Cambridge, Mass

The School of Fine Arts at Yale University has several unique collections, among which the Trumbull Collection of historical paintings is of special interest to teachers. A special plan for making this and the other art collections of use to teachers has been adopted for the coming Summer School. The instructors who give the regular courses in drawing and painting are to exhibit and discuss these paintings with any of the members of the Summer School who may wish to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Dr. E. E. Brown, United States Commissioner of Education, is to deliver five lectures on the historical development of Connecticut education at the Yale Summer School.

Superintendents Van Sickle, Carroll, Hine, and Beede are also among the instructors and will give courses in School Administration and Methods.

A unique course in Geography is to be given in the Yale Summer School this year. Professor Gregory, who is one of the directors of the Connecticut Geological Survey, has arranged to take a class of teachers to the various parts of the States where the most typical formations are to be found, and will lecture in the field to the class. Almost every type of geographical formation will thus be examined and studied in a very practical way.
