THE CIRCUIT RIDER.

A Tale of the Heroic Age of American Methodism. . . .

By Edward Eggleston.

Author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," "Rozy," etc.

Price, 60 cents.

A splendid picture is here drawn of that heroic figure in the history of Methodism in America—those old preachers whose constitutions had conquered starvation and exposure, who had survived swamps, alligators, Indians, highway robbers and bilious fevers. Their hairbreadth escapes, thrilling experiences, burning zeal and undaunted devotion are inimitably portrayed by Dr. Eggleston. This story has heretofore been sold at $1.75.

Barbara Heck :

A Tale of the Beginnings of Methodism in the New World.

Cloth, illustrated, 75 cents.

Few Canadian books have been so cordially welcomed as this inspiring and spirited story from Dr. Withrow's practiced pen. Principal Grant, of Queen's University, makes it the subject of a four-page article in the Methodist Magazine and Review, in which he says: "Reading it, a window was opened through which I saw glimpses into the early history of our people."

Chancellor Burwash, reviewing it in the same periodical, says: "The warp and woof of the book is thus through and through historical. He has characters of rare beauty to depict, and many of the sketches would be well worthy of the pen of Ian Maclaren."

The Montreal Witness gives it nearly three columns of space, and says: "We could wish that thousands besides Methodists would read it to kindle and fan the flame of Canadian patriotism, and that all might learn the imperishable power and beauty of Godliness and true religion in humble life."

The Canada Presbyterian says: "Methodists may well be proud of such spiritual ancestry. The book should be in every Methodist household, and read by all of them, both old and young."

The London Advertiser gives a column to the review, and says: "Dr. Withrow has woven into a delightful romance the story of Barbara Heck and her associates in the founding of Methodism in the United States and Canada."

The Epworth Era says: "This book is a good one for the Leaguers to place in their libraries."
