are equally for ought to be so) interested in the matter. If the long line ever is carried out (which I do not believe it will be) but I say it will be a benefit to the Province; a line must eventually be built out from St. Andrews to St. John, and to Shelburne, thus connecting Maine with the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and it will pay.

Call meetings and get up petitions against the long line, and we shall get aided in our work by the Government; if the long line succeeds, your three towns will be benefited.
The glorious result of the late Charist attempt will raise England higher than ever in the world, we shall now become the dependency of all nations—we may thank God for its favourable termination. England rose as a man to defend her institutions.
