

Contents

Background

The Status Quo

Economic Forces

The Mobility of Goods and Services

Capital Mobility

Labor Mobility

Political and Legal Forces

U.S. Unfair Trade Legislation

Subsidies and Countervailing Duties

Other Unfair Trade Laws

Regulatory Issues in Particular Sectors

Commercial Policies

Imagined Forces

The Effect of a Free Trade Area

The General Case, that Harmonization Pressures Will Not Be Increased

Assessment of the FTA

Economic Pressures

Negotiating Pressures

Policy Areas with Marginal Increases in Economic Pressures

Tax Subsidy Policies

Wage Compensation and Social Security Charges

Policy Areas Where Economic Pressures Could Increase Substantially

Agricultural Support Policies

Cultural Support Policies

Policy Areas Where Pressures Could Be Prevented

Commercial Policy

Tax and Subsidy Policies

Resource Policies

Policies Subject to Negotiating Pressures

Intellectual Property Regimes

Investment and Competition Policies

Regulation of Services

Cultural Support Policies

Policy Areas Outside the Scope of the Agreement

Monetary and Fiscal Policies

Social Policies