Loosely cut and considerably "col lared" are the handsome velvet and plush wraps displayed for formal afternoon and evening wear this season. Practically all coats now displayed show a preference for ample width and generous lines—the tailor-made, the redingote and the dressy coat to be worn with fussy silk afternoon frocks—all show loosely set sleeves, plenty of width in the body section—

Fur appeared on every outdoor garment and on an amazing number of indoor models. But the velvet coat is apparently incomplete, and incorrect for that matter, without a collar of long-haired fox, or one of the other

The latest report on the sock fund of the Women's Conservative Club, shows some amazing and gratifying figures which can only be explained by the fact that the women have been untiring in their effort to secure the required numbers of comforts for soldiers. During the year, the number of comforts distributed totals almost 100,000. In the last two months, 15,-165 comforts have been shipped and distributed. The output this week consists of 350 pairs of socks and 1500 candles. The next shipment will be packed Friday, Sept. 3, and those de-siring to send in contributions of com-forts are asked to do so before, or on Thursday evening Address Mrs. Arthur Van Koughnet, 238 College

HON. WM. PUGSLEY WEDDED IN BOSTON

Bride Was Formerly His Private Secretary — Honeymoon in West.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Announcement was made today that Hon. William Pugsley, member of the Canadian parliament from St. John, N. B., and exminister of public works, was married here yesterday to Miss Gertrude Mac-Donald, of St. John, N. B., formerly his private secretary. The ceremony, which was a quiet one, was performed in Tripity Church by Page 11 of 12 of in Trinity Church by Rev. Ernest H. Marriett.

The only witnesses were relatives of the principals, two sons of the groom by a former marriage, William G., and John A. Pugsley; the bride's brother, Rev. George B. MacDenald, and Mr. and Mrs. John Newell and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Dupee of this city, relatives of the bride. Mr. and Mrs.
York. It was said they would go to the Canadian northwest for a trip lasting several weeks.

CARLOTTA MONTEREY As Luana in "The Bird of Paradise

"Bird of Paradise"

Tonight at the Alexandra will inaugurate the regular fall and winter season when Toronto theatregoers will have the opportunity of again seeing their favorite play, "The Bird of Para-dise." The native band of Hawaiian singers and players still sing and play their haunting melodies and lend that subtle charm, which makes this one of the most talked-of plays of the century.

"Rosary" at Grand

The Grand will open the regular season on Thursday, Sept. 2 with "The Rosary," the engagement continuing all next week with matinees on Monday (Labor Day), Wednesday and Saturday. The theme of the play concerns a man and a woman happily married and surrounded with every luxury that money and culture can secure. But the husband is an unbeliever, an atheist, without faith of any kind.

At Shea's Theatre The W. Herelik Ensemble presenting 14 people in a carnival of dance will headline a bright bill at Shea's this week. All the picturesue dances of the wandering gypsies, including the cyclonic Russian folk dances, will be featured in the "Gypsy Camp," a scenic spectacle especially arranged for this production. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilde in Toronto are offering their unique shadowgraph feats. James Hüssy and Jack Boyle have a bright, snappy comedy sketch. feats. James Hussy, and Jack Boyle have a bright, snappy comedy sketch. Whipple, Huston and company have an original electrical novelty entitled "Spooks." Jim Toney and Anne Norman provoke much laughter. Marguerite Beriza will offer several new songs and dances, while P. George, "The Musical Chef," plays many odd instruments. Completing the bill is a series of new photo plays, the best obtainable.

Hippodrome Offerings

For this week the Hippodrome management has arranged for the healine attraction, "The Oxford Four," a quartet of clever singers direct from Broadway, and introducing the season's newest song successes. Clever dancing and clean comedy make the offering particularly pleasing. The Dainty English Trio, three clever The Dainty English Trio, three clever girls in smart songs and dances are billed as the special feature. Carlotta Monterey Will Undoubtedly Win With the Audience Tonight.

FIRST TIME ON ROAD

Star in "Bird of Paradise" Has Always Played in London or New York.

BY M. L. HART. First impressions are among the few almost infallible thing's of life. Seldom do they lead us astray, and the first impression gained by a representative of The World yesterday afternoon on meeting Miss Carlotta Monterey, leading lady in "The Bird of Paradise." was that the place she will win with the audience which she will meet for the first time tonight at the Alexandra will be instantaneous, warm and last-

"Come in!" called a voice in answer o our knock at a door in the King Edward, and following the voice a slim girlish figure in a black skirt and soft cream blouse cut low at the throat appeared and smiled a reiteration of the invitation to enter.

"You are tired," one said apologetieally, knowing she had arrived less than an hour previously, and even newspaper people are not without feeling in such a case, but Miss Monterey was too full of her first experiences "on the road" to know anything of fatigue.

"I've never been on the road before and I feel like a circus girl. I almost expect to see the elephants walk out," was her opening remark, adding after a moment's pause, "It's almost ap-polling"

Having given vent to her feeling of novelty at the situation in which she cound herself, the lady parted her red lips, displaying a row of pretty white teeth, and smilingly faced her inter-

Would this new star in the Hawaiian paradise shine as brightly as did the preceding members of the constellation? was a question that had stood out before the interview, and the face of the girl opposite answered in the af-firmative. Luminous dark eyes spoke of depth and capability of feeling, and efficiency was marked upon every regular feature and in every movement of the lithe, trim figure.

Initial Appearance.
Tonight will be Miss Monterey's initial appearance in her new play. In the course of the chat one learned that she has never before played outside of London and New York, that she is, according to her own way of putting it, "half Danish, one-quarter French and the other quarter Dutch." Seven years ago she went on the stage and played for six months, then returned to study singing and pantomime in London, with a finishing school in Paris thrown in. It required no great discernment to see that Miss Monterey had cultivated her talents along many sides, and that the artistic and poetic are strongly marked features of her development. "Canada is a revelation." The lady who tonight will captivate in the character of Luana, the sweet bird of Paradise had thought of this country only as a land of vast stretches and great quantities of wheat, "but you have lovely creeks and little lakes and wonderful trees," she said in a babble-ment of delight, remembering the country thru which she had just traveled.

Of her new play Miss Monterey spoke enthusiastically. "It is so sweet and so human but of course I am nervous about it and there is Announcement Will Be always a fear of forgetting one's lines," she said, with the diffidence of true worth. She has only been studying the lines since rehearsing began two weeks ago, tho previous reading had We regret the disappointment to our readers who are anxious to obtain one of these very handsome sets, but trust they will bear with us, as the failure to make delivery is with the factory. your best everyone is good to you."

Toronto Will Be Good.

Toronto will certainly be good to this charming girl tonight, because if forereached enormous proportions. Every woman of taste who desires something chaste and superior will want to own them.

Cast goes for anything she will give one of the most striking presentments yet given in "The Bird of Paradisa."

Richard Walton Tully, who wrote the play, is also here. "The Bird of the play, is also here. "The Bird of Paradise" has all the elements that
