The Rich Finds of Arsenical Iron Ore in Northern Nipissing Investigated.

Has Just Returned After a Valuable District.

Besides this large find there are others equally good, but not as large, all of them on Net Lake.

Good Water Power.

A mile and a half from these properties is a water power, which is now undevel-oped, and in the dryest time gave 25 horse-On An-ni-na, Nipissing, is for haif a mile along the shore an outcropping of true slate, and Mr. Eggert showed that the cleavage was so perfect that it would cleave one-eighth of an inch.

On Ko-Ko-Ka Lake and south of it were two more finds, the first being again arsenical iron, the second a large quartz vein.

Lots of Mineral.

On the southern part of Tamagamingue Lake were also two large finds. One is three miles south of Outlet Bay, the other at the bottom of Austin Bay. Both are of the same character, having a capping of magnetite and lower down quartzite, quartz and mispickel. These two finds are very big and both promise well for gold.

On the head of Temiscamingue Lake, until thirty miles north of navigation and round the eastern boundary line, are a lot of very pretty copper finds, assays of which run to 34 per cent. copper and $10 in gold per ton.

Toronto Syndicate Bought

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 21.—A mining deal has just been put through by W. Moore, real estate agent, whereby a Toronto syndicate purchases lots 18, 49, 20 and 21 in the 10th concession of Storrington, near Battersea. This property was owned by D. Ames, and contains iron ore. Work will be commenced by the syndicate in a day or so. Mr. Roaf, one of the principals, was in the city on Saturday about the matter and to-morrow several other members of the syndicate will be down.

Mr. Jacob M. Eggert, M.E., of Eggert & Rowlatt, left Toronto Aug. 3 to report upon the rich finds of arsenical iron ore in Northern Nipissing. He has just returned, bringing with him a wealth of information and samples from that far region.

Mr. Eggert says that the big arsenical find discussed three weeks ago is even larger than thought to be. He measured the outcropping to 46 chains, 3000 feet, in length, and up to 450 feet in width, with a height above nearest lower land of from 15 to 50 feet.

Close to this enormous find are some properties owned and worked by the Canadian Copper Cliff Co., who, since last fall, have had 10 men and a foreman working there. They have built a camp of four large buildings, and are proceeding with development work. Their expert, Mr. Schatier, was there recently, and as a sign of his satisfaction with what property the company already has he was anxious to buy more.

Besides this large find there are others equally good, but not as large, all of them on Net Lake. . 112 108½ 115 110 . 06 93 93 92½ . 8 7½ 7¾ 7½ . 28 26 28 26 . 19 17½ 19 17¾ . 32 30 32 30½ round the eastern boundary line, are a 'ot of very pretty copper finds, assays of which run to 34 per cent. copper and $10 in gold per ton.

Very Rich Country.

The whole country up there is enormously rich, and Mr. Eggert says that for the main part of it there is no reason for the Government to continually keep it out of the miner's hands. With the exception of the extreme southern part, near Cross Lake, and the extreme northern part, not timber can be found. The country has been lumbered once, and the Indians have later burnt it over to get blueberries, so that the growth now is a second one, and so small as to be of no use for a generation or two to come. Besides, with fire rargers in the country it is no difficulty to prevent fire, and it is seldom if ever the miner who burns the country, but the lumbermen and the tourists.

Mr. Eggert undertook the curious and ardnows task of taking out 114 tons of the count task of task of task of task of task of task of task
