

Kidney Disease For Years

This Well Known Gentleman Strongly Recommends "Fruit-a-tives" to all Sufferers.

JAMES DINGWALL, Esq.

"I have much pleasure in testifying to the almost marvellous benefit I have derived from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' I was a lifelong sufferer from Chronic Constipation, and the only medicine I ever secured to do me any real good was 'Fruit-a-tives.' This medicine cured me when everything else failed. Also, last spring I had a severe ATTACK OF BLADDER TROUBLE WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE, and 'Fruit-a-tives' cured these complaints for me, when the physicians attending me had practically given me up. I am now over eighty years of age and I can strongly recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' for chronic constipation and bladder and kidney trouble. This medicine is very mild like fruit, is easy to take, but most effective in action."

TO HAVE NICE HANDS.

If the hands are washed in lard water it is very difficult to keep them in good condition. Bran bags will soften the water and may be used instead of soap, as they are composed of bran, shaved white castile soap, and a little powdered orris root to give a fresh clean fragrance. Mix the ingredients well together, and put them in bags of cheese cloth, each holding about two spoonfuls. It takes only a few minutes to sew up a sufficient number of bags to last a couple of weeks the object in having them tiny being that one bag need be used only once, or at most, twice, as a bran when moist sours in a warm room.

As to emollients to use on the hands, after washing at night, a lot depends on the skin. Some women like a lotion of glycerine, lemon juice and rose water, others cannot use glycerine. A cucumber emulsion, is softening and whitening. Remove from the hands traces of the day's grime, with flesh brush, hot soft water, and a pure soap, rinse and dry them, and apply emollient, continuing rubbing gently until it has all been absorbed by the skin.

What Our Trade-Mark Means to You

IT means that the flour contained in bags and barrels so trade-marked is decidedly whiter, a great deal stronger and more nutritious than other flours.

It means that the flour has been properly aged to mature its full strength.

It means

"More bread and better Bread" and better pastry, too.

It means elimination of uncertainty—"your money back" if Purity fails to give entire satisfaction.

Costs more than the other kind, but worth the difference.

FASHION DETAILS.

The New Fall Blouse is of Silk Jersey. A Daring Costume Venture.

The latest thing in blouses is made of silk jersey. "Tell it not in Gath, whisper it not in Ashdod," but this is just the material of which the top of your satin petticoat, of last year was made. The dresser models are simply made and richly embroidered.

A daring venture is the using of black sleeves and yoke in an all white gown, but they are chic and have a tremendous amount of style. For instance, you may have the yoke and sleeves of black chauntilly lace, or the bodice may be veiled with black chiff.

PRINCESS COSTUME.

fon, and to further emphasize the note of black a wide black silk scarf is draped about the hips from the waist down to a distance of twelve inches.

Princess costumes are very smart and promise to continue their vogue for a long time to come. The gown illustrated is made after one of the latest models, with a founce that provides graceful and becoming richness and flare, while it is smooth fitting at the body.

The Waist Line Now Normal—Vagaries of the Winter Modes.

The waist line has come down to its normal position, and it is laced rather tightly. All kinds of contrasting belts with rosettes will be worn. In fact, this is to be a fluffy season.

The hat shape turned up in the back is again with us, and this, of course, means a different style of hairdressing. Sleeves are to be absolutely plain across the top in most cases this season, which at least gives a graceful shoulder line.

While the princess tunic will not be abandoned for a long time to come, it will form a compromise with the new.

Cashmere makes charming winter gowns for the younger girls. The frock pictured is of this material, and the color is one of the new grayish blues, and the trimming is silk banding, while the gumpie is of white muslin.

OUTDOOR SLEEPING AT HOME.

As to outdoor sleeping at home, many methods have been devised. There are the sliding beds, on which the upper half of the sleeper extends out of the window and is covered with an awning, having one side open; the roof cage, for city houses with boarded tin or shingle top, and screen sides; the porch, tent and the back-yard shack, two sides of which are lattice work, with inside storm curtains of canvas that can easily be lowered; but the most practicable of all is the sleeping balcony. This balcony, or upper porch, is generally built upon the rear of the house off an inside dressing-room that is kept at a comfortable temperature. Such a structure, say 7 by 9 feet, can be built upon brackets at a cost of fifty to one hundred and fifty dollars. One side of it should be fully enclosed to protect the sleeper from prevailing winds, and there should be an overhanging roof. The house wall, of course, affords additional protection. The other two sides should be boarded three feet up from the floor, and above that they may be left open, with canvas curtains drawn up to the top, ready to be let down and buttoned securely in bad weather, always leaving a narrow gap at the roof protected top for ventilation. Lattice-work may screen the open-air sleeper. It prevents the bed-voging and uprising from becoming neighborhood affairs.—Baily Millard.

MEETS DEATH IN GAME

Football has claimed another victim in Archie Christian, the eighteen-year-old halfback of the University of Virginia team, whose injury in the game with Georgetown University yesterday was followed by death at Georgetown University hospital. An autopsy disclosed that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage following concussion.

Ravages of Consumption

ALL HER RELATIVES HAD DIED OF CONSUMPTION

In the year 1890, 18 years ago, Mrs. C. S. Censer, of Belle Isle, N.S., was in a sad condition. All her relatives had died of consumption, and there was every indication that she was going the same way.

At this point her husband suggested to try Psychine. The doctor who attended said Psychine was worthless; but it effected a wonderful cure. Eighteen years after in a letter bearing date August 14, 1908, Mrs. Censer says, "I am better than I have been for years. My lungs have not troubled me since I took your treatment. My physician told me I could not take a better tonic than PSYCHINE, and I recommend it to all who are suffering from Lung Trouble and General Debility."

FALL FASHIONS.

Drapery Used on Waists—Shoulder Seams Disappear From Sight.

Drapery in the form of bretelles and sash effects are to appear as waist trimming on the new gowns, and the idea is to cover the shoulder seam as much as possible—exactly what we did not do last winter.

Jacket fronts are appearing in bodices which are en suite with skirts. One such waist of princess style has turned back lapels of the jacket which are heavily braided. The open front shows the princess waist cut round below a shallow yoke of embroidery and lace and a second yoke of tucked net.

Short waist lines except in evening gowns are rare among the best costumes and will probably be completely out of the running by fall.

general utility. The coat seen in the cut is desirable for every one of these uses. In the illustration it is made of lightweight shower proof cloth, but all cloakings are appropriate. This fall hosiery and diagonals will be exceedingly smart, but the plainer cloths are always in demand. The back of this coat can be made either plain or with a seam.

TUB TALK No. 2

To wash colored muslins, linens or lawns, first make a strong suds with Taylor's Borax Soap and luke warm water. Wet but one piece at a time. Unless the article is very much soiled, do not run the soap directly on the article. Rub gently with the hands until perfectly clean. Wring out the clothes, and rinse thoroughly in water of the same temperature as that previously used. Never boil colored clothes. A very little Taylor's Borax Soap added to boiled starch will prevent it from sticking, and makes the clothes iron smoother and easier.
