's administration offices, and the field survey is set for one month later when the schools are opened.

LOVE AFFAIR RESPONSIBLE WROTE NOTE THAT HE WAS ABOUT TO END LIFE

James Day, Parke avenue, was 26 years old yesterday. His method of celebrating the anniversary of his birth, which coincided with the anniversary of his brother's death, was somewhat at variance with the usual run of such events. Thirty-six years in the world had been enough for him, and his predominant desire was to cross the great divide.

At least, this was the message contained in a note addressed to his brother, which was produced in police court to-day when the writer of the missive appeared, charged with vagrancy.

Day claimed that he was not a vagrant when the magistrate had disposed of a number of cases appearing in his name, but that he was a prisoner's turn to explain the accusation.

He had a home on Parke avenue," he said. "It contains $1,500 worth of furniture. I work seven days a week on the railroad. I was 28 years old when my brother died. I was going to kiss you all good-bye."

"This note shows that he had suicidal intentions," the magistrate said. "He was a danger to himself and to others in the house," said Chief Birrell. "This note shows that he had suicidal intentions."

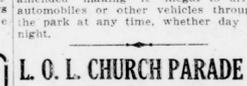

Day said that he had no relatives in this country and had lived alone for nine years. He said that there had been no disturbance to cause his arrest, and that he had been a member of the C. P. R. here, and as a consequence his departure is very much regretted.

The departure from London railway station of A. A. Shepherd, locomotive engineer, and C. J. Grimmold, district master mechanic of the C. P. R., was marked by a very pleasing surprise party at the home of J. Gartley, Queen's avenue. These two officials, who have been transferred to other places, held the respect of a large circle of friends, especially among the locomotive engineers and firemen of the C. P. R. here, and as a consequence their departure is very much regretted.

The presentation was a complete surprise to the officials and had been arranged entirely by the men themselves. Those present included J. McKee, Harry Walker, George Dowling, H. Stevens, F. Bell, F. Shortill, Walter Johnston, B. Taylor, H. Rodwell, C. Koutie, W. Reid, J. Rodgers, H. Trace.

Addresses were made by J. Garvey, the host of the evening, and by George Dowling and H. Walker. Games and refreshments followed the presentation and the party finally broke up by singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

CITY HALL STAFF HAS FIGHTING BALL TEAM

The City Hall baseball team made its debut to-day, with a flustering challenge to any amateur team in general and the London Teutemeh's in particular. They have secured permission to make their home grounds and all of them declare they will put up a snappy exhibition of the international sport if their challenges are accepted.

$150,000 FIRE WIPES OUT BUSINESS SECTION

HARDWICK, Vt., July 3.—Fire wiped out some of the business section of Hardwick early to-day, destroying five business blocks and two tenement houses and driving 10 families from their homes. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

The fire was believed to have started on an explosion of fireworks in the barber shop of A. J. Roy. The flames when discovered shortly before midnight were beyond control and were snuffed through the business section, all but one of which were of wooden construction.

SPEEDER FAILED TO PROVE ALIBI

Magistrate Fines Him $5 Despite Earnest Protest.

ONE CASE DISMISSED

Witnesses Conflict Over Passing Stopped Car Incident.

Magistrate Graydon didn't believe a taxi driver, who operates a car on behalf of Mrs. Susanna Paddock, when the taxi man stated that he wasn't on Quebec street last Wednesday and fined him $5 and costs for speeding. An officer, who timed the car, stated that it had traveled between Lorne avenue and Princess street in nine seconds. According to figures submitted by Chief Birrell, the distance is exactly 331 feet, which, covered in nine seconds, makes a speed of a little over 25 miles an hour. The constable stated that he knew the driver of the car and could not be mistaken, but the taxi man claimed that his nearest approach to Quebec street on the day in question was at the intersection of that thoroughfare and Dundas street, where he had taken a passenger just before noon.

J. H. Knight asserted that neither he nor his car was in the city at 10.20 a.m. last Wednesday and dated and mentioned in summons charging him with passing a stopped street car at Victoria street and Richmond street. He had left Hyde park just after that hour with two other persons in his car, he said, one of whom was his wife.

When the testimony of the constable who laid the information had been taken, the number of the car, a description of the automobile and other circumstances coincided with the exception of the time and the passengers. The constable said there were three men in the car. Mr. Knight said that there were two men, one being himself, and one being his wife. He admitted crossing the intersection that evening, but declared that he had passed no standing street cars. The charge was dismissed.

CITY COUNCIL GETTING CLOSER TO COMMISSION FORM CIVIC GOVERNMENT

With Six Aldermen Present Several Important Matters Are Disposed of.

Minutes of the City Council for the session held on June 5 shows that London in a sense is getting close to commission form of government. At this meeting the minutes show that only six aldermen, one-half the Council, were present, and that even having a bare quorum by virtue of the mayor being present measures involving expenditure of large sums of money were passed by a vote of five aldermen, representing a minority of the whole Council.

It was moved that the recommendation of the industrial area commission to the effect that sewer and pavement work be initiated on Brydges street.

Police Nip Alleged Effort To Sell Liquor.

License Inspector Walter Bolton nipped in the bud what was thought to be a repetition of the methodical sale of liquor among the crowd which attended the celebration at Stratford a year ago, when he apprehended William McComber, a resident of Port Huron, with a small pint flask of liquor in his possession.

Behind the judge it is hoped to hang a really good picture of the Prince of Wales. Silken Union Jack and Canadian standard will be draped and there will be a few other decorations for youthful offenders to moralize over.

The court, for all of its merciful character, will be run along formal lines, as Judge Warner states, the dignity of the law must be upheld, even in a court pledged to reformation by sympathetic means.

SIX-FOOTER DEFEATED BY FIVE-FOOTER

Goliath Came To City Seeking Trouble and He Found Plenty of It.

A fistic encounter viewed solely by a handful of interested spectators occurred last night about 11.30 on Dundas street.

It appears that a regular bad man from up country, a veritable Goliath of the ring, nursing an all-consuming grudge, journeyed cityward to stamp his hated rival in the dust. Following a vigilant search the pugilistic dis-covered the object of his wrath, a slender-built David, tottering on Dundas street, and immediately proceeded to put his drolful threats into execution.

The battle was short—entirely too short for a promoter's standpoint—but it was supremely decisive. A couple of short punches evoked the arduous and disarranged the breathing apparatus of the burly giant. Valiantly clinging to his ideals and his opponent's ear the weakening champion vainly tried to stem the tide of battle, but to no purpose. The battle does not always go to the strong.

The six-foot bad man is not in evidence to-day. Under cover of the welcome night he stole silently away, nursing indignantly his shattered reputation, while his five-foot conqueror, glorying in his prowess, to-day feels the conscious glow of a deed well done.
