

ARTICLE XXVI.

This treaty, when the same shall have been ratified by his majesty, and by the president of the United States, with the advice of their senate, and their respective ratifications mutually exchanged, shall be binding and obligatory on his majesty and on the said states for ten years, from the date of the exchange of the said ratification, and shall be reciprocally executed and observed with punctuality, and the most sincere regard to good faith.

THE END

T. DAVISON, Printer,
Whitefriars.
