

effect of blighting his future prospects in life.* Nevertheless, the verdict of the jury left you no alternative, and you acted quite right in the course you took.

"I remain, dear sir,

"Yours very truly,

"JOHN PRINCE, Q.C.

"To DR. WANLESS, coroner,

"town of London and county of Middlesex."

I am, sir,

Your most obedient,

JOHN WANLESS,

Formerly house-surgeon, Dundee Roy. Infirm.

BOOKS RECEIVED FOR REVIEW.

An Epitome of a Lecture on the Ottawa Productions, delivered before the Bytown Mechanics' Institute and Athenæum.—By EDWARD VAN CORTLANDT, Surgeon, Honorary Librarian to the Institute, Bytown, C.W., 1853.

ERRATA IN DR. KERR'S PAPER.

Page 112, line 28—for "under teeth" read "molar teeth."

" 114, " 35—for "cords of false membrane" read "shreds of false membrane."

" 115, " 23—for "question seems" read "question arises."

*The medical man has left the country, but I have thought it unnecessary to put in his name.