AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE. PRINTED AND PURLISHED BY

The True Witness Printing & Publishing Co

253 St. James Street, Montreal, Canada

P. O. Box 1188.

MS. and all other communications intended for publication or notice, should be addressed to the Editor, and all business and other communication to the Managing Director, TRUE WITNESS P. & P. go,, Ltd., P. O. Box 1138.

Discontinuance.—Remember that the publishers must be notified by letter when a subscriber wishes his paper stopped. All arrearages must be paid. Returning your paper will not enable us to dissyntinue it, as we cannot find your name on our books unless your post office address is given. The date opposite your name on the margin of your paper shows you up to what time your sub-

We recognise the friends of THE TRUE WITNESS by the prompt manner in which they pay their submeriptions. Always give the name of the post office to which Four paper is sent. Your name cannot be found on our books unless this is done.

When you wish your address changed, write us In time, giving your old address as well as you

WEDNESDAY.....AUGUST 25, 1897

THE MONTREAL EXHIBITION.

The Montreal Exhibition this year is a credit to Montreal and it is much in advance of that of previous years. The management deserve the highest credit for its devotion to the difficult task of providing Montreal with an industrial and agricultural display second to none in Canada. The work of organization has been more difficult than usual, as there seemed in certain quarters a determined effort to throw all the obstacles possible in the way of success. However the management has succeeded in giving to the public an exhibition of which Montreal may well be proud. The manufacturers and others who supported At by sending in their exhibits have reason to congratulate themselves, and it may be confidently expected that the | for it. Infidel France, priest hunting sime is not far distant when Montreal as an exhibition city will rank first in the Dominion.

fact it is almost impossible to describe the many attractions of the exhibition. Where all is good, it is difficult to choose any feature for special praise. It is sufficient to say that the industrial exhibits, both in variety and excellence and taste of display, were far in advance of last year, and the dairy department showed an advance in this particular branch of farm produce flattering in the Couching the horse and cattle exhibit every year throws an increasing interest | It is the same old story. Masonry can proin this regard and the present occasion | test all it likes but it betrays itself in all departments the number of visitors are unusually large and the live stock exhibited gives an object lesson to those who would carp at Canada and the Province of Quebec.

In attending to the more material objects of the exhibition the amusement programme has not been neglected and the best attractions have been secured.

THE CIVIC HOSPITAL.

The Civic Hospital is now altogether under the control of the Health Board of Montreal, and it is a matter of congratution that this vexed question has been finally settled satisfactorily. Dr. Laberge and his able assistants know well how to look after the interests of the unfortunate victims of the smallpox as well as to congerve the health of the citizens. It is a matter of regret that Mr. Henry Gray could not see his way clear to accept the vice-Presidency of the Health Board, as his noble work in the past years of the scourge shows that his experience at thia critical time would be of the utmost value. However, Mr. Gray can hardly be blamed for his action, seeing what poor return was given him for his former self-sacrifice. Instead of the word of praise which was his due, he received the vilest abuse from a certain section of the press, in the van of which was the Montreal Herald. When public men surrender their dearest interests for the public good, when they run the gauntlet of disease and contagion to serve their fellow nitizens, surely they deserve better treatment than that which was accorded Mr. Gray at the hands of certain newspapers.

WHAT is the matter with the Manitoba P.P.A's.? Those brave men must be asleep or they would never permit the Grey Nuns to take charge of the Winni. prg smallpox hospital. Why, this is flagrant invasion of civil and religious rights | Why do not they sail in and do the nursing themselves, and thus save these unfortunates from Romish contamination? Lady True Blues, here is a chance for you. Of course you won't abundant seed. In discussing this mathave much opportunity to attend lodge ter the Leinster Leader says.—

解認定的 Selection Control of the Con

vituperation is all very well, but when you get down to practical application then your hands shrink from the plough P.P.A.'s and Lady True Blues of Manitoba, we are afraid you are cowards.

The new Liquor Licence Act has been in force since Dominion Day in Canada. Now a youth under twenty one cannot take a drink in a bar-room. No country hotel proprietor can keep open after ten o'clock, and no druggist can sell liquor without a doctor's certificate.—English Exchange.

It would be interesting to have the writer of this pretty little paragraph in Montreal or Toronto for half-an-hour. The reference to Dominion Day is peculiarly funny, but it pales into insignificance before the alleged twenty one year old clause. Those who know are thoroughly apprized of the fact that, as between the age of nineteen and even lower, and twenty-five, the majority of the people who drink at the bar in Canada belong to the more youthful class. If the twenty-one rule was carried out there would be many more respectable citizens in the coming decade.

MRS. CHARLOT ESMITH, of the Women's Rescue League of Boston, has written to the leaders of the Republican and Dem ocratic parties in the city protesting against their nominees for the mayoralty because they are bachelors. She says: Bachelors have always been failures as chief magistrates and legislators in this reading to the shylocks and usurers of and every other country. Both your | Montreal, who bleed the unfortunate to candidates are bachelors, and bachelor death at the rate of 100 per cent. a politicians are narrow-minded, selfish, | month:egotistical and cowardly. David P. Hill of New York, who posed as the bachelor Presidential candidate, is a typical illustration of this class of men. He is 'morally selfish." She suggests the formation of anti bachelor clubs, and adds: "We have too many temporarily married politicians on the market."

THE nations of the old world and the rulers thereof are arranging to form an alliance against anarchists and anarchism. When we come to think of this it seems as if those who now fear the scourge have only to thank themselves Germany, and the free thinkers of Spain in fostering continental socialism, hatched the egg which has brought forth the It would consume too much space, in viper. Anarchy and its attendant evils have all sprung from this great parent society.

So there is an effort to establish a lodge or something of the Mystic Shriners in Montreal. This Mystic Shrine business is an offshoot of Egyptian paganism engrafted into modern masonic ir tidelity by the enemies of the Church. They have abandoned Christ and His teaching and instead worship Osiris after the manner of ancient people of the Nile. as no exception to the rule. To these its baldness and hatred of Christianity

> THE wily Turk would like the ou side world to believe that the Armenians are trying to blow him up with dynamite. It schism fever and the sect habit when is hardly charitable to say it, but we are not alone in the opinion, that if they are anxious to do so they can hardly be nominations. One tenet is the washing blamed. A bad disease requires a stern remedy, and it would seem that dynamite is about the only agent which can overthrow the murderous occupant of the throne of Mahamet.

A DISPATCH from New York states that Mrs. Julia Ward Howe has asked the Pope to interfere on behalf of a Cuban maiden to preserve her from incarceration in the Havana dungeons by the Spanish authorities Here is a grand opportunity for the P. P. A's. Let them assemble in their might, and pass resolutions condemnatory of Mrs. Howe for daring to appeal to the Pope and thus insult the Pagan Protestant Association.

THE murderer of Canovas, the Spanish Premier, has been executed, and there is little doubt but that his picture is now framed in the lodges of the Illuminati as a worthy martyr. Canovas is dead and now these cowardly offshoots of Freemasonry are in full cry after another

RECENTLY a child died in a Dublin Workhouse of being starved to death, the pauper attendants having left it to live on air for forty hours at a stretch. In order to hide this infamous incident the packed jury brought in a verdict that death was the result of mal-nutrition "imputing," as the late Coroner Jones would say in his address to the jurors, "blame to no one." The object of this flagrant violation of British law was to enable the defenders of pauper nurses in workhouses to save themselves from another black eye. Happily, the Irish Press, one of the noblest aids to Ireland in her struggle for liberty, has taken up the question, and there is little doubt but the blood of that little martyr to a brutal system will bear in truth dislectical powers of the North Dublin NOTE AND COMMENT. is a very great difference between a death want of food" and death due to due to starvation, arising from incapability of partaking or digesting the class of food supplied? The public mind may not be subile enough to greep the point—but then everyone cannot be expected to differentiate as finely as a North Dublin Guardian trying to absolve himself from responsibility for an inhuman system of

Some idea of what the English Press thinks of the Primrose movement may begathered from the following paragraph taken from an English exchange :-

"We had begun to think the Primrose League was defunct. Such is not the case, apparently, as we notice there was a Primrose League tea-meeting at Hawktone the other day, the big gun of the gathering being Colonel Kenyon Slaney, the Tory member for the Newport Division of Shropshire. This gentleman is more at home on the cricket-field than in the House of Commons, where his voice is seldom heard. He managed, however, to make a speech to the Hawkstone Leaguers, in which he lauded the Government and its work up to the skies. The Tory party had saved the Church from danger, assisted agriculture, and trade had developed because of an increased feeling of security. This is a sample of the nonsense eagerly swallowed by the ignorant Primrose Leaguers of Hawkstone."

THE following extract from an Eng. lish exchange will prove interesting

In the Lord Mayor's Court, (London) on Tuesday, Mr. Thomas Palmer, money lender in the city, summoned James Brockington, a machine ruler, for £11 2s. 8d., the balance of a sum of £13 2s. 8d., for which judgment had previously been recovered. The defendant said he was laid up for a time, and porrowed £4 from the plaintiff. A sum of 19s. was deducted from the amount, and for the £3 10s that was handed to him he agreed to repay £4. He had repaid nearly £2 4s., and was now summoned for £11 2s. 8d. The plaintiff's representative said he knew nothing of the circumstances; he left the matter in his Lordship's bands. The Judge said the law allowed money lenders to charge whatever interest they liked, but it also allowed him, as a Judge, to exercise his discretion as to the order he should make for repayment He made an order for payment of the debt and costs by monthly instalments of 6d., at which rate the payment will be extended over a period of thirty-seven

This Lord Mayor is truly a man who knows his business as a magistrate.

"Eight leading denominations provide the most of the religious teaching our people. I name them in the order of the number of their respective communicants: The Roman Catholics, the Methedists, the Baptists, the Presbyterians, the Lutherans, the Disciples of Unrist, our own Church and the Congrecationalists Of the 3,700,000 Baptists, $1.300\,000\,\mathrm{are}$ negroes, and of the $4\,000\,000$ Methodists, 1,000,000 are negroes. It is observed that we are next to the foot of the list." He continues: "In the United States there are 143 distinct re ligious denominations. There are 17 kinds of Methodists (laughter) and 16 kinds of Lutherans, 13 kinds of Baptists and 12 kinds of Presbyterians. (Laughter.) Alas, for the they run riot! In my diocese, as a friend lately recounted to me, there is a congregation of every one of these 143 deof the Diciples' feet. A subjected rationalist among the members submitted that the scriptural practice would be adequately followed if one foot only were washed. (Laughter.) The severed congregations became known to the profane as the "one-foot Church" and the two-foot Church." (Laughter.)

The above is an extract from a speech delivered by the Protestant Bishop of Missouri before the recent Anglican Church Conference held in Lambeth. His Lordship is thoroughly aware of the evil effects of schism and heresy and blandly confesses it. He should have taken one step further and acknowledged the only true church outside of which there is no salvation. His hearers, all well-known Protestant prelates, received his statement with laughter. Truly, it was a great subject for merriment among these self constituted bishops and priests.

Because a Miss Yerger, of Altoona, Pa. became a Catholic, she was discharged from her position as a public school teacher. Does not the American principle of religious liberty obtain in Altoona? Are the public schools of Altoona Protestant institutions?

Father Albert de Montaldo, S. J., lived to the extreme old age of one hundred and twenty-six years. He entered the Society of Jesus on September 12th, 1706, and was present in the Church of the Gesu in Rome at the restoration of the Society in 1815, just one hundred and eight years after he joined the Society.

The Catholic Sailors' Club, who endeavor to make the life of the Jack Tar as pleasant on the ocean as they do in their bright rooms, during their stay in the city, by furnishing them with packages of reading matter during their voyage across the Atlantic, have ex-hausted their supply on hand. In order to continue the good work the committee would feel greatly indebted to its numerous friends for any papers or magazines which they might favor the club with. All packages may be sent to recent international yacht races between the Catholic Sailors' Club, No. 1 St. Peter the Momo and Glencarin II. was that in

TEACHER TRUE WHENESS AND CATHOLIC OHRONICE. ATTEUS DE 1807 A 1817

The fool killer would do well to visit the office of one of London's leading periodicals. It is seriously suggestted by it that every individual should be compelled to send his or her photograph to the British Museum, with the view of having a National Portrait Album! The Family Album is a menace to the peace of the human mind-but just imagine what an Album of Family Albums would be! A Special Asylum would have to be built to accommodate all the victims that would unthinkingly allow themselves to be personally conducted through the Album by some fee-seeking attendant.

A man must love whiskey indeed when he will pawn his legs to get it, but this actually occurred the other day in Chicago. The man was afterwards arrested. The prisoner was without legs. The officers explained that he was found on Clark street hopelessly drunk and unable to propel himself. He told the officers that he had pawned his cork legs and could not remember the pawnbroker's location. The Justice dismissed the prisoner and instructed the police to assist him in the recovery of his artificial

At a recent meeting of the Kingston, Ont., City Council, Er Mayor W. M. Drennan was elected City Clerk. Mr. Drennan is a nephew of the late City Clerk, M. Flanagan.

The Canada Presbyterian, which has so long upheld the tenets of Calvinism in Capada, has ceased to exist. It has merged its interests in the new monthly called the Westminster. The Rev. J. A. Macdonald is to be the editor.

The funeral of the late Mrs. D J O'Donoghue, wife of Mr. O'Donoghue, ex.-M. L. A., and now in the Ontario Government service at Toronto, took place to St. Michael's Cemetery, in that city, last the life of a beggar, had gone on foot, or week. The pall bearers were Messrs. Robert Glockling, A. G. Horwood, John | the savages, till he reached the rivers of O'Leary, Charles March, Edward Meehan and D. A. Carey. Among the many friends whose presence signified the esteem in which deceased and the bereaved family are held were: Ex-Mayor Fleming, Dr. J. O. Orr, Ald. Spence, Ald. Burns, A. W. Holmes, Frank Polson. Rev. E. S. Rowe, Messrs. Barber and Galloway of the Agricultural D. partment, and Curry and Chase of the Attorney-General's Department.

Montreal is again threatened with a small pox—epidemic. When I say threatened, I do not mean that the enemy of 1885 is invading our fair city in formidable force, but that he is lurkin the out-skirts, awaiting encourage ment from the treacherous or thoughtless within, before attempting a serious assault on the citadel of public health. The people as a whole should take every precaution which science and experience may suggest to prevent the further introduction of this dread disease and to retard its progress. So far it is in the existing state of affairs. Occasional cases of the pox are common to all large cities, but Montreal has had an experience within comparatively recent years which should serve as a warning against callousness or inactivity on the part of our citizens.

The senior lacrosse championship this year seems to be something of a mix up, and the outcome is certainly problematical. On the 30th of June last the Capitals of Ottawa looked very much like winners. On Dominion Day the Toronto team defeated them, and for the first time in recent years the Queen City club cut a prominent and promising figure in the lacrosse arena. But, alas, this victory for Toronto stands aloneisolated—they have not won a match since. However, it is not at all improbable that the western men may yet prove no mean factors in deciding where the championship pennant shall spend the winter-Ottawa or Montreal. Everything considered there is no good reason why the Shamrocks should not gather in the coveted laurels for the season 1897, more particularly on account of their splendid victory over such a clever combination as the famous Factory Town Club put into the field on Saturday last. The Shamrock team play worldbeating lacrosse when they get going properly. The fault this year seems to lie in their apparent inability to put the required vim into the play, and assume the gait necessary to win until their opponents have a clear lead of two or three games. Then, and not till then, it dawns upon the wearers of the green Jerseys that they may possibly be beaten if they do not bestir themselves in a sudden and rapid manner. Several matches have been won on the home stretch this season by the Shamrocks, but this method is too fraught with risk and disappointment to be encouraged and should be frowned down. There are too many elements of luck in our National game to allow even a much inferior team a big lead in the score when we consider their undeniable chances of winning on a fluke. Captain O'Connell must make his men play with vigor from the very start if continued success is to be assured. The Capitals play this aggressive, selfish game, and to this fact is due in no small measure their long run of victories. Matches in the senior ranks to-day are only to be won by the exercise of energy and science, and the motto of the Shamrocks for the balance of this season should be "go in to win from the first face."

One thing clearly demonstrated in the recent international yacht races between meetings, but then look at the work you The Nisi Prius distinction between Street, or a postal addressed to the club, any sort of a respectable breeze the time he has travelled extensively in would be doing. Well, we suppose it is mal nutrition" and want of food" is notifying them where to call for pack own. Skipper Duggan is the prince of sion work.

inland sallow, and all he wants is the wind to help him to show the way to all comers. In indging the respective merits of the boats, I am inclined to give my preference to the one which can weather the gale and sail gallantly over a white-capped sea. The fair weather sailor would never be dreamt of as the theme-of a nautical poem.

What an attraction gold has for humanity. How the multitudes, braving cold and possible hunger, throng to the remote, ice bound regions of the Klon-dike. Nor all the advice of the knowing, nor all the laws that might be enacted could stem this human tide. All seek for sudden and great wealth; few will attain it, many will not. Money, gold, may be the root of all evil, yet the man-is hard to find who would not gladly grasp at this root where the opportunity presented, and nourish it, taking chances on the nature of the fruit if might bring forth. Between you and me it is, in the existing state of society, a very handy article to have a sufficiency of, and worth your while to deviate from the easily-tread paths of urban life to obtain.

The death is announced of the Great Chief of the Huron Indians, Maurice Sebastian Anghninlen, at the advanced age of %. He was remarkable for his faith and piety. He was, moreover, a zealous member of the Third Order of St. Francis, and was assisted during his last hours by his Franciscan director, Father Frederick, O. S. F., of Three Rivers, Canad:. He was admired not only by those over whom he ruled, but also by many persons of note who had come in contact with him during the many years he governed his tribe. The reservation of the Hurons, at which the great chief died, was founded early in the seventeenth century by the famous Franciscan missionary, Father Joseph Le Caron, of whom Bancroft, in his "History of the United States," records that "years before the Pilgrims anchored within Cape Cod, he had penetrated the land of the Mohawk, had passed to the north into the hunting grounds of the Wyandotts, and, bound by his vows to paddled a bark canoe, taking alms of Lake Huron."

The report of the U.S. Commissioner of Education show that 16,415,197 children attended the schools of this country last year, public and private; 14,465 381 tended the public schools. The remainder attended private and special

The Cathone mayor of Providence, R ., Hon. Edwin D. McGuinness, has declined the honor of a third term. Under his rule Providence has undergone a course of puritication deemed impossible ten years ago. And yet it is dangerous to trust a Catholic with office!

Loyola College.

The first prospectus of Loyola College must be particularly gratifying to English speaking Catholics, showing the embryo state-it is for the public generally progress that it has made in the course to keep it there, preliminary to its com- of one year. Equipped with a superior elimination. Vaccination and staff of professors, following the worldcleanliness are two safeguards against famous Rotio Studiorum, every facility small pox which all should have recourse to and practice. Of course, there is no is offered to the English speaking reason for excitement or panic under the student for a thorough classical elucation, the advantages of which are too well known for consideration here. What has placed so many Catholic college graduates in the front rank of the professions, and in the very highest grades of parliamentary life, but the education they received in the Catholic classical colleges of Lower Canada. It is even said by the wise ones that such education is of the greatest advantage to commercial men. In any case, Montreal has long needed greater facilities for Catholic Englishspeaking students. Many have been sent out of the country for their educationand this has decidedly its disadvantages: others have been sent to Protestant institutions, and this can be only characterized as suicidal. Of course, for years past the English classes at the Jesuits have been in existence and many students have eagerly taken advantage of them. But they were necessarily limited.

As the English population grows more and more, facilities must be provided for it. Other institutions will spring up and be gratefully received and warmly patronized. Irish Catholics and English speaking Catholics of other nationalities must have their chance to take fitting part in the nation's life, without risk to their faith. It is gratifying, therefore, to see how Montreal has behaved with regard to this first English speaking classical college. It made the demand, the demand was met and the response is, so far, all that could be desired. A glance at the prospectous shows that Loyola offers every inducement to youthful students educationally, and the writer has learned from a variety of sources that the students who have been there are delighted with the home comforts, and the home like and genial atmosphere which pervades the new college. Yes, Loyola is a credit to English speaking Montreal and the Rev. Gregory O'Bryan and his staff of professors are to be congratulated.

A. T. S.

Rev. Father Ring, O. M. I., is in New York city making preparations for a visit to Ottawa of a party of six missionaries from Ireland and England who will preach retreats in the United States. Rev. Father Ring is the great organizer of pilgrimages from England to Lourdes, France, and is well known as the repre sentative of Cardinal Vaughan at the World's Fair. Although it was first intended to only have the fathers preach in the United States, an exception has been made for Ottawa. and Rev. Fathers Nichols and Brady will preach during Lent at St. Joseph's church. Father Nichols is well known in Ottawa, having conducted a mission at St. Joseph's church some five years ago. Since that

CATHOLIC FORESTERS.

Queboc Province's Convention Opened as Sherbrooke.

SHERBROOKE, August 24.—The third annual convention of the Province of Quebec Catholic Order of Foresters opened proceedings at Sherbrooke today. One hundred and thirteen delegates filed their credentials this morning, in addition to which eleven members of the executive were in attendance. More delegates are expected to arrive during the day. The following are the executive officers who are here at present: Zotique Renaud, provincial chief ranger; Edouard Piche, vice provincial chief ranger; F. X. Bilodeau, provincial secretary; M. J. Walsh, provincial treasurer; Dr. P. Pelletier, Dr. J. Laviolette, J. H. Sylvain, J. P. Jackson, Napoleon Page and D. Lafortune, directors.

The executive and delegates attended Divine service at the Cathedral in a body this morning. Bishop LaRocque celebrated Pontifical High Mass, and Rev. Father Lefebvre preached a most interesting sermon, dealing with the subject of Forestry.

In the afternoon a meeting was held in the City Hall, at which the reports of the Provincial Chief Ranger, the secretary and the treasurer were presented. These show the order to be in a successful and progressive condition. On May 1, 1896, there were 125 courts, and on August 1 of this year the number had increased to 139, or at the rate of nearly one court per month. On May 1, 1896, there were 7,987 members of the Order, and at the present time there are no less than 9,424 members. Seventy-seven deaths were recorded since the last report. The treasurer's report showed receipts for the year ending August 1, 1897, to be $5, 148-99, and expenditure amounting to $2.877.28, leaving a balance on hand or $2,271 61.

Sub committees were struck at this afternoon's meeting, which will be continued to morrow.

AT THE EXHIBITION.

D. W. KARN & CO.

Mesers. D. W. Karn & Co., of St. Catherine street, are exhibiting a fine collection of instruments in the main building, embracing all the latest designs in pinnos and organs. In many instances, these are extremely pretty and effective, the cases being constructed of different varieties of wood, including English and American oak, French and American walnuta, rosewood and bird's eye maple. One or two specialties are to be seen, such as a Baby Grand in blistered walnut, and a Colonial Upright in French berl walnut. The first of these is an especially fine instrument, both as regards tone and workmanship. It embraces all the latest improvements in action and construction, most of which will be appreciated by the average pianist. The Colonial Epright is highly ornamented with doubled trusses and panelled sides, and presents a most attractive appearance. In the organ department are to be seen some fine specimens of reed instruments, in oak and walnut cases. Owing to the rapid increase in their business, Messrs. Karn have found it necessary to secure more commodious warerooms, and, on or about November 1st, expect to remove from their present premises into their handsome new building tetween Peel and Metcalfe street.

The second and third stories of the new building will be known as the 'Karn Hall," and will be arranged so as to seat about 500 people. An expensive Karn-Warren eléctric pipe organ will be placed in the hall, to be used for concerts, recitals, students practising, etc. There will also be several nicely fitted up musical studios.

Here intending purchasers find a rich assortment of instruments: The Karn grand piano, the Karn upright piano, the Karn Reed organ and the Karn-Warren pipe organ. These instruments are too well-known to require any further comment and are acknowledged to be the highest of high grade instru-

R. J. LATIMER.

Mr. R. J. Latimer, agent for the celebrated Deering agricultural implements. of Chicago, has a complete collection of their machines displayed at the entrance to the agricultural implement section. All these machines are fitted with roller ball bearings, and have long been known for their solid and scientific construction. Special attention is called to the corn harvesting machine, which is claimed to be the only one which lays the corn flat on the table, the same as other grains, so that there can be no trouble about binding. The Deering machines have been making steady progress in the markets of the world, and last year 1000 car loads more than in any previous year were sold. One of the advantages offered by this firm is that it sends three men from Chicago every year to repair its machines free of charge. Of Mr. Latimer's stock of agricultural implements one has only to call at his extensive warerooms, 592 St. Paul St., where a complete assortment is on view. together with a varied stock of Carriages, Buggies, Express Waggons, in fact any thing in his line can be had on the shortest notice, and at prices to suit the times. This house has established a reputation for fair and honest dealing, and those of our readers who contemplate purchasing any article in this line should first visit Mr. Latimer's warerooms and learn for themselves the many advantages they have in buying is an emblem of purity and love. Life is short, art long, opportunity fleeting, experiment slippery, judgment difficult.—Hippocrates.

A flower-garden is a great teacher; it

from such a reliable firm.

Loving kindness is greater than laws; and the charities of life are more than all ceremonies.—Talmud. As the sun can be seen but by his own light, so neither can God be eavingly known by His own revealing.