

The butterfly has been used as the central idea in collar No. 532, which is intended for the plump neck of somebody's darling who is two, three, or four years old. Another collar for the same important young person—or his brother or sister—is No. 533; a good pattern.

A white carnation in beautiful bloom prompted

INFANT'S RENAISSANCE
LACE CAP, No. 536.
Price of pattern, 20 cents

BATTENBERG COLLAR,
No. 501.
Price of pattern,
25 cents.

536, which is made with so little effort. In these times when women are working so busily in lace, while every baby may not be born with a silver spoon in his mouth, his right is to a real lace cap, silk or linen lined.

Particular attention is called to the shoulder collars for "grown-ups," Nos. 501 and 529. They were fitted carefully by an expert before the

BATTENBERG
SAILOR COLLAR,
No. 529.
Price of pattern,
25 cents.

B. & A. SILK IN HOLDERS SAVES TIME AND ANNOYANCE.