

SEVERE COLD ON LUNGS AND CHEST QUICKLY RELIEVED

by Na-Dra-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne.
Mr. J. Seyard, Bromptonville, Que., writes:
"Two weeks ago I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs and my chest was very sore, breathing tight and severe hacking cough. I was feeling miserable. I bought a bottle of Na-Dra-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne and after a few doses I felt great relief and I went into a sound sleep, a thing I was not able to do for some nights. Next day I was able to be around again, and before completing the bottle, felt as well as ever. It is a fine cough and cold cure."

Na-Dra-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne relieves the irritation and "stuffed-up" feeling in the air passages, soothes the tickling which makes you cough, loosens the phlegm and drives out the cold before it gets troublesome.

SALUTE FOR KAISER WILHELM

Many Things of Interest to Boys and Girls—A Mystifying Trick With Figures—Bits of Useful Information, Riddles to Puzzle and Amuse.

In Germany, as in most European nations, militarism is very much more in evidence than in our own land of the free. In all the cities there are constantly to be seen soldiers in the uniforms of their respective arms of the service. Parades are a matter of everyday occurrence, and it is therefore not surprising that the German little folks, especially the boys, should become imbued with the military spirit. When the Kaiser turns out at a review of troops there is always a large crowd to cheer him and his gallantly attired soldiers. At the recent Potsdam review the camera man snapped a couple of boys perched on a window ledge just as they were saluting the Kaiser in true military fashion. One is in the uniform of a naval officer and the other in the gorgeous uniform of the royal hussars.

BOY SALUTING THE KAISER.

A Trick With Figures.

Desire a person to think of a number. Tell him to triple it and take the exact half of that.

Triple that half if the number is even, if odd multiply the larger half by three. Then ask him how many times that answer contains nine, for the answer will contain the double of that number of nines and one more if it be odd.

Thus, if the number thought of is five its triple will be fifteen, which cannot be divided by two without a remainder. The greater half of fifteen is eight. If we multiply this by three we have twenty-four, which contains nine twice. So we shall have 2 plus 2 plus 1 equals 5, the number first thought of.

Game of Mosaic.

A writing game for any number. Each writes a word on a slip of paper, and after the slips are mixed one of the players draws and reads them aloud in the order in which he draws them, and each player must write them down in the same order. Then each one must write a little story or paragraph, using the words in the same order. The game may be made more difficult by requiring the story to be of a specified length or written within

PAIN IN MY BACK IS ALL GONE

Since I Got a Box of Gin Pills

CHURCH ST., CORNWALLIS, N.S. January 23rd.

"About a year ago, I was suffering so much with a dreadful Lame Back and Hips, that I could not stand upright. I was informed by a friend about GIN PILLS. I got a box. It helped me immensely. I have taken about twelve boxes and the pains in my back and hips are all gone. I cannot speak too highly of the wonderful effects of your GIN PILLS."

B. C. DAVID.
Linctments and plasters won't cure Lame Back—because they never reach the part that is causing the pain. The whole trouble is with the Kidneys and you must cure the kidneys in order to stop the pain. GIN PILLS cure weak, sick, strained Kidneys—nothing else will. GIN PILLS drive away the pain every time—or your money promptly refunded. 50c. a box. 6 for $2.50. a certain time, or if may be made easier by allowing the player to use the words in any order they please.

A Water Experiment.

Procure two pieces of glass about six inches square, join any two of their sides and separate the opposite sides with a piece of wax so that their surfaces may be at a slight angle. Immerse this apparatus about an inch in a basin of water, and the water will rise between the plates and form a beautiful geometrical figure called a hyperbola.

A Proverb.

"Haste makes waste," the sages say. It's a proverb old, yet true each day. If our work is done with haste, Something will surely go to waste. Careful movements are what tell. A hurried task is never done well.

Let's read the proverb another way:

"Make haste! Don't waste!" It seems to say. "Make haste to do what'er is right. Don't waste the precious moments bright. Read other way, the words are true. They're worth a trial, I think. Don't you? —Youth's Companion.

TRICKS OF AIR-MEN.

Pieces Cut Off Wings of an Aeroplane Increase Its Speed.

At the present time aeroplane constructors are engaged in a strenuous fight to outdo each other in the production of a machine that can break the standing aerial records. For an aeroplane that can climb into the air more quickly than its rivals, carry a great number of passengers, or in other directions excel in aerial navigation generally, is likely to attract substantial orders for machines of similar pattern.

As a result, many ingenious ruses have sprung into existence by means of which constructors endeavor to cox record-breaking feats out of their aeroplanes.

In this connection a favorite trick is to fill an aeroplane up with a cargo of children in order to establish a new passenger record. The present flights merely state that the machine that is capable of flying with the greatest number of "persons" shall be awarded the record for this branch of aerial work.

There is no limitation regarding the age or weight of the passengers, with the result that the present aeroplane passenger record was accomplished by packing a machine with ten little children and two adults, for children do not weigh much and take up little room.

It is very possible that this growing practice will shortly be put a stop to, for a number of protests have been made that should an accident occur many of these infants' lives would probably be sacrificed to this wild desire to carry out a record-breaking feat.

One of the most ingenious methods of coaxing climbing power out of an aeroplane is the doping of the petrol with ether. This results in increased explosive power, and adds several extra units of horse-power to the engine.

Although one result of this trick is to knock to pieces very quickly the delicate aeroplane engine into which such petrol is introduced, its efforts on the behavior of the machine are extraordinary.

Experiments have shown that an aeroplane equipped with petrol doped with ether can climb a thousand feet in nearly a minute less than the time it would take with unadulterated petrol, whilst such a concoction adds at least an extra five miles to the speed of the machine.

It is, of course, considered very bad form to use doped petrol when out to break records, and it is now customary to specify that "ordinary petrol" must be used when flying-men send out challenges in flying races.

In their desire to obtain the speed record and to win the big aviation speed contest, manufacturers have designed a number of "freak machines." They are built solely for breaking records, and only first-class pilots dare fly them. Engines of enormous power are placed in such aeroplanes, which are generally of the monoplane or two-winged type, and the constructional details are cut down to the minimum of strength and safety in order to abolish extra weight.

A trick of constructors who seek speed records is to cut big pieces off the ends of the wings until the supporting surface is nearly half that of a normal aeroplane. Not only does this knock off weight, but wings clipped in this fashion offer little resistance to the air and cut quickly through it. An aeroplane doctored in this fashion at present holds the speed record of 108 miles an hour.

Society Fable.

Truth, Scandal and Flattery went to the Uppercrust ball. Truth was promptly ejected for being naked. Scandal was put back into a shadow, but every one was introduced to her during the evening. Flattery, being decked in fine apparel and false jewels, was given the place of honor in the grand promenade and at table. The great social occasion was variously reported—to the uninitiated by Scandal, to the newspapers by Flattery and to the Recording Angel by Truth.

The Poetry Business.

Soon after the death of the poet Woodsworth, a gentleman met a farmer of the neighborhood and said to him:

"You have had a great loss."

"What loss?"

"Why, you have lost the great poet."

"Oh, ay," said the farmer, "he is dead, but ah hev me doubt 't wife'll carry on 't business and mak it as profitable as ivver it was."

An Exception.

"It is rather strange about Miss Maddox."

"What has happened to her?"

"She sings beautifully—remarkably, if not better."

"Yes, I know, but that is not strange. There are plenty of young women who sing well."

"Still, hers is a remarkable case. She has never, so far as I am aware, been called the Patti of this town."

A Contradiction.

Tommy—Does it make any difference if baby takes all his medicine at once?

Baby's mother (in horror)—Good heavens! Of course it does!

Tommy—But it hasn't made any difference.—London Punch.

Smoothing the Way.

"My lawyer told me he thought I would have a hard time establishing my claims under the will."

"What did you say?"

"I asked him how much more money he wanted."

No Gentleman.

Miss Gossip—What's this I hear about the doctor's being no gentleman?

"That's true. Miss Gossip—Tell me about it. What did he—Miss Matter-of-Fact—It's a lady doctor."

A Sad Reflection.

"I am always dull and stupid when I have a cold," remarked Softleigh.

"You have my sympathy," answered Cynicus. A chronic cold must be a dreadful affliction."

A REAL ASTHMA RELIEF.

Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has never been advertised by extravagant statements. Its claims are conservative indeed, when judged by the cures which it performs. Expect real relief and permanent benefit when you buy this remedy and you will not have cause for disappointment. It gives permanent relief in many cases where other so-called remedies have utterly failed.
