

Motions for Papers

immediate threat of a national strike is a matter of extreme importance and of grave concern. In this respect I have no doubt but that every single member of the House would agree with the hon. member in his assessment of the situation with which we are now confronted.

However, what the hon. member is proposing for discussion is not the threat of an impending work stoppage but rather the effect on the situation of statements made by the Postmaster General. I have some doubt whether the provisions of Standing Order 26 are applicable when the debate proposed is intended to discuss a ministerial statement. After considering all factors and circumstances, I must come to the conclusion that a debate at this time along the lines proposed by the hon. member for Hillsborough cannot be justified procedurally under the terms of Standing Order 26.
